MILLION MORE MEN TO FIND EMPLOYMENT

Sir Auckland Geddes Says Finding Occupation is One of Difficult Problems.

London, Oct. 15.—Sir Auckland Geddes, speaking at the quarterly meeting of the London Iron and Steel Exchange, said that one of the most difficult problems was the finding of occupation for those who had to be engaged in some form of industry. One result of the war was that more people in the United Kingdom must earn their living in industry than before the war. Demobilization would be completed in a few months when employment must be found for a million more men.

Sir Auckland pointed out that civil order and stable conditions were not to be expected unless we had a fully-employed population.

He said he was convinced we are able to increase our overseas trade beyond what it had ever been before. The world was crying for goods and sources of supply were not numerous. It was quite clear, however, that if we were to increase our export trade and maintain an active iron and steel industry there must be a very great change in the development of the industry. He did not mean to say that the government should interfere, because the more the government kept out of business the better, provided that businesses were taking a big view and saw beyond their own interests, because the national interest was the interest of all. The government's new transport policy would very materially help traders.

Racing Inquiry in Winnipeg Hears Mutual System Praised

Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—The introduction of the pari-mutuel system of betting has resulted in the disappearance of an objectionable class of race track followers who were a menace to the general public, and the total elimination of betting has improved horse racing generally, testified W. I. Smale, manager of the Brandon Fair Association, before the Rutherford racing commission today.

Representatives of the Council of Women, the W.C.T.U., and the Social Service Council, appeared to oppose the return of race track gambling. Dr. J. G. Rutherford closed the Winnipeg hearing.

HUMAN OSTRICH HAD INDIGESTION

Extraordinary Collection of Hardware Found in Stomach Thru Operation.

Boston, Oct. 15.—Discovery of a "human junk heap" was announced by officers of the house of correction at Deer Island today. Charles W. Buzzell of Montreal, serving a sentence of one year for forgery, complained of indigestion. A surgical operation resulted in the recovery of two pounds of miscellaneous articles from his stomach. The collection, Dr. L. C. Rockwell said, included parts of a dog chain two feet long; a safety razor blade nearly whole; a suspender buckle, and 173 fragments or pieces of glass, hay wire, staples, nails and screws. Relieved of these substances, Buzzell has almost entirely recovered, it is said. The prisoner had been accumulating the collection with suicidal intent, according to Dr. Rockwell, since last December. He had previously made a similar cumulative attempt to end his life, but it was frustrated by an operation performed in New York, he said.

Buzzell told the surgeons that he was a former clergyman, having held several pastorates in Canada, and had been convicted of worthless cheque operations in Michigan, New York and New Jersey.

CANNOT RECOGNIZE THE OMSK GOVERNMENT

Tokio, Oct. 15.—That Japan cannot at present give recognition to the Omsk government was the opinion expressed by Tsunetada Kato, who has just left for Siberia as Japan's diplomatic agent to that country. Japan would continue to supply foodstuffs, arms and ammunition, he said. The diplomat added:

"With regard to the Bolsheviks, we are not necessarily antagonistic to them unless they are antagonistic to us. An increase of our soldiers in Siberia is necessary for the protection of the railways.

"The allied powers have not abandoned the Omsk government and the support of that government is continuing."

Would Dismiss 238 Teachers Of Montreal Catholic Schools

Montreal, Oct. 15.—The dismissal of 238 male teachers and the appointment of female teachers in their stead was the means proposed last night by Mr. Justice Lafontaine, president of the Central Catholic School Board, to meet on one side the demands of teachers for higher pay, and the opposition of taxpayers to an increased rate of taxation. The proposal was opposed by Commissioner J. E. Perreault, who claimed that it was unfair to throw on the street more than two hundred men who had made a career of teaching.

FRANCE TO FIGHT JOHN BARLEYCORN

Will Be Leading Plank of National Platform in the Coming Elections.

Paris, Oct. 15.—The fight against alcohol will be a leading plank of the National platform in the forthcoming elections. Ministers are demanding the absolute suppression of alcohol and the walls of Paris and the larger city are already placarded with these demands, and pamphlets and posters have been mailed by the hundred thousand to hotels and individuals in the provinces.

This literature has been issued by the Federation of Anti-Alcoholic Societies of France, and the posters and pamphlets are realistic and vivid both as to wording and pictorial qualities. No mention is made of wine.

Voters are asked to demand of candidates that they pledge themselves to advocate the elimination of alcoholic beverages.

"If France does not suppress alcohol, then will suppress France," the posters proclaim in huge characters, and then "Three million individuals live upon the traffic of alcohol; thirty-five million suffer and die from it."
