In soliciting the patronage of the city and country trade, we would state that for a number of years we have paid special attention to the selection of Teas, and for the last two years we have not had a single complaint respecting the quality sent to any of our customers during that time. Our rule is to sell our goods at the lowest remunerative profits, to those who are in the habit of being prompt with their payments. To country merchants we would state, that owing to our being situated in one of the best thoroughfares of the city for the sale of Provisions, and having a large city trade, we are enabled to work off choice lots of Butter to advantage, as well as all other kinds of country Produce. An examination of our stock and prices solicited.

IN reply to numerous inquiries we desire to express our regret that in the mean time we are unable adequately to meet the large demand that is being made on us for Finnan Haddies; arrangements have been made which will enable us to meet the want in two or three weeks, and to furnish an abundant supply in future seasons.

BLOATERS—We put up and send to market a large supply of herring, prepared after the manner of the well known Yarmouth bloaters. The fall and winter herring in this locality being fat and well flavoured, are better adapted for putting up in this shape, than even the English herring. We prepare them immediately after they are taken from the nets. Both in point of appearance and quality they can readily be distinguished from the fish put up in the States under the same name, which are prepared from the common salt herring.

KIPPERED HERRING.—In Scotland, Kipperd Herring, during the short season when the fish are in full condition, hold the same place in public estimation that bloaters do in England. We put up the largest size of herring in this shape, and these Quoddy Kippers meet with ready acceptance wherever they have been introduced.

RED HERRING.—We have affixed this brand to herring we prepare for the home market, in order to distinguish them from the common smoked herring. The only article of smoked herring that has hitherto been known on this side of the Atlantic is the dry smoked herring, which was originally intended only for export to warm climates; and with a view to keeping, a comparatively poor fish has to be used for this purpose. We follow the distinction established in England, where the brands for export and for the home market are distinct, the latter being familiarly known as red herring. Under this name we put up an article which will be found to suit the old country taste, more especially, for a palatable relish of this sort.

Bloaters, Kippers and Red Herring, packed in boxes of two uniform sizes, bearing the brand of the firm, one containing about 60 lbs., and the other nearly one-third this quantity. For convenience of transport the small boxes are strapped together in bundles of three. Bloaters and red herring also packed in barrels and large cases. The trade supplied exclusively through agents appointed by the firm.
