HAVE YOU HEARD OF A DRUNKARDS WILL

A Sermon in Temperance Applicable at This Time

(Contributed)

Readers of the GRAPHIC, did you ever read a "drunkard's will"? You are probably under the impression a drunkard has nothing to will at his death, but you are certainly wrong, and in reading a drunkard's will that I publish for you, you will certainly admit you mistake.

The drunkard's will reads as follows:

- 1 I give and bequeath to society, a reputation ruined by bad habits.
- 2 I give and bequeath to my old parents for all their life, as much sorrow as they will be able to bear.
- 3 I give and bequeath to my brothers and sisters as many humiliations as I will be able for them to procure.
- 4 I give and bequeath to my wife, a broken heart, a life of misery and shame to cry and pain over my premature death.
- 5 I give and bequeath to each and everyone of my children, poverty and ignorance, and the recollection that their father was a drunkard and a monster.

But there is something else yet. An inauspicious gift that the drunkard gives, leaves and bequeaths to his children. The grave cannot enclose his vices which still live and reign after he is gone.

"Such father, such son," says the wise experience. "Good blood cannot lie" teaches the old saying. Honesty, nobility, etc. are often hereditary virtues, but the blood is also a vehicle that transmits to the unfortunate children all a legacy of shame and vices. "I do not die wholly," may say the drunkard, as my children will carry in their soul and body the blemish, the tare of my infamies.

The facts here mentioned show eloquently the truth of this statement.

A great German doctor has followed the history of a drunkard's family for a century, and he has figured that among the descendants of this drunkard's family there has been during the course of a century, 142 beggars, 54 lunatics, 80 debauchees, 76 criminals, and 7 murderers. In the course of 75 years, this sad family has cost to the country $7,400,000 in costs of asylums, jails and damages caused.

Mr. Everett, a minister in the Washington government, said, in ten years alcoholic drink has killed in the United States, 300,000 individuals has sent 100,000 children to poor houses, and orphanages, has thrown 150,000 persons in jail, 10,000 in the asylums, has been the cause of 15,000 murders, has been the cause of great fires, destroying property valued at 150 million dollars, and has made 200,000 widows and a million orphans.

A Montreal recorder stats that on 100 cases, 90 are due to intemperance.

If intemperance could be banished from England, says a great man, ninety per cent of our jails would be closed.

Could we not say the same for our country, would not the disappearance of this plague produce the same happy consequences.

Electors of New Carlisle, please read this attentively, and think when you are through. If you are sincere, how can you vote otherwise than to banish from your way the curse, which is the sole and only cause of all evils above mentioned, and of many and many more. Please bear this in mind and vote accordingly on the day of the plebiscite.

Books!

EVEN a good cook likes to work with "easy" ingredients. But she has learnt that all is not gold in fact that glitters in promise. Does the following look to you like a gilded promise or a truthful fact?

Gold:

Regal Flour makes the best quality and the utmost quantity of bread per barrel of any flour you have ever used. White, light loaves always. And pastry of melting flakiness.

Substance:

Unless Regal Flour proves every bit as worthy as we say, your dealer will return your money. We protect him in that. Isn't that a substantial offer? The sooner you ask for Regal the easier your bakesdays.
