Council to Appear Before Municipal Board.

The Barton Township Council held a meeting in Reeve Gage's office last night. The main object of the meeting was to consider the rate to be struck was to consider the rate to be struck for the coming year, and several promi-nent ratepayers were present to hear the discussion and express their views on the matter. It will be remembered that at a former meeting of the council the rate was struck at fifty cents on the hundred dollars, but much dissatis-faction arose over this apparently exor-bitant rate, and the council decided to reconsider it.

Rever Gage contended that the 35-cent rate was sufficient to defray all expenses, and it would be un-just to addle the residents of East Hamilton with a tax which would leave a surplus on hand, as those ratepayers would shortly come into the city and would not profit by any amount left in

Treasurer Gage and Councillor Rymal Treasurer Gage and Councillor Rymai argued strongly that unforeseen ex-penses would arise in the way of re-pairing bridges and assisting the poor, etc., which would make a 35-cent rate quite inadequate, to which the Reere replied that the road commissioners be instructed not to exceed their approinstructed not to exceed their appro-priations and that the Council by ex-ercising care could so manipulate the affairs that the amount would not be

The people of East Hamqilton who would probably come into the city might be seriously affected by Jus rate for sev-eral years to come. He was sure the people on whose behalf he was speaking would be quite willing to do what was fair and pay a rate which would clear up all debts to the end of the year. He concluded by suggesting that the He concluded by suggesting that the Council strike the rate at the beginning

Council strike the rate at the beginning of the gaar. Mr. Thomas Macklem supported Coun-cillor Rymal and Treasurer Gage's stand, that the rate should not be less than 40 cents. He said there was nothing he knew of better to go by than past experience, which showed that unfore-seen expenses were always springing un. seen expenses were always springing up, and he thought a liberal estimate should be made to provide for them. be made to provide for them. Disastrous snow storms and floods could not be controlled by the Council, nor could ex-penses be fixed at any certain sum. The past eighteen years had shown that overdrafts were frequently necessary, and in his opinion it would not be right to have a debt hanging over the town-ship when annexation takes place. Mr. J. D. Trennamen replied that it was a poor business principle to go by past experience. What business men should and do do is to deal with facts. The Council should go by the present and prepare for the future. Men should look at the facts of the day and so arrange matters that the ends would meet according to their calculations. Mr. J. M. Eastwood addressed the Council, and said he desired to thank the members for the consideration they had shown in attending to the needs of the people. There were many in East Hamilton who could not afford to pay a high rate, but all were willing to pay what is required, and were de-sirous of doing so. He could not see how it would be right to strike such as to pay what is seen to be a since of the could not see bow it would be right to strike such a rate that a large amount would be on hand at the end of the year, and hoped minion Company ending shortly are brighter now than they have been for some time. The United Mine Workers realize that they are beaten. With their scant food allowance, giving them only the barest necessities of life, and forced to go into the woods and cut down trees to obtain fuel, the strikers are beginning to wonder what will be their circumstances when winter sets in in earnest. About one hundred fam-ilies are now living in various quarters, some of them even in barns, and after a ten weeks' struggle they see the Coal Company as strong as ever. While the coal supply at the different banking stations has been practically exhausted, the collieries are gradually producing a greater tonnage, and the officials of the company anticipate that they will wind up the St. Lawrence season in very good shape. In four or five weeks now shipments will practi-cally cease, and then the company's in-tention is to commence banking at once in preparation for the next season. This means that there will be streedy and continuous work for all the men in the pits this winter, and the seventeen hun-dred men now walking the streets here are seriously reflecting on what their situation will be if they do not go back to work before the shipping senson ends.

If would much prefer landing quickly and quietly without a repetition of the scenes at Copenhagen. I hope I shall be left in pcace with my family by to-morrow night." Some New York papers were brought on board this evening containing long reports concerning Peary's achievements. Dr. Cook read them carefully, then said: "There is nothing new here and I shall wait until something more definite is published before saying any: thing further on the matter."
Dr. Cook took advantage of the delay to send a wireless despatch to his wife, asking her to come down the bay to night and join him on board, thus to avoid the crush of the public greeting to-morrow. Miss. Cook was slightly indisposed, however, and replied by wireless that she would be unable to go. The greatest reception, however, will be held at the Bushwiek Club in Dr. Cook is home section of Brooklyn, about noon. Soon after that, Dr. Cook will join his family at the Waldorf-Astoria. Alexander Begg, of Washington, of the National Geographic Society, will represent the society.

At the close of the conference Premier Murray stated that nothing had been suggested towards ending the strike, and that the whole meeting had been simply to talk over the situation. The aldermen expressed the opinion that the property owners would be com-ponsated for any sewers or water mains, already laid that could be used for the general scheme. Mr. Horning made two propositions,. One was to permit the township rate and assessment to remain in force for five years and the alternative to impose the city rate at once, but maintain the township rate being continued, because they thought it would lead to confusion and they considered ten years with the township assessment as the city rate too long a period, although agreeing that something might be worked out on this basis.
