TO EXTEND ST. LAWRENCE.

Proposed Prizes For the Best Designs—The Need of a Public Abattoir—The Immigration Sheds.

The Committee on Markets and Licenses met yesterday afternoon. Ald. Verral presided, and there were present: Ald. McMurrich, Stewart, Ballie and Foster.

The request of Mr. G. L. Nicholson, lessee of St. Lawrence market fees, for a rebate, the receipts having fallen off owing to street improvements going on in the neighborhood of the market, was referred to the City Commissioner for consideration.

Mr. Joseph Pocock, President of the Pedlars' Association, appeared in an effort to stay the hand of the License Department in the prosecutions now going on against pedlars, until the cases now pending were decided.

Ald. Stewart championed the cause of the pedlars, but without avail, the committee deciding to go on with the work.

Mr. Thomas Kelly was the next man with a grievance. He considered it unjust that butchers should be allowed to exchange special lines of cuts.

When Mr. Awde said he considered it a wholesale transaction and did not call for any interference on his part, he raised the ire of Mr. Kelly and a sharp and wordy warfare between them followed.

On motion of Ald. McMurrich the butchers were requested to present their case in writing at the next meeting.

The recommendation of the recent public meeting re extension and improvement of St. Lawrence market was brought to the attention of the committee by Ald. Lamb, who acted as chairman on that occasion. It was decided to place $1000 in the estimates, to be awarded as prizes for best plans for the desired work.

Mr. W. Hodgson, lessee of the Western Cattle Market, complained that owing to the bylaw giving him a monopoly of the sale of feed there not being enforced, he had lost some $3000. For this loss he thought the city should reimburse him.

The Chairman and City Commissioner Coatsworth will investigate and report.

The question of converting the old immigration sheds into a public abattoir was discussed at length.

Commissioner Coatsworth reported that $6500 would put the buildings into the desired shape.

The matter was deferred to the next meeting.

The tender for clothing for the guards at the jail was awarded to A. M. Hoberlin at $17.65 per suit.

Tenders were opened for the erection of a bridge at the Western Cattle Market. They were referred to the City Engineer and the Commissioner to report as to respective merits.

Mr. Menzies' Charges.

The sub-committee of the Executive Committee met in the Treasurer's office yesterday afternoon to consider the charges made against the Treasury Department by Mr. Menzies. Ald. Lamb presided, and there were present Ald. Saunders, Orr, Score and Messrs. Coady, Patterson and City Auditor Anderson. Nothing definite was arrived at and the committee adjourned to meet again Tuesday, in order to give the auditors time to report. In the meantime Mr. Coady will be furnished with a copy of the charges preferred and he will answer them seriatim.

THE CITY'S PROPERTY.

Vigilant Eyes On Certain Transactions On the Water Front.

Several years ago the city leased certain property in the Esplanade to a man named Brown. At yesterday's meeting of the Property Committee Solicitor Caswell reported that the property was occupied by the Electric Light Company, but that the city was not cognizant of any transfer having been made. It is understood that an old street allowance of 50 feet runs through the property.

The City Solicitor and City Commissioner were deputed to report upon the matter.

Mr. T. G. Blackstock, representing Mr. Gooderham, appeared asking for its consent to the transfer of certain land from Mr. George Gooderham to the Polson Company.

The property in question is on the Esplanade, at foot of Frederick-street, and was leased some years ago to the Grape Sugar Company at $3 a foot. The property eventually got into the hands of Mr. George Gooderham The lot is 133 feet wide by 400 deep. Of this property 28 feet was subsequently sold to the C.P.R. for $10,000, the latter agreeing to pay $500 a year till the principal was paid. The remainder of the land Mr. Gooderham has sold for $50,000 to Polsons, the latter to pay the rental on the whole of the lot to the city. It was consent to this transfer that Mr. Blackstock desired.

Solicitor Caswell opposed consent being then granted, desiring first the presence of all the parties concerned.

Mr. Blackstock was somewhat annoyed, being of the opinion that the city was ready to consent.

The City Solicitor will be asked to report upon the matter.

The City Commissioner having reported that for a number of years squatters had been occupying the eastern sandbar during the summer months, he was deputed to ascertain their names with a view to preventing the recurrence of the practice.

On application for enlargement of the City Registry Office Commissioner Coatsworth was instructed to get estimates from an architect of the cost of adding another story.

The contract for the brick work and masonry to provide separate quarters at No. 1 Police Station for juvenile criminals was awarded to Wilson & Cain. The cost will be $680.

MR. HOWELL'S BUSINESS METHODS.

The Interesting Tale of the "Wide-Awake Shoe Store."

Competition in the retail shoe business has never been dull in Queen-street west, but since George Howell started his "Wide-Awake Shoe Store" at 542 Queen-street west things have been livelier than ever. The methods of this enterprising young business man have enabled him to make an unusually strong impression on the shoe trade of the West End.

In the three months since the "Wide-Awake Shoe Store" was started, the reception that Mr. Howell has met with has been of such a character that he is already contemplating the enlargement of his premises, and next spring will probably see "The Wide-Awake" a store of very large dimensions. At present Mr. Howell has room to carry a stock of about $10,000. An enquiry into the business methods which have enabled Mr. Howell to do such great things is interesting.

"First of all," says Mr. Howell, "I believe in a bright roomy store where customers may be quickly served in bright and cheerful surroundings. I also change the arrangements of my windows every week, and the wayfarer has an opportunity of knowing what he wants and where to get it whenever necessity arises.

"I have one price to which I always adhere, and if the customer does not wish to pay it he may go elsewhere. My prices are the most reasonable in the city, and I will allow anyone to leave the store before I will take anything off. Good bright advertising and a quickness and promptitude of service are necessary to a paying business. And above all, I endeavor to keep so complete a stock that no customer need go to anyone else to find a certain class of shoe. In short, I believe in being wide-awake."
