The British army, singularly enough, has furnished many pioneers of Methodism in different parts of the world, and it is said there were some of those in the army which fought under the heroic Wolfe at the capture of Quebec in 1759. We have also accounts that in the year 1780, a Mr. Tuffey, a local preacher, who held the office of Commissary to the 44th Regiment, preached in Quebec, as opportunity offered, during that and the two following years. At the close of the American Revolution, some of the pious soldiers who were Methodists obtained their discharge and settled in Upper Canada. The late venerable Wm. Case, in his Jubilee Sermon, says that about the same time some families that belonged to Mr. Wesley's Society in Ireland, and who were afterwards members of the first society in New York, came to Canada; the names that he gives are the following, viz: Detlor, Hick, Embury, Dulmage, Lawrence.

The Rev. Wm. Lossee, who was a loyalist in the Revolution, and who had acquaintances in Canada, came on a visit to his friends in 1790, and
