A MAGNIFICENT CHIMD.

Pethaps no tasto is more nearly universal than that for a fine Chime of Bells. The old and the young, the cultured and the uncultured, the grave and the gay - all yield to the music of the bells And it is, perhaps, equally true that no one in this country knows the art of gratifying this taste, like the masters who control the product of the famous McShane Bell Foundry, of Baltimore, Md

Among the most recent examples of the work of this Foundry is a Chime cast for the Smith Memorial Chapel at Glen Mills, Pa. This Chime consists of ten bells; the largest bell weighs 2,100 pounds, and is 46 inches In diameter; the smallest weighs 200 pounds and is 21 inches in diameter. The total weight of the bells and mountings is about 10,000 pounds. They are equipped with an improved chiming apparatus.

But no figures - no mere statements of weight and measures - can in the least degree indicate the purity, richness, and sweetness of tone possessed by this truly beautiful Chime of Bells. They can be heard at a great distance, and the hills of Delawaro County never before reechoed more delightful sounds, or clearer, sweeter music.

The McShane Bell Foundry has a world wide reputation as makers of the finest bells for churches, courthouses, fire alarms, etc.

IS IT PROGRESS!

In comparison between what was and what is in California, the praisers of times past will fix upon the Indians of Carmel. • • But the day of the Jesuit has gone by, the day of the Yankee has succeeded, and there is no one left to care for the converted savage. The church is roofless and rulnous. • • • As an antiquity in this new land, a quaint specimen of missionary architecture and a memorial of good deeds, it had a triple claim to prescrivation. ••• It made a man's heart sorry for the good Fathers of yore who had taught the Indians to dig and to reap, to read and to sing, who had given them European mass books which they will preserve and study in their cottages, and who had now passed away from all authority and influence in that land - to be succeeded by greedy land-thieves and sacrilegious pistolshots. So ugly a thing may appear beside the doings of the Society of Jesus -Robert Louis Stevenson.

THE CHURCH IN THE SANDWICH

ISLANDS. work of Catholic education is far advanced, and is making progress, says The New World. The St. Louis College in Honolulu, conducted by the Brothers of Mary, of Dayton, Ohio, is the principal seat of learning in the islands. It was endowed by Rt. Rev. Bishop Ropert and alded by several of the kings. The buildings and grounds are large and the college is equipped with all modern Improvements. Six hundred boys are lo attendance, and many applicants are refused admission for want of accommodations. The Brothers of Mary are highly educated gentlemen and native Americans. They hall from nearly all the States, the majority coming from Maryland and Ohio. They conduct flourishing colleges also in Wailuku and in Hilo, in each of which we found some 400 boys. The Sisters of St. Francis, from Syracuse, N.Y., to the number of twenty, are famed throughout the Islands for their educational work. They conduct large schools in Hilo and Wailuka, Upon examining the students we found them exceedingly bright and proficient in their studies. The school rooms are large and cheerful. The Sisters of the Congregations of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary conduct a large convent near the Cathedral in Honolulu and give instruction to 500 girls. These sisters are thirty in number. With all due credit for the work accomplished, it cannot be denied that the great need of the hour is a greater number of American Catholic teachers, both men and women. We believe that the time is not far distant when the want shall be sup-

For lovers of any art and for all worshippers of Nature hours of happiness must necessarily be many. For our own part, we believe that of all the art music, while by no means the highest, affords the most happlness. People entirely unlearned on the subject, unable to make a reasonable criticism on any composition or to describe the pleasures they derive from hearing it, are yet carried away by music out of themselves into a region where they feel the fulfilment of Matthew Arnold's "Desire:"

Oh where the voice doth come Let all doubts be dumb, Let all words be mild, All strifes be reconciled, All pains beguiled,

A mental effort is necessary before we can wring happiness either from pictures or poetry, and in the demand they make upon the minds of those to whom they appeal lies their right to the first place among the arts, but the charm of music is like the charm of Nature - it is not felt after struggle but in surrender. Certain scenes, certain atmospheres, cast over some men a spell of happiness which defies description-which seems to screen from them all the "prospects drear" of the past, all the "guesses and fears" of the future. and in the intense loy of a living present to offer perhaps a foretaste of eternity, making them "ready to be anything in cestasy of being ever."

Kind thoughts are wings which bear is on to kinder deeds. The great obligation of the Christ-
