LONDON OPERA HOUSE.

Last night, at the London Opera House, the Fenberg Stock Company was greeted with a packed house on the presentation of the "Bowerly Boy," which was put on in artistic style by the cast. This piece was specially staged in honor of 300 students of the Medical School, F. C. B. C. and Collegiate Institute, who had the entire balcony reserved for themselves, and interspersed the acts with their songs and musical selections, besides suspending their gruesome "cross-bones" from the balcony and wearing their colors. To-night the Russian drama, "The Crucifix," will be presented, for which the company carry special scenery and costumes, and will be given for the first time in London at popular prices. On Saturday a special matinee will be given, and at night the company close their engagement with the "Two Orphans."

A Wonderful Remedy for Skin Troubles

Mack's Eczema Salve cures Eczema, Salt Rheum, Skin Diseases and Itching Piles. A cure is guaranteed. T. Tracy, barber, Hamilton, says: "I have used Mack's Eczema Salve, and it cured my two children of a bad form of Eczema. Two of the best doctors in Canada failed to relieve them." Sent postpaid on receipt of 50 cents a large box—Parke & Parke, Druggists, Hamilton.

*Albert Seeley, a 15-year-old son of A. W. Seeley, of St. Thomas, fell from his wheel while riding along the Pine Grove avenue cinder path, in Port Huron, on Tuesday evening, and was severely injured. There were no witnesses to the accident, but it is thought the rider collided with a tree. He was found lying unconscious, and removed to the hospital. An examination disclosed no fracture, but serious concussion of the brain is feared. The lad was stopping with his sister, Mrs. Hiel Buckridge, 2013 Willow street, in that city, and was on his way there when he met with the accident.

*Michael Hagarty, of Ellice, who on Friday last met his death, supposedly from falling off a wagon, was duly interred at Kinkora, but since then circumstances have arisen which in the opinion of the authorities justify suspicion, and demand investigation under a coroner. One of the most suspicious circumstances is that the dead man's pockets, it is claimed, contained no money when found. Crown Attorney Idington, of Stratford, has decided to hold an inquest, and the remains will be disinterred for a post-mortem examination.

An exceedingly happy event transpired on Tuesday last, the occasion being the celebration of the 90th birthday of Mr. Samuel Sutton, of Kilmartin, one of Middlesex's pioneers. Mr. Sutton was born near Dundas, Ont., in 1811, and when about eight years old moved to the township of Westminster, near Lambeth, where he resided for about 31 years. He was engaged in convey work during the rebellion of 1837, and took an active part on the Pelee Island expedition. In 1850 Mr. Sutton moved to Kilmartin, where he has lived continuously ever since, and up to about thirteen years ago followed his occupation of carpenter. With the exception of his eyesight, which failed some time ago, Mr. Sutton is in possession of all his faculties, and in spite of his fourscore years and ten is still hale and hearty. A very merry family reunion was held at his home on the evening stated, at which four generations were represented. Among those present were his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of Komoka; Mrs. J. W. Blain, of St. Catharines; Mrs. James Hiscok, of this city, and Miss Alice, at home. His other children are—Miss Annie, deceased, and Mr. Samuel Sutton, Jun., a prominent railroad man of Seattle. Mr. Sutton's many friends and acquaintances gathered in large numbers to the good things of life.

Commencing on Monday next the Michigan Central will put on a new train, the London and Detroit express, leaving London at 6:10 a. m., running through to Detroit without change of cars. They will also continue to run the mail train, leaving at 2:40 p. m., through to Detroit, also without change. These trains will stop at all stations between London and Detroit in both directions. The inauguration of the new train service will be a boon to the travelling public, as it brings the people of Western Ontario closer in relations with the western metropolis. The large number of commercial men who travel out of London will appreciate the new train service, as they will be enabled to leave London at an earlier hour than heretofore. Interested travellers should call at the city office for a copy of the new time-table.

An event of interest took place at the residence of Mr. George Stonehouse, Alisa Craig, on Tuesday last, when the marriage of his youngest daughter, Henrietta, and Mr. William John Laskey, of London, was solemnized. Rev. Stephen Knott officiating. The bride was assisted by her sister, Anna. Mr. George Laskey, brother of the groom, being best man. A sumptuous repast was served, and the happy young couple took the evening train for London. Mr. and Mrs. Laskey were the recipients of many handsome gifts.

Mr. George H. Brown, who died at Victoria Hospital here during the week, was a native of Paris, and aged 45. He learned the drug business from Brown Brothers, in the old Chase store in that town, and later was in business in Palmerston. By his death Paris Methodist church comes in for $3,000, a policy for this amount being taken out on Mr. Brown's life. Another policy for the same amount was taken out on the life of Mr. Robert Lang, Jr.

Petrolia Topic:—"On Friday last Auctioneer Peat put up for sale at his sale rooms the Fitzgerald & Pailows 50 acres and the Bennett 46 acres. Mr. T. Purdon, of London, representing the mortgagees, had a very good attendance and some lively bidding, but as the prices did not reach the inside limit the properties were withdrawn.

The funeral of Mrs. McKillop, wife of John McKillop, Duart, took place yesterday afternoon at Duart cemetery. Besides her husband, she leaves three sons—J. B. McKillop, of this city; Bert McKillop, Aldborough; John McKillop, Duart, and two daughters, Mrs. Robt. Barron, Aldborough, and Mrs. McClellan, Ottawa.

The firemen responded to two false alarms last evening—at 6:30 o'clock to the Grand Trunk crossing at Clarence street, and at 7:10 o'clock, by attempting to board the fast express while pulling out for Sarnia. The person nearly under the wheels being extricated from his perilous position by two or three by-standers only in the nick of time. Nevertheless, he suffered a severe shock.

Word was received in this city last evening from Lindsay of the death in that place of Monsignor Laurent, domestic prelate of His Holiness Leo XIII., and parish priest of Lindsay. Death occurred at 11 o'clock in the morning, after a short illness from bronchitis. He was attended in his last moments by Bishop McEwen, who returned to this city last night. St. Mary's church, Lindsay, has lost a very able and much loved pastor, and a good shepherd of his flock, and over the large congregation and the citizens in general. Monsignor Laurent was a good shepherd, an outspoken opponent of everything evil and a noble financier. During his seventeen years' pastorate he extinguished a heavy debt, enlarged the church and greatly improved the convent and church property there. Monsignor Laurent was well known throughout this diocese, being for a number of years stationed at St. John's, and parish priest of Amherstburg. He was also stationed at Sault Ste. Marie for some time. Monsignor Laurent was a native of France, and was over sixty years of age. The funeral will take place at 10 a. m. on Tuesday next, and besides the Archbishop of Toronto, the Most Rev. Bishop of London, many other church dignitaries are expected to attend.

AT THE NEW GRAND.
"AT CRIPPLE CREEK, TO-NIGHT."
A new play by Hal Reid, author of "Human Hearts," will be presented at the New Grand Opera House, Nov. 1st, by a company claimed to be one of the strongest engaged in sensational drama. "At Cripple Creek" is the title of the piece and the scenes are laid in a mining camp among the mountains of Colorado early in the 90's. The story is of a thrilling interest, and the play abounds in wholesome and hearty comedy. Among the members of the cast may be mentioned Frederick Mosley, a Canadian actor of established and well-earned reputation; Frank Beal, a finished actor and a stage manager of note; Colin Vague, Mr. J. Vague, and Mr. Maas, amusing in his delineations of the negro; bright and winsome little Annie Buckley, Carina Jordan, Miss

MR. KYRLE BELLEW IN "A GEN-TELEMAN OF FRANCE."
There is no doubt that the engagement of Mr. Bellew at the New Grand, next Saturday evening will prove the most notable dramatic event of the season. In the musical line of the current season, he treated to everything in the musical line of any note, but in the line of romantic drama there could not be a better organization than will be offered on Saturday evening. The company is the most remarkable aggregation of stars put together in recent years, and it is only by a fortunate chance that London theatre-goers will be treated to it. The company opened its season Wednesday evening in Ottawa, and the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Globe telegraphs in yesterday's issue:—"Harriet P. L. dramatization of Stanley Weyman's romance, 'A Gentleman of France,' was produced for the first time at the Russell Theatre here to-night (Wednesday) by Kyrle Bellew and a strong company. There was a bumper house, which included the Earl and Countess of Minto and their suite, and from start to finish the play was a complete success. In the conclusion of each scene enthusiastic plaudits from the audience compelled the raising of the curtain several times. Mr. Bellew came in for the lion's share of the applause, and established himself as a favorite from the first. In the very first scene he called the fair French girl, and the rest followed by Mr. Bellew, and for some seconds both were kept bowing in response to a storm of applause that swept over the house. Most people are so familiar with Weyman's fascinating romance that an explanation of the plot is superfluous. In the dramatization the author has reproduced in a felicitous manner the stirring and dramatic incidents which rivet attention in the story, and the interest of the audience is well sustained throughout the progress of the play. A succession of exciting scenes, spirited action, rich costumes and splendid stage setting combine to transport the spectator to the stirring times of Henry III. of France and his successor, Henry of Navarre. Mr. Bellew's impersonation of the chivalrous but impoverished noble, who is proud and fastidious, call himself a gentleman of France, Miss Eleanor Robson's interpretation of the role of Mlle. de la Vire was a sweet and womanly one, and the audience speedily succumbed to the charm of her sympathetic and graceful acting. First as the imperious, highborn lady, and afterwards as the woman struggling with her growing affection for de Marsac, she was equally effective. Mr. John Blair, as M. de Bruhl, presented a very villainous courtier whose machinations threatened to terminate de Marsac's existence as well as his happiness. Henry of Navarre had a dignified and stately opponent in Mr. John Flood, while Mr. Charles Barron, as Vicomte de Turenne, and Mr. Charles Handyside, as Baron de Rosny, sustained the characters with skill. The humors of the play was furnished by Mr. Edgar Selwyn, as Simon Flex, de Marsac's serving man, and Miss Ada Dwyer as Panthelette. The former happily illustrated the relations which often exist between master and man—dog-like fidelity, combined with a quaint humor. The latter as the robust serving woman, who faints at imaginary terrors but exhibits masculine nerve when her mistress's safety is imperilled, gave a lifelike portrayal. The rest of the company gave splendid support. The stage scenery was very fine, notably that representing the garden at Menden, where Henry of Navarre received the news of his predecessor's death. The rich and varied tints of autumn foliage, with the leaves slowly dropping over the King and his court as they stood among the trees, offered a spectacle that appealed

THE EAST MAIL.

Next Monday evening, Lincoln J. Carter's great railroad melodrama, "The East Mail," will stop for one night at the New Grand. While one of Mr. Carter's best plays, it is also one of his best, the proof of which is the fact that it is now on its thirteenth consecutive tour. Almost every popular play-goer of the last ten years has seen this startling piece, and many have witnessed it as often as it came to the city. The play has from year to year kept pace with progress. While the effects are, of course, the same as ever, the scenery and company are far superior to any that Mr. Carter has ever sent out with this play. As of yore, the thrilling steamboat explosion, the celebrated freight engine with a full head of steam on, drawing full-sized freight cars after it, the lightning Fast Mail, gathering the U. S. mail on its flight and the wonderful moonlit Niagara Falls are the play's chief effects. This season Mr. Carter has several members in the company who do new, clean, bright specialties. Those who have never seen the play should not fail to do so, as this will probably be its last Eastern tour.
