either murdered or kidnapped. Most of the houses occupied by Armenians were burned. There is great distress among the survivors, who in large numbers are lying in sheds or in the woods. Telegrams from Marash report that the situation there is serious and that the English and American missionaries are in peril. The situation around Isold continues grave- ly alarmed. WILL IT NEVER CEASE?

Another Terrible Massacre of Armenians by Turks.

Several Hundred Murdered - Women Brutally Treated.

Constantinople, Oct. 28. - Another terrible massacre of Armenians, accompanied by the outraging of women, is reported to have occurred quite recently in the district of Balbut, between Erzeroun and Trebizond. According to the reports received here, a mob of about 500 Mussulmans and Lazes, the great majority of whom were armed with Martini-Henri rifles, made an attack upon the Armenians inhabiting several villages of that vicinity, and set fire to their houses and schools.

When the Armenians fled in terror from their dwellings, they were shot down as they ran, and a considerable number of men and women, who were captured by the rioters, were fastened to stakes and burned alive. Any Armenian women who fell into the hands of the mob, it is asserted, were outraged and brutally wounded. Churches were desecrated, and the villages attacked were pillaged. The cattle and all the portable property of any value belonging to the Armenians were driven away and carried off by the rioters.

During the disturbance 150 Armenians are reported to have been killed. The few surviving villagers applied to the Governor of Balbut for protection, who, after hearing their complaint, sent as many as three policemen to the scene of the massacre, but not until after the slaughter was ended. The Turkish officials, it is claimed, know who were the ringleaders of the outbreak in the Balbut district, but apparently no steps have been taken to punish them. The Turkish army, however, has also attacked the Armenians in the district of Gumushadag, near Trebizond, and have slaughtered many of them. The number of Armenians murdered in England is now said to be several hundred.

London, Oct. 28. - Major F. C. Rasch, member of Parliament for Southeast Essex (Conservative), who was at Constantinople during the recent riots there, in an interview today, said that the situation there is most grave. The Sultan sees nobody, and is utterly un- moved by the slaughter. The British Government, he is reported, has decided to have shot two of his attendants whom he suspected of having designs upon his life. Major Rasch added that the Turkish army is steadily and utterly out of sympathy with the present regime at Constantinople. They are said to be ripe for revolt, and he asserts that they will probably get rid of the present Sultan.

A Maniacal Mob.

Would-Be Lynchers Repulsed by De- termined Guards.

In an Ohio Jail - The Prisoner Escapes - Two Men Killed.

Tiffin, Ohio, Oct. 28. - A diabolical attempt was made by a mob of men to lynch Lee Martin, a farmer, who was arrested and killed the marshal who had been sent to arrest him. He had been over- powered and put in jail, and outside the jail was a mob of men, who were soaked and maniacal mob thirsting for his blood. At the signal of a whistle they made a rush for the jail doors, strong, sledge-hammers in hand, and yelling like so many madmen. A few policemen were whisked to one side like straws. One of them was struck with a sledge and nearly killed. The jail doors were broken in splin- ters, and a heavy sheet iron door was wrenched off its hinges. The mob, with excited men, Sheriff Vannest appealed to them to disperse. It did no. The entrance to the cell rooms is protected by a heavy sheet iron door. The lock was broken off with a few blows. Then the guards began to fire. They say, however, that the attacking mob first fired. Henry Mutschler, the first man killed, was the leader of the mob, who carried the rope. Next Christ Matz received a bullet through his heart, and was picked up dead.

This awful work and the determina- tion of the guards averted the would-be lynchings, and they left the place, cursing, and wilder than ever. Vic Vin- done, a young Italian laborer, left to blow up the building, after the mob had moved farther down the street, the prisoner was handcuffed, and taken to a side door, and then to a side alley, where a car was waiting. Police Captain Faulkner and Officer Sweeney took him to San- dusky county as fast as horses could be procured. At 10 o'clock a crowd numbering hundreds, who did not believe that the prisoner had been taken away, started to make another at- tack, but wiser counsel prevailed. Finally, to pacify them, one of their num- ber, who knew the murderer, was al- lowed to search the building. He did not find the prisoner, and so informed him. Then Company E, of the Second Regiment of Militia, of this city, was called out to guard the building. Again in the afternoon the crowd surrounded the place. They became so determi- ned that a committee of well known citizens again searched the building from cellar to garret. The crowd could not help but be satisfied and the great- er part dispersed. Strict guard will be kept for several days. Over 200 guardsmen are here.

In War Point!

Army and Navy Circles in Washington Greatly Stirred

In Regard to the Venezuelan Situation.

It Is Thought That a Crisis Is Rapidly Approaching - Comments of London Newspapers on the Case - Sensational Reports Contradicted.

Washington, Oct. 28. - It may be said that the war spirit is growing at the capital. This is apparent in official circles of the State, Navy and War Departments, which are most concern- ed in the new developments relative to our foreign policy. The most promi- nent officers anticipate important news daily, and are awake to the fact that the Administration is resolved to its determination to go to the greatest ex- tremity to defend American interests against omnipresent aggression of Great Britain. The Washington Post says:

"It is safe to say that the American people do not at this moment fully re- cognize the significance of present diplo- matic conditions nor the importance of the results to which they may lead within the next few months. The na- tion is approaching a crisis compared with which, if it be not happily averted, the Chilean incident was but a shadowy spectacle. Very close to a war with England is this Administration both prepared and determined to go. Whether we are to be plunged into the terrible abyss of an actual struggle is the question which the fu- ture alone can decide. At present, how- ever, there is ample foundation for be- lieving that the programme for the future contemplates a situation more acute and critical than any which has confronted the American people for many years. This statement is not a mere assumption. It is a matter of absolute knowledge."

Secretary Olney's note to Lord Salis- bury has not yet been made public, but when its ringing sentences are known they will arouse an echo in every patriotic heart. Despite the de- nials which have been diplomatically made, there is no doubt that Lord Salisbury has protested that the United States is carrying the principle of the Monroe doctrine to an extent hith- erto undreamed of. Mr. Olney, with the President's full knowledge and ap- proval, has placed England in a position where she must either aban- don her claim or sustain it with a show of force. It can be positively as- serted that the Administration is in- different to the course Great Britain intended to pursue.

Work upon the ships is being hastened in all the navy yards, and armor is being forged and guns completed with unusual rapidity. There will in due course of time be an array of American war vessels on the coast of the Venezuelan coast, ostensibly maneuvering, but in reality emphasizing by their presence the new, stal- wart and patriotic policy of the Ad- ministration.

For some time newspapers opposed to the Administration have been pub- lishing absurd stories to the effect that members of the Cabinet and prominent leaders of the Democratic party were at variance with the Administration. One of the most recent of these was the statement that Secretary of State Olney was not indorsed by the President in his recent action in foreign affairs. The fact, as known to all well-informed persons here, is that the Secretary of State is thoroughly approved in
