BRACEY MAKES PROMISES

Will See That All the Creditors Who Trusted Him are Paid

Provided the Construction Company Will Give Security for a Settlement—Two Grades of Clerks in the Civic Service—Farmer Waud Likely to Get Some of His Money Back—A Treasurer Short in His Accounts—Rewards for Liberals.

Hamilton, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The Street Railway Company has issued a notice informing its employes that after Oct. 1 the wages of the employes will be reduced. Motormen and conductors, upon entering the employ of the company, have received 12 1-2c an hour, which has been increased at intervals at the rate of half a cent an hour till it reached 15c. Most of the present employes are now receiving 15c an hour, but the new maximum will be 13 1-2c and the minimum 12 1-2c an hour. The employes are sore at the reduction, but are taking the situation philosophically.

CONTRACTOR BRACEY TALKS.

Smith Bracey, head of the firm of Bracey Bros. & Company, who assigned after building the greater portion of the T., H. and B. Railway from Hamilton to Brantford, with A. D. Percy, arrived in the city last night, and will be a witness in the arbitration going on over the claims every day before Judge Snider. Mr. Bracey says he will see that all the creditors are paid if the $85,000 reserved by the Construction Company for this purpose is not sufficient, providing the latter company will give security for a settlement, and will furthermore enter an action for $100,000 against the company. He claims his company did $160,000 worth of work, put in $60,000 of their own money, and received $38,000 from the Construction Company.

THE CIVIC SERVICE CLERKS.

To-morrow night the Finance Committee will discuss a scheme for reorganizing the staff of civic employes, the principal features of which are to have first and second-class clerks, the former to start at $600 a year and the latter at $400 and rise to $550, and to make it compulsory for new appointees to pass a prescribed examination.

WAUD IS IN LUCK.

James Waud, the Bartonville farmer who was touched for his money on Monday night, will likely recover a good portion of it. Last night the detectives arrested Dan Collins, who was departing on a train, and he was to-day charged with stealing Waud's $70. He pleaded guilty and will be sentenced on Friday. He had $43 on him.

Andrew Watson and Charles Robinson, two Toronto men, were arrested last night, charged with burglarizing the Smithville Postoffice, from which a number of stamps were stolen. They had a number in their possession and were remanded for eight days.

A TREASURER'S SHORTAGE.

Major Walker of Ancaster is an applicant for the position of asylum farmer, and in this connection a story is circulating that his accounts, as Township Treasurer, are short. Auditors Calder and Kenrick discovered the shortage some time ago, but the matter was hushed up, the treasurer's bondsmen agreeing to stand good. The amount of the shortage is said to have been between $3000 and $5000.

REWARD FOR THE LIBERALS.

As stated in The World some weeks ago, Thomas Clappison, the secretary of the Reform Association, will be appointed cashier in the customs house at $1400 a year, and H. Gayfer will be appointed assistant appraiser at $1100 a year. Hugh Murray, who is a strong Conservative, being promoted to the position of custom surveyor, will cause a vacancy, which may be filled by D. R. Gibson.

DEATH OF DR. RIDLEY.

A telegram was received to-night from Father Point, announcing the death of Dr. R. Ridley of this city, which occurred while he was returning from a trip to Newfoundland. The deceased had been in this city for a number of years and was prominently identified with Christ Church Cathedral, being the rector's warden. The remains are expected to-morrow.

WANTS A REDUCTION.

C. O. Dexter, manager of the Canadian Colored Cotton Company, appeared before the Fire and Water Committee and asked for a reduction in their water rate. The company pays the ordinary assessment rate and 7 1-2 cents a thousand gallons besides, which the manager thinks excessive. A sub-committee, consisting of Chairman Dixon, Ald. MacLeod, Reid and McKeown, was appointed to investigate.

HOTELMEN AT GAMES.

T. O'Rourke Wins the Championship—Toronto Again Beats Hamilton at the Tug-of-War.

The Toronto License Holders' first annual athletic tournament took place on the Island Athletic grounds yesterday afternoon. Owing to the extreme chilliness of the weather the crowd was small; but it was an excellent day for sports, and all the events were hotly contested. Everything went off without a hitch, and the committee deserve great credit in bringing to such a successful issue their first attempt to hold an affair of this kind. The 48th Highlanders' Band was present and rendered excellent music. In connection with this tournament, mention is to be made of two young athletic clubs in the city. The first is the Hibernian Amateur Athletic Association and the other is the Police Athletic Association. The former was represented by T. O'Rourke, who won the all-round championship and gold medal, and A. T. Hernon. For the policemen, Nicol, McArthur, Robinson, Anson and Young did good work.

Wonderland, '96.

Is the name of the Northern Pacific's new tourist book for 1896. The cover design will prove a happy surprise to lovers of the artistic, and its illustrations will be fully up to the standard of its predecessors. One of its principal characters recounts a hunt after the well-known, yet rare, Rocky Mountain or white goat, made by the author in September, 1895, in the defiles of the Bitter Root range. One at all inclined to big game hunting will want to read about that hunt. An account of a trip through Yellowstone Park on horseback will also prove interesting. Six cents in stamps sent to Charles S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn., will secure the book. ed

In brandies Mr. Dalglish represents the firm of Planat & Co. of Cognac. Mr. Dalglish is the sole representative in Canada for many other European establishments, and has large connections all over the Dominion of Canada.

Quick Time.

Mr. Tom. Stedman, son of Mr. R. H. Stedman, deputy superintendent of the Ontario Reformatory for Boys, Penetanguishene, has been visiting his uncle, Mr. R. J. Score. He left on his wheel for his home in "Penetang" on Monday morning, a distance of 103 1-2 miles, at 6.30 a.m., arriving at his destination at 4.55 p.m., taking just 10 hours and 25 minutes to make the journey. He must be a scorcher.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM—Mr. S. Ackerman, commercial traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for Inflammatory Rheumatism, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others, as it did so much for me.

THEY HONORED THE QUEEN.

Toronto's School Children Sang Patriotic Songs and Listened to Loyal Speeches Yesterday Afternoon.

With a vim characteristic of Canadian children, all the schools in the City of Toronto yesterday celebrated the day on which Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria attained the distinction of out-reigning any former European sovereign. From the largest down to the smallest children, though the latter hardly comprehended the full meaning of the ceremony, lusty cheers rang throughout the schools of this city.

Among the visitors to Sackville-street School was Mr. J. L. Hughes, Inspector. Appropriate addresses were given by Rev. Mr. White, Mr. Roden and Dr. Noble trustees, and Inspector Hughes.

AT GLADSTONE-AVENUE.

Among the most interesting ceremonies of the afternoon were those at Gladstone-avenue School. All the rooms were made bright for the occasion, especially the head room, presided over by Mr. Alexander Muir, principal of the school. The children's desks were mounted with vases of flowers, and maple leaves were scattered about in profusion, a wreath adorning a cut of Queen Victoria over the principal's desk. After the usual afternoon exercises, interspersed with songs and historic talks, the children were allowed to go out in the school yard, where they were arranged into a square upon the wooden grounds. The genial Mr. Muir stood upon a table and ordered the scholars to be seated, which they did, gypsy fashion. It was a large array of bright faces which the visitors were treated to, the attitude of the children reminding one of "Little Sally Waters Sitting in the Sun." Every boy and girl wore at least one maple leaf, many of them large sprays, and each carried either a Union Jack to wave when cheering or a branch of the emblematic leaves.

TALKED TO THE PUPILS.

Among the many visitors present was Dr. Buck, school trustee, who briefly addressed the children. "I know you are crowded here in this school; the board knows you are crowded; but we hope to have all this remedied soon. You must thank your principal for the pleasure of this hour. It was he who suggested the idea to the board, and they, always generous, encouraged the scheme." He made fitting references to Queen Victoria, and complimented them on their songs, adding: "Your school is noted for musical ability and patriotism, and occupies a foremost place among the city schools. It will be still better next year, when several more rooms will be added. Just now we are fitting up two of your play-sheds for school rooms during the winter. No doubt the parents see the necessity of enlarging the place. I am wondering where so many of you come from."

THE POET'S REMARKS.

Mr. Muir, arising to speak, said: "I will tell you a story that, perhaps, will make the last point clear to Dr. Buck. A little girl came to me the other day, and she said: 'Mr. Muir, we got a litle baby to our house, yesterday.' 'Well, well; where did you get it?' I asked. 'The nurse told me the doctor-man got it in a cabbage up in High Park.'" He referred to the flag flying from the top of the school, which permission had been granted him late in the day. "It is the noblest flag that waves over any country and in any clime. Now, ladies and gentlemen, I speak more especially to the little ladies and gentlemen, think of the child that was born the 24th of May, 1819, who, when she attained womanhood, ascended the glorious throne of England, and to-day rules over a country upon which they say the sun never sets, and in wisdom and virtue she has far outshone all other royal heads, and as wife and mother, and ruler of her household, she has been an example to every mother throughout Canada. I hold to-day that there are none more loyal than Canadians. A man, recently from England, said to me: 'Mr. Muir, I am surprised and amazed at the children's loyalty. I don't think I would have found such patriotism in any school in England.' I know this," continued Mr. Muir, "that there is not one child under me in Gladstone-avenue School that does not love Canada, Britain, our emblem and our Queen. (Cheers from the children.) And now, little blessed girls and boys, we have a promise that we shall be greater than Queen Victoria, that we shall be heirs and kings hereafter, if we love the Lord and the Bible. There will be no bad little boys and no men in the future in our jails, and the country will prosper that forgets not God."

PATRIOTIC SONGS.

"God Save the Queen" was sung by the grand chorus of school children, followed by "The Maple Leaf Forever," the words and music of which were composed by Mr. Muir, and it was with pardonable pride on his sunny face that he stood there hatless listening to his own production in the mouths of the many children, and beating time by waving his arm. Other patriotic songs were sung with enthusiasm, and in "Rule, Britannia," they brought out the line, "Britons never shall be slaves," as if they meant it.

AT DUKE-STREET SCHOOL.

Under the management of Principal R. S. Martin a pleasing entertainment was held in Duke-street School from 3 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Sketches of important events in the reign of Queen Victoria were given by Gertie McKay, Allie Martin, Maggie Craig, Minnie McKnight, Maggie Shea, Edith Gowland, Cuthbert Woodhouse and Copeland Evans. All the pupils joined heartily in singing, "Rule, Britannia," "The Maple Leaf," "Our Own Canadian Home," "Fair Canada," and other patriotic pieces.

School Trustees E. P. Roden and Dr. Noble delivered interesting and instructive addresses.

The Kelly Case Again.

The suits of Mrs. Mary Kelly against Police Sergeant Barton for $20,000 and Daniel Kelly for a like amount against Staff Inspector Archabold were commenced yesterday afternoon in the Civil Assize Court, before Mr. Justice Street. These cases arise out of what is known as the Kelly bus case.

On Sunday, July 22, 1894, Mr. Wm. Kelly, his family and relatives left their home on Logan-avenue to drive to St. Helen's Church, Brockton. As a conveyance, Mr. Kelly used one of his own busses. At King and Yonge-streets Sergt. Barton boarded the bus. A few moments later Inspector Archabold ordered the whole party arrested, and they were taken to police headquarters. They were subsequently released by the Deputy Chief as soon as he heard the particulars.

The Kellys are represented by Mulvey & McBrady, and Sergt. Barton by City Counsel Fullerton and the rest of the City Hall lawyers, with the exception of Mr. Caswell. Mr. Archabold has no counsel.

The Butcher Takes Action.

There is one thing that Knox College students are bound to have, and that is good meat. S. Rosenberg, butcher, 485 Spadina-avenue, had a contract with Steward Johnstone of the college to supply him with beef. The students kicked on the quality of the goods, and Johnstone refused to accept any more from Rosenberg. Rosenberg is suing for $200 damages for breach of contract in the County Court. Mrs. McClelland, who was the cook, said that the students complained of the meat. The case was not concluded.

"Oh, Let It be Soon!"

London, Sept. 23.—People waited eleven hours to gain admission to the Lyceum last night to see Sir Henry Irving's production of "Cymbeline." When Sir Henry at the close announced that the next piece would be "Richard III.," a man in the gallery replied: "Let it be soon." This indicates the popular verdict on "Cymbeline."

They Talk With Ghosts.

The first Spiritualist Church of Toronto was organized Tuesday evening. This congregation is a successor to one which used to meet some four years ago in Shaftesbury Hall. Mr. John Henderson is president and the officials are nearly all women.
