inspectors. It is probable that creditors will best conserve their interests by accepting the offer made with security. Mr. Berteaux has a number of friends among his creditors who stood by him most chivalrously, and did not regard the Insolvent Law a jot in its bearing upon his case.

READ YOUR POLICIES.—Insurers in Agricultural as well as in other Insurance companies, should carefully read and remember the conditions on their policies. A case happened recently in Champlain in which an aged farmer, whose house had been destroyed by fire, was obliged to relinquish all claims upon the company, the Ottawa Agricultural, owing to his not having notified them of the transfer of the insured property to his son on the pension reserve principle so common among farmers in this Province, who when they become advanced

FURNITURE,

7, 9 and 11 St. Joseph Street, MONTREAL.

THEIR business is the oldest in the city, having been established over 30 years ago by the senior member of the firm. Since the opening of the new wareroom their stock is acknowledged by all who have seen it to be the largest, best assorted and decidedly the richest ever on view in the Dominion.
The Wholesale Store contains a very large assortment of plain Furniture, also at retail rates, which have been reduced 20 per cent. below former prices. All goods warranted to be as represented; if not, can be returned and money refunded.

in years not unusually make over their property to the son on condition that the parents be comfortably maintained for the remainder of their natural lives. The farmer in question lost $600, less rebate on premium of about $7, through his neglect. The point was that the father's claim for pension was not endangered by the loss. Under the circumstances it is to be hoped that although the matter has been settled legally, the company will treat the matter in a liberal spirit, by making the unfortunate loser a present of a percentage of the claim.

How to Select Flour.—In selecting flour first look at its color. If it is white with a yellowish straw-colored tint, buy it. If it is white with a bluish cast, or with white specks in it, refuse it. Second, examine its adhesiveness—wet and knead a little of it between your fingers, if it works soft and sticky it is poor.
Third, throw a little lump of dried flour against a smooth surface, if it falls like a powder it is bad. Fourth, squeeze some of the flour tightly in your hand, if it retains the shape given by the pressure that, too, is a good sign. It is safe to buy flour that will stand all these tests.
These modes are given by all old flour dealers, and they pertain to a matter that concerns everybody.
