Grand Duke Discusses Strike and Does Not Mince Matters.

Emphatically Approves of Work Done by the Military on Fatal Sunday.

Bangs His Fist on His Desk and Denies the Rumors of Insubordination.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A correspondent of the American in St. Petersburg cables, under date of January 29: His imperial highness, the Grand Duke Vladimir, the uncle of the czar and the military dictator of St. Petersburg, and speaking as the personal representative of the emperor, received the correspondent at the Winter palace this evening at 6 o'clock.

160 STRIKERS KILLED AND WOUNDED

WARSAW, Jan. 30.—The number killed and wounded during the rioting here is estimated at 160. Out-of-door life in the city is at a complete standstill. All restaurants, cafes and shops are closed.

The strikers have been quieter since yesterday evening, but the strike continues in full swing. All places of business are closed.

With extraordinary emphasis he added: "The military did their duty, and they'll do it again if necessary."

"It is a mistake to assert, as the foreign press does, that the mob had no warning. The regulation warning the mob by three bugle blasts in Russia, equivalent to the reading of the Riot Act in America."

"The people of Russia are absolutely united for a constitution and there will be no concession to the emperor's resolution on that point."

"The emperor has been grieved by the recent bloodshed, but he recognizes and admits the necessity of the strike, and expresses his determination to resist all revolutionary demands."

"He is determined to grant all proper reforms, but they will come by his own will."

In order to solve the mystery of Father Gopon's whereabouts, I asked the Grand Duke if it was true that Gopon had been arrested or was in a hospital.

"I diplomatically asked the Grand Duke if it were true that Sunday's events had practically made him a dictator."

"I asked the Grand Duke if it were true that some of his troops had refused to obey the order to fire on the people on Sunday."

"He has been there all the week. He was there last Sunday and will remain there, everybody knows that His Majesty is never in St. Petersburg a month."

"The Grand Duke laughingly showed me a bundle of abusive letters he had received from England."

"I asked the Grand Duke if it were true that he had been informed that St. Petersburg workmen had determined to take his life."
