FOLLOWING CHRIST.—“A manual for church members,” by Joseph B. Stratton, D. D., is one of the recently published, and one of the best issues of the Presbyterian Board. It is a solid, earnest work, clearly and tersely written, and will be found of great practical value. It treats of Christian life under all circumstances and in all phases of it. It is well filled with practical, common sense, advice, and presented in such a way as to be most interesting as well as instructive. We would class it among the few books that should be found in every home. Where the means of the family can afford but few, it is well worthy a place as one of them. It is well printed, in large, clear type. Price seventy-five cents, at McGregor & Knights.

JUDGE GREENES NOTE BOOK.—By Mary C. Miller, published by the Presbyterian Board, has just appeared. It concludes a series, called the “Reformation Series.” It is written as its name indicates in the style of a diary or notes by a traveller, for the benefit of some young friends. He first visits London, tells of what he sees there, and gives some interesting stories of by gone days, of some of the martyrs and their times. Then he visits Paris, describes some of its grand buildings, and interweaves in a charming manner the stories of reformation times as connected with the history of these buildings. Thus he travels through the principal cities of Switzerland, to Rome, back to the Netherlands and through Germany, visiting many of the historic cities, such as Antwerp, Brussels, Dort, Utrecht, Strasburg, Nuremberg, Spire, Augsburg, Erfurt, Wittenburg, Worms, etc. and pictures as he goes some of the scenes that took place in them in connection with the Reformation. The book is written in an attractive style. It gives in small compass much information concerning reformation times and is calculated to whet the appetite for the study of history and more especially the history of Christianity. When the books for young people, consist in such great measure, of stories of boys and girls who never lived, it is a positive pleasure to be able to point at times to story books at once interesting and true, books which attract and interest, and at the same time instruct. Price $1.15 at McGregor & Knight's.

It is a shame for a rich Christian man to be like a Christmas box that receives all, and nothing can be got out of it till it is broken in pieces.—Dr. John Hall.
