Dusting Apples

DOMINION ENTOMOLOGICAL LABORATORY, ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N. S.

By G. E. Sanders.

In view of the fact that between 200 and 300 dusting machines will be in operation in the Annapolis Valley this season it seems best to outline what seems the best programme for the season.

For those who are going to use 90-10 sulphur-lead arsenate dust we have the following advice. Apply the dust in the early morning when the air is still, and the plants wet with dew. Apply enough dust—75 pounds per acre per application on 20-25 foot trees. You cannot get results without using enough material. If possible space your dusts a little closer together than liquid sprays, applying five dusts during the same period as you apply four sprays.

Some will use the new copper-arsenic dust on all four applications on account of their preference for Bordeaux, and also for economy. The advice regarding the application of sulphur dusts applies to copper-arsenic dust excepting that 50 pounds of copper-arsenic dust per acre per application is enough for 20-25 foot trees.

If the copper-arsenic dust is used on the third or calyx application about half as much russetting of the fruit will result as results from the use of Thompson Bordeaux. If one wishes to avoid this russetting, and it is worth while avoiding it, one can use 90-10 sulphur-lead arsenate dust for the calyx application, and the copper-arsenic dust for the remaining applications.

Important things to note in ordering dust are:

Copper-arsenic dust costs $1.00 per hundred less than 90-10 sulphur-lead arsenate dust.

In using copper-arsenic dust 50 pounds per acre per application is enough for average orchard.

In using 90-10 sulphur-lead arsenate dust 75 pounds per acre per application is enough for average orchard.

Order enough dust for four or five heavy applications and use it all.

In former days when dust was expensive we could not reasonably blame people for being saving of it. During the past year we have worked hard in order to lower the cost of dusting material, thereby getting into many rows with spray firms, etc. Now that we have got the material down to a low price do not skimp on it and then blame dusting for the results of stinginess.
