Temperance in Norway

The last number of the Union Signal atains the following letter from Nor-we may thank for the victory, uext to God's help. As you know our law for the sile of brandy, which now is new, has a paregraph that the municipal townboard cannot give the Samlag license, for more than five years at a time; after that there is local option, and all men and women over twenty-five years have a yote, and the ordinory plurality detailed. This year expired the license in several towns, and there has been done a great form, with one thousand four hundred and sixteen is about 10 km and they would go to other places and Gjovis would be ruined then the best people from the farms all the gounts. The laws appears in it is being imitated by the medicine, that it is being imitated by the medicine that possesses were the sale of Pink Pills simply wonderful.

Taken to stop the Samlog, as the country people wanted it, and they would go to other places and Gjovis would be ruined. Then the best people from the farms all round tent in a potition that they did not want it, and begged it should be he stopped. The women came and they gained a grand victory. So in Arendal, where a poor old woman seventy-six years old was the first to vote, and the Samlog fell. Grimstad, Namea and Skien the same; no victory but for the women. In Aalesund (9,400 inbabifant) the plurality was 2,070 votes, and when they heard the result there was no abouting, but the fifteen hundred people who filled the plree led all as one voice singing from the depths of their hearts were filled with thanks to God who so mightile had heard them. In one place the women from the country round, that their hearts were filled with thanks to God who so mightile had heard them. In one place the women from the country years and took care of the children while the purchased on the depths of their hearts were filled with thanks to God who so mightile had heard them. In one place the women from the country round, that their hearts were filled with thanks to God who so mightile had heard them. In one place the women from the country round, that their hearts were filled with thanks to food was also to be able to do this is telling an untruth. Bear this in mind and the possible, and has of late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or late years gained as much as possible, and has or

Regarding Queen Victoria's approved of the provision exclusing strong drink from Khama's Kingdom and het concluding tenark: "I feel strongly in this matter, and am glad to see that the chiefs have determined to keep so great a curse from the people," the Scottish Laque Journal logically says: "This is no utterance that an extremist. It cannot be laughed at as like utterances have been whan made by rabid teetotalers. It is a verdict from the throne—an arraignment of the liquor traffic in highest place. We venture to any that a comparatively little while ago no such utterances would have been given by Her Majesty. But now from 1 west classifies up to the highest place. We venture to any that a comparatively little while ago no such utterances would have been given by Her Majesty. But now from 1 west classifies up to the highest the conviction is clear and deep that the liquor traffic is a menace to safety, a hindiance to all good, and an angine of destruction physically, morally and spiritually."

Between the mortal and immortal worlds no gulf is fixed.
