Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary of the Navy has issued the following statement today:

"The navy department has received despatches stating that the Finnish steamer Finland was torpedoed while returning from foreign waters. The damage to the ship was slight and she returned to port under her own steam. The Finland was the second transport to be attacked while en route to Europe. The Finland was torpedoed and sunk with the loss of 41 lives.

The Finland is a 12,700-ton steamer owned by the Finnish government and was formerly a Red Star liner, and was built by Cramp in Philadelphia in 1902. She is 500 feet long.

Auer Said to Be Flourishing
Firearms in Frontenac County
Kingston, Nov. 1.—A complaint will be lodged with Justice of the Peace George Hunter today that Alexander Auer, recently released from the penitentiary after serving a week on a two-year sentence for his utterance in Toronto on conspiracy, was out in the northern section of Frontenac County and that he was flourishing firearms.

A county constable made the report; and in view of the fact that Auer's conviction was quashed by Justice Hunter because of his buyers, who dealt with him by the military authorities. Mr. Hunter has referred this last charge against Auer to the military authorities.

FIRST AMERICAN UNIT GETS OUT OF TRENCHES

Relief Accomplished Successfully and the Sammies Are Now Enjoying a Rest.

With the American Armies in France, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press).—The first battalions of Americans in the trenches have been relieved by others. Relief, which is considered one of the critical periods, when the enemy's shelling the approaches to the positions may inflict heavy damage, was accomplished successfully. Apparently the enemy was not aware of what was going on.

With the men back in billets it is now permitted to mention for the first time that the casualties were negligible. In fact, more men are suffering from trench foot than with wounds.

From a military standpoint the experience gained by the Americans is considered of a very high value in the training of contingents which are yet to arrive on the French soil. It was a hard, wet, mud-caked body of men that returned to billets. The men had only two clear days while in the trenches. They were mud from their hats to their shoes. Before anything else they required a bath, first with gasoline and then with water.

Today the sun was shining brightly and the returned soldiers spent most of the time sunning themselves and their belongings. Some of the soldiers in this section of France are covered with blankets, parts of uniforms and equipment. Clouds of red dust arose in these places when the men started to brush. Tonight the returned battalions are clean and ready to go back again.

CAN'T SEND A JAP. ARMY TO EUROPEAN THEATRE

But the Land of The Mikado Is Doing Its Utmost for the Cause of the Entente.

A Pacific Port, Nov. 1.—Baron Tanaka Megata, head of the Japanese financial commission that has arrived here, said today it was impossible for Japan to send an army to the allies on the European battle-front.

"In the face of physical impossibility, Japan should be forthright enough to make a superhuman effort to send troops, and if she speedily became a large ally, the world would then protect the Orient if Germany remained undefeated."

"We have sent no troops to Europe," he said, "but we have sent our navy to the aid of the allies in the Indian Ocean, and our merchant marine is largely at the disposal of the allies. Japanese ships do practically all of the carrying between Asia and Europe."

Baron Megata said that the great distance and the condition of the trans-Siberia railroad stood in the way of sending troops to Europe, and once sent there they could not be supplied.

USE MUCH SUGAR TO MAKE ALCOHOL

Distilleries Cause Extensive Waste of Much-Needed Commodity.

CHEAPER IN KENTUCKY

Only Small Percentage of Products Goes Into Munitions.

Special to The Toronto World.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Using sugar to make alcohol in Canada is a sheer economic waste, and needless destruction of much-needed food commodity," said a well-known sugar expert here today, commenting upon the article on sugar conservation in Wednesday's World.

"It would be interesting to know what part of the 25,000,000 pounds of sugar used in Canadian distilleries last year for the manufacture of alcohol went into the production of munitions," he continued.

"It is safe to say that only a comparatively small percentage was so used, the rest going into commodities for which there is no urgent necessity and which are of far less importance than keeping the supply of sugar normal and at a reasonable price."

With sugar selling at the price it does today and with the crying necessity for an increased supply in practically all the countries now fighting on the side of the allies, it is little short of a crime that sugar should be devoted to the production of alcohol. Inquiry will show and experience has already demonstrated that alcohol can be produced in the corn belt of Kentucky and laid down in Canada at one-fourth what it costs to produce it from sugar in this country.

The government should at once take steps to curtail if not to prohibit altogether the use of sugar for alcoholic production in this country."

This expert further said that no material reduction in the price of sugar can be looked for in Canada unless the government takes action along the lines suggested.

HUNS FAIL TO LAY LONDON IN RUINS

new air defences which, with the guns of the city, would have enabled the enemy and broke up his squadrons so that at most only three machines were able to cross the metropolis, where they dropped a few bombs.

According to the official report the raiders came in seven groups of three or four each, while other aircraft individually attacked other localities. Viscount French, commander-in-chief of the home defences, in his report, however, says that individuals were dealt with.

Before the guns broke out over London, detonations were heard a long way off and in the firing, periods during which it was felt that the raid had come to an end, but it only meant that one raid had been driven off and that a few more were to come.

Boys Scouts sounded "All clear" on their bugles.

JAPAN DOES SHARE IN PROSECUTING WAR

Five Hundred and Fifty Million Dollars Loaned Allies.

A Pacific Port, Nov. 1.—Japan to date has loaned the allies $500,000,000 and has "done her part in the war—a part that is great in its significance."

Baron Tanaka Megata, head of a special Japanese finance committee to the United States, said at a luncheon given the commission today by the chamber of commerce.

"In matters of economy and finance Japan has been supplying much to help the allies," he said.

"The sum loaned them considerably exceeds the specie which my country has obtained since the beginning of the war."

The commission's visit to the country, the Baron said, was with a view to expanding economic and financial connections between the United States and Japan.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

Both Were Soldiers.

Rez McDougall, of the company that will support Miss Ann Murdock in "The Three Bears" at the Princess Theatre next week, is one of the first of the English actors in America who offered his services to his country after the war broke out. Mr. McDougall returned to his home in England during the summer of 1914, and in September of that year he enlisted in an infantry regiment as a private. In December, 1914, he got his commission, and just a year later, in December, 1915, he was invalided and received an honorable discharge. Jerome Patrick of the same company, entered the officers' training camp at the University of Toronto in May last and remained there all summer until the end of August, when an attack of inflammatory rheumatism incapacitated him for service and he was given his honorable discharge.

"Her Soldier Boy"
Next Monday evening Clifton Crawford will make his bow to patrons of the Royal Alexandra Theatre as "Ted" McLane, a Canadian war correspondent on the Belgian battle front, the name of the piece in which he will appear being "Her Soldier Boy."

This military musical comedy was a hit of the New York season of 1916-17, and ran at the Astor Theatre for upwards of a year. Messrs. Shubert are sending Clifton Crawford and a company to Toronto for a week's stay at the Royal Alexandra, and the present indications point to a fine, artistic and financial success.

Ysaye at Massey Hall.
Seats are now on sale for the recital to be given by Eugene Ysaye, the Belgian violinist, at Massey Hall on Wednesday, November 7. Probably the celebrated musician will never be heard to greater advantage than on this occasion, and the reception which will be given by the music-lovers of Toronto will no doubt be one of the most outstanding he has yet been given.

Eugene Ysaye stands alone among the world's famous artists. He has created his own place and maintained a standard which is an inspiration to the younger artists of the day.

The London Belles.
Little in the way of fast moving, popular entertainment has been overlooked in the production local lovers of burlesque will be offered next week when "Rose Sydel's London Belles" appear at the Gaiety. Everything in the production is new, from jokes thru to the scenery, and no effort has been spared to see to it that the racy atmosphere of the show is not permitted to be anywhere along.

At the top is the unusually clever trio, Geo. F. Hayes, Ted Burns and Kate Pullman. Thirty pretty girls pose as living models in a reproduction of a million-dollar painting.

"American Burlesquers."
Supported by a cast that has every actor and actress of exceptional worth, Harry (Watch the Slide) Welsh comes to the Strand Theatre next week as principal comedian with Hugh Bernard, "American Burlesquers."

Mr. Welsh this season has a new vehicle in which to display his energetic talent, and he claims it to be the funniest he has ever had with. Fifteen of the latest song hits are included in the performance, and there are several numbers written especially to fit particular situations.

Maie Marsh Coming to Regent.
This week's picture at the Regent Theatre has attracted considerable attention, and is full of revelations on the Mormon life as it was in pioneer days. Next week a Goldenwyn story of unusual merit will be shown. It is "Susanne Alley," built especially for Maie Marsh. It is one of the most beautiful productions ever photographed. In addition, William S. Hart will be seen in a western drama, "Dakota Dan."

At the Strand.
Ethel Barrymore gives a very characteristic impersonation of a lady sympathetic role in "The Lifted Veil," the fine Metro production in which she is seen at the Strand Theatre during the latter half of the week. The plot centres around the question of how much of her past a woman, whose past may not really be in her mind, should tell her husband, and whether a man ever wholly forgives a sin of a certain kind in the woman he loves.

The Camera's Joy.
Cute and winsome Rosie Quinn, leader of the beauty brigade in "The Passing Show of 1917," which arrives at the Royal Alexandra Theatre for the week of Nov. 12, with the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, has the distinction of being the most photographed female player of the contemporary stage. In the few seasons she has been in the elaborate Winter Garden entertainments she has been photographed in no less than some 2,700 individual and distinct poses. Many of this host of studies in portraiture have won prizes at camera exhibitions throughout the world, and some examples of Rosie's likeness have been used to advertise many different kinds of articles.

A SIMPLE CHRISTMAS PRESENT.
Dainty Handkerchiefs Can Be Made at Minimum Cost.

The simpler our Christmas presents are this year, and the least expensive, the more suitable they will be. Of course we have spent most of what we have to give in sending our Christmas boxes overseas; they must have them there if everyone here goes without. Isn't that so, girls?

If you are going to make some little remembrance for our home friends a tiny handkerchief, such as is a fad just now, will do nicely for your best girl chum. Make it this way: Buy a small piece of handkerchief linen, cut it which you can cut several handkerchiefs. Draw the threads to cut them by, that the edges may be true and straight. Or if you don't like the plain hemming roll the hem and go over it with cross-stitch in white or a colored thread. Then for further decoration, if you have cross-stitched the hem in color, run three lines a good inch above the hem, and perhaps a quarter of an inch apart, in tiny stitches in the same color as the cross-stitching. Use a different shade, or a different color even, in each line. Then if you like an initial very small, indeed, as a worked-in one corner. An all-white handkerchief is really done in this way, and of course if colors are employed, use embroidery threads or mercerized cottons or silks that are washable should be used. If you are a very busy girl, you might work the very narrowest edge possible all round the handkerchief, not sewing it on but working directly in the material, with very fine hook and thread.

The actual earnings of women workers in Great Britain are considerably above the $4.87 minimum.

PLAN TO SECURE CARS FROM UNITED STATES

Canadian Railways Want Twenty Thousand Sent Back to Dominion.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—One of the first things which the Canadian Railway Association for National Defence will undertake is to recover more than 20,000 Canadian freight cars that are on American railways, this number being in excess of the number of American freight cars on Canadian railways. The association claims that if the "lost" cars are obtained the freight shortage in this country will be relieved.

Thousands of tons of freight is delayed by the habitual underloading of freight cars, so the association is starting an educational campaign to have shippers fully load cars and add about 25 per cent. to the freight cars available for service.

QUEBEC BATTALIONS CONTINUE RECRUITING

Montreal, Nov. 1.—The 2nd Battalion, the French-Canadian reinforcing unit, under Lieut.-Col. Daly-Gingras, moved into the Peel street barracks here today with seven officers and 77 men. The First Depot Battalion, 1st Quebec reinforced, now has a strength of 19 officers and 558 men after all volunteers have been sent overseas as reinforcing draft. Registrations still continue light in military district No. 4. In Montreal the claims for exemption now total 10,481, while 564 have reported for service.
