Greatest Labor Demonstration

in the History of Canada. Parade Will Be a Splendid and Imposing Pageant-Welcome to the Visitors-The Sports at Queen's

This is Labor Day, and the labor demonstration in this city will undoubtedly be the largest ever held in London. Members of the labor organizations of St. Thomas, Ingersoll, Woodstock and Hamilton will be here by thousands, and will be the guests of the local labor organizations. The St. Thomas visitors will arrive at 8:45; those from Hamilton and other eastern points at 10 a.m.. The latter will be met at the London East station of the G. T. R. by a brass band.

The parade will be one of the most imposing and spectacular ever held in any Canadian city. It is expected that there will be at least 6,000 people in line. Nearly every important factory in the city has signified its in-tention of having a float in the parade. Upon some of the floats considerable money, thought and labor has been expended, and the results will add greatly to the picturesqueness of the pageant. The lady members of the Garment Workers' Union will ride in the parade in carriages, and the printers have offered to provide a carriage for the one lady member of the Typographical Union. The parade will leave the market square at 12 o'clock

Upon arrival of the parade at the grounds an address of welcome will be delivered by Aid. Plant, to which President Jose, of the Hamilton Trades and Labor Council, will reply.

The track and stands at Queen's Park are in splendid shape, the new stands having been completed. Some of the fastest men in the city have entered for the bicycle races, among them Ingram, who carried off the city championship. Eugene Lockhart and other local terpsichorean artists have entered for the dancing contests. A coal employes' race has been added to the programme. For the stove mounters' race alone, fourteen entries have been received.

The order of the procession will be as follows: First division-Musical Society Band, Hamilton Labor Unions, Woodstock labor unions, St. Thomas labor unions, Ingersoll labor unions. Local labor unions—Carriages and wagon makers, painters and decorators, journeyman tailors, stone cutters, cigarmakers, machinists, bakers and confectioners, general teamsters, iron molders.

Second division-Seventh Bat. Bugle Band, grocery clerks, street railway employes, printers, coopers, railroad teamsters, garment workers, metal polishers, platers, buffers and brass workers, boiler makers and stove mounters. Third division—Seventh Battalion Band, shoeworkers, bricklayers and masons, Industrial Brotherhood and draymen, building laborers. Drum Corps, Railroad Brotherhoods, coal employes, Amalgamated Engineers, Amalgamated Carpenters, hackmen, newsboys, G. T. R. car shop employes, Wortman & Ward's employes, Globe Casket Works employes, sewer employes, Bennet Furnishing Company employes, Columbia Handie Works employes, George White & Sons.

Fourth division—Reube Band, in cakewalk maneuvers, mechanical displays, carriages, wagons, etc.

AT THE PARK. In the afternoon, at Queen's Park, there will be musical selections furnished by Musical Society Band, under the direction of Mr. Fred L. Evans, and the following special attractions: Frank Lawrence, the recognized champion of Canada trick bicyclist;

Wenige, the lightning baton artist; Chas. Sheriffe, the funniest of all black faces (late with Washburn Minstrels); the Disraeli Bros., contortionists, hand balancers and acrobats; a matched bicycle race, between Dennis Murphy, Hans Schlitz and Dusty Walker; Chas. Foster, a wanderer on the "slack wire."

In the evening by kind permission of Col. Smith and officers, music will be furnished by the Seventh Battalion Band, under the direction of Mr. W. E. Hiscott.

The evening attractions will be: The Famous Hayville Quartet, in the latest vocal music; Frand Law-rence, the trick bicyclist; the Three Straifs, in their own original act, Geo. Wenige, in his celebrated baton act; Chas. Sheriffe, in his black face specialties; Disraeli Bros., contortionists, hand balancers and acrobats; illustrated songs, Birmingham and Drennan: Chas. Foster, slack wire artist Prize Lancers, by the company; Smith, Jones and Brown, the funniest that ever happened.

Frank Gruber will be the accompanist, Sam Loughrey, master of pro-perties, and C. De Witt Efner, stage director.

But He Couldn't Fool With the Man From Hamilton.

Some Lively Bidding Likely for Schrall and McCann.

After doubtfully chronicling the loss of two games by Detroit to Milyaukee in a double-header played Saturday, the Detroit Free Press gives the follow-

"Connected with this pair of defeats is a tale that does not relate directly to the games. The Detroit magnate has the faculty of getting into trouble on the slightest provocation, and his disinclination to do business with the manager of the Hamilton, Ont., club in accordance with the agreement made when McCann, Schrall and Haggerty were secured on trial, caused the loss of two players just when they are needed the worst by the Detroit club. Misfortunes never come singly, and when Tom Thomas heard that McCann had left the Tigers, the big fellow, smarting under the recent suspension, refused to put a uniform on until he had been paid for the time his name was stricken from the salary list of the Detroit club. That left but two pitchers, Cronin and Gaston, both of whom pitched Friday, and when these men were pressed into service yesterday it is little wonder that the Milwaukee team won. There are always two sides to a story, but after listening to Manager Collins, of the Hamilton club, and magnate Van Derbeck, of Detroit, the facts in the case seem to be as follows: Mc-Cann, Schrall and Haggerty, members of the Hamilton club, were turned over leased. The other two men "made good," but when Collins came to De-troit after his money, Sept. 1, he claim-ed he was not given any satisfaction, as the Detroit magnate had received information that led him to believe that the Canadian league clubs had no right to hold players and therefore the men belonged to the club that could sign them.

After several conferences, Collins became disgusted and ordered his players, McCann and Schrall, to return to Hamilton with him. An offer to pay for the men was then made by the Detroit magnate, but Collins said it was too late, and accompanied by McCann, departed for Hamilton, vowing that he would sell the men to some other club. Schrall remained in Detroit, but did not put on a uniform and says he will do nothing until Collins gives him orders. Van Derbeck has mailed a check to President Young, payable to Collins, and says the men will play in Detroit or not at all, but the fact that he failed to close up with Collins on the date agreed upon may invalidate his claim, and as McCann and Schrall have both made a good impression in this circuit. some other club may secure their release from Hamilton, and thus deprive Detroit of men who are needed on the

If President Young up-holds Collins and the Hamilton club, now that the worth of the men has been demonstrated, it will likely cause a bidding match for the Canadian leaguers, with the magnate offering the best price as the one who secures the venient Kind of Oostume. Today the kilts are more modestly worn by many men, and by no means as pawky Lowland humorists have so often told us, "in Scotland only by Englishmen," says an English exchange. Sportsmen, both anglers and shooting men, have made the discovery that there is no more comfortable wear for the following of their pursuits than the much-despised kilt. This year the number of prominent shooting men who have already ordered kilted outfits for the coming season has considerably increased. A fashion has been successfully set, and promises to be enthusiastically followed.
