The three boys got on top of the boat and saved themselves, and Gantell tried to swim but apparently got cramp, and went down. Quite a number of persons turned out to search for the body, which they found in the afternoon.

Court of Chancery.

Continued.

Sheriff Grange, who went to Berlin with Judge King and interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Boat, and had taken a memorandum of the conversation, which was produced—was called. He testified that Mrs. Boat had told him that she saw Dr. Tuck go, from the room assigned him, to Mrs. Peterson's room, and he saw the door lock. When further questioned, Mrs. Boat had said she at least heard the door lock. Could not say at what hour Mrs. Boat said she saw or heard this. She had gone immediately after and told some American girls who were in the room adjoining Dr. Tuck's, and Mrs. Boat said she had looked in Dr. Tuck's room and did not find him. Mr. Boat told witness that Dr. Tuck could very likely have been out on the roof of the verandah when Mrs. Boat looked for him. The doctor had gone down to the bar during the evening in his smoking feet or slippers.

In reply to Mr. Moss' witness could not recollect any questions asked him by Mrs. Boat. The memoranda had been copied some time ago, and might be incorrect.

W. H. Bowman of Berlin, testified to having recommended a prescription from Dr. Tuck for Mrs. Peterson when the latter was staying in Berlin.

Mrs. E. W. Peterson sworn and said she became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Tuck first at my father's, where Dr. Tuck was attending my father. I met them there frequently some time after my father's death. Mrs. Peterson was at my father's house although Dr. Herod was my physician. Dr. Tuck was not attending to any of my family. He afterwards came to my father's house in June 1872, and was very intimate with my father. During the evening I had seen about six o'clock and Dr. Tuck arrived about seven. We were not together all the time till I retired. We sat together in the sitting-room part of the time. I was in the garden for about 15 minutes. No arrangements had been made that I was to go to Berlin on the second day, and I was surprised to see Mr. Peterson in the morning. I was ill after my return from Preston. Doctor Tuck had cured me of the cough. He had attended me. I went to Berlin one Monday. It was not stated how long we were to stay. Dr. Tuck was asked on the Sunday previous by Mr. Peterson to accompany me to Berlin. He agreed to do so. He did not go on Monday; he came on Tuesday evening, between seven and eight o'clock. He and Mr. Peterson stayed the same evening. I returned to Guelph with Mr. Peterson and went up to Berlin again on Tuesday morning. It had not been arranged that Dr. Tuck should come up on that visit. Mr. Peterson was on the verandah on Tuesday when Dr. Tuck came. Gantell's before me that Dr. Tuck and I spent the afternoon in the sitting-room while Mr. Peterson was at the Court House, but think not. Did not go with Mr. Peterson to Berlin on Tuesday morning, but remained in Guelph. Went up to Berlin about half past two. Don't remember whether he had come to Berlin that morning. When he came to Berlin in the afternoon I did not hear him give any reason for coming. I was not surprised to see him. He went away that evening, and Mr. Peterson remained all night. When I returned to Guelph I met Dr. Tuck. He did not express his surprise at my coming to Guelph so soon. Dr. Tuck lived in Upper Wyndham Street at that time, and it was between this and Mr. Peterson's office that I saw him. He drove me to my house, and on the way he told me he would accompany me to Berlin. I told him what train I was going by, and he said, without my asking him, that he thought he would go to Berlin by that train. He did not pretend that he had any business there. Dr. Tuck was walking when he met me, and we went together up to his house. The carriage was got out to take me home. This took only a few minutes. After going home, the next time I saw Dr. Tuck was on the train for Berlin. At Berlin I was with Dr. Tuck nearly all the time that evening till I retired. Don't think we went for a walk. Had never occupied a sitting-room where Dr. Tuck slept, until that day, when with him there in the evening. A lamp was brought up before it was quite dark, but Dr. Tuck took it out. After the lamp was taken out, I remained in the sitting-room for about half an hour. I said good-night to Dr. Tuck after I had changed my dress. There was a lamp in my room when I went in. After changing my dress, I went to the nursery and back to my room. After remaining five or ten minutes, went back to the nursery. Saw Dr. Tuck in the hall on going back from the nursery the first time. He did not say a word to me. He had taken it off in the early part of the evening, and was without it when I said "Good-night" to him. He had taken his boots off in the evening, but could not say whether or not he had them on when in the hall. I asked him to get a glass of water, and he remained in my room while he was away. It was partly for the nursery-room I wanted the water, and partly for my own room. I told him to bring it to my room. When Dr. Tuck came to my room I asked him to close the window of my room for me. He did not do so. Dr. Tuck went away. I went into the nurse's room, and after staying a few moments, returned to my room and locked the door. When I went to the nurse's room with the water, do not know where Dr. Tuck was. Hadn't shut the door of my room after leaving it with the water. Think Dr. Tuck went down stairs, but am not sure. Think his room door was open when I passed it on my way to the nursery. When I took the lamp out of my room, can't say where the lamp was that had been taken out of Dr. Tuck's room. Went down to breakfast about half past eight next morning. Went up to the nurse's room before breakfast was over. The hotel servant came up about half past eleven. I had remained there all the time. Dr. Tuck was not with me all the time; he went down stairs two or three times. The door was open and the hotel servant came in without rapping, and got a jug. Don't think Dr. Tuck changed his position when the servant came into the room. Dr. Tuck left by the next train for Guelph. I saw him on the Sunday following at his own house. My servant was with me. It was in the evening. The servant was not present during the interview. I wanted to talk to him about the charges spoken of against me. I had written to Dr. Tuck during the week previous to our interview on Sunday. Only wrote one letter to him. He replied, telling me up some medicine. The window was near the bed. Dr. Tuck was sitting on a chair. Cannot say how long he remained. One of the servant girls came up while I was there. She went in and got a jug and went out again. I don't say that the jug was put on my knees. Dr. Tuck also—looked at his watch. My nurse and children left at the same time. I was ill all that day. There was no impropriety between me and Dr. Tuck that time.

To Mr. Moss.—Dr. Tuck had attended me several times professionally before Mrs. Tuck went to England. I think it was about February when he commenced to visit me professionally. He had called frequently with his wife previously. Don't think he ever called alone previous to February. I was staying at his house when he first prescribed for me. I had a cough when he first visited me and was ill besides. Dr. Tuck went with our family on two excursions previous to my visit to Preston. They were shortly after Mrs. Tuck left. They were driven into the country, returning the same day. I knew that Dr. Tuck was going to Preston, he said he would. We waited a couple of days in the afternoon. Dr. Tuck arrived by evening train on Sunday. When Dr. Tuck had been in Guelph some time, one of Mr. Peterson's boys came to my room. Dr. Tuck had been in Guelph some time, one of Mr. Peterson's boys came to my room.

Re-examined by Mr. Watt.—I was very excited when I wrote the letter read by Mr. Moss. I was induced to write it in order to make up the difficulty with my husband. He would not listen to reason. The letter was never sent. I tore it up and threw it into the fire in my room, immediately after writing it. By "tearing it up," I didn't mean Dr. Tuck to express anything that transpired between us. I told Soden to drive to Dr. Tuck's because I was unwell and wanted medicine. Mr. Peterson had at that time made no complaint against me. Do not know why Dr. Tuck came to Berlin on the Thursday referred to.

Oct. 28.
At the opening of the Court this morning, Mr. Watt asked an adjournment in the case on account of the absence of Mr. Blake. The principal witness—Dr. Tuck—has not argued that adjournment.
