equalize the score, but their opponents managed to keep their lines intact and no side was called with the game right under-neath the Navy goal. For the winners, Arbuthnot, Ethelston, Petch and Hayward played splendidly, the first-mamed being responsible for the ulti-mate victory of his side. Besides these may be mentioned Somerville, Muniz, Hodges and Millett, who all played a sound game, although it is rather invidious to single out anyone for special praise, as the whole team played in their usual form, which is well known. For Victoria, special mention should be made of Ward at full back; his tackling being simply safe, and his kicking most effective.
