

Improving upon Nature

At the first blush it seems a bold thing to suggest the possibility of improving upon nature, but when we come to consider the matter fairly, it is what is being done every day.

The gardener is improving on nature all the time, by giving her the scope of improved conditions. So a woman can improve her beauty by improving the conditions which control that beauty. By daily use of the skin is softened and refined and brought to its true primitive condition affording nature, the greatest of all beautifiers, the full opportunities of imparting, with her own infallible touch, the grace and charm of a lovely complexion.

Under the pure emollient influence of Pears the skin assumes its natural delicate pink and white, whereby the whole expression of the face is endowed with an enhanced radiance.
