ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 16, 1905.

PROFITLESS DISCUSSION.

The discussion in parliament yesterday on the separate school bill was interesting, but inconclusive. It was the close fence of masters of debate, working an advantage without disclosing their own position. Sir Wilfrid was non-committal, and Mr. Jordan played a waiting game. In the meantime, petitions for and against the separate school clause continue to pour in, and there are still in the situation the elements of an extremely bitter controversy. The extreme opponents of separate schools seek the entire elimination of that clause from the bill, and the agitation is spreading. The most conspicuous fact on the part of the leaders, however, is that they are not prepared to accept a compromise, and the effects of which would be far-reaching. It may be hoped that as little further delay as possible will occur before the country hears the result of the policy of the government is to be in regard to the controversial clause of the bill.

CIVIC CONTRACT.

Mayor Carter Harrison of Chicago declares as a result of experience in his city that civic work is better done by day labor than by the contract system. Opinions differ a good deal on this point, but there is a great deal of force in what Chicago mayor says. We quote:

A large proportion of municipal corruption is directly attributable, next to the method of performing important municipal work by the contract system, and, second, to the giving of control of public utilities to private hands. During the contract system, public works, both great and small, is given promiscuously to the lowest bidder, without any regard to the quality of the work, and the result is a vast difference between theory and practice. The result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder.

The bidder, in receiving the contract so readily and by such a method, is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder.

The bidder, in receiving the contract so readily and by such a method, is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder.

The bidder, in receiving the contract so readily and by such a method, is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder, and the result is that the lowest bidder is not the best bidder.

NEWS FROM NORTH END

A North End Man's Woes. A north end man is looking for his wife. Incidentally he is also looking for his soul.

People in that section of the city are considerably agitated over a family affair which promises to create a small sensation. The head of the house in question is employed in the lumber woods, and after a prolonged absence, returned home yesterday, confidently expecting to find a hot supper awaiting him.

It is understood that the relations between the now separated couple have been anything but happy. Those who are best informed, are not inclined to discuss the matter, but, it is freely stated that men who board at the house have also disappeared.

At Monday evening's meeting, Mayor White will preside. On Thursday, Commissioner Coombs will hold an officers' meeting, and will leave on the C. P. R. that evening for the west.

Advertising Suggestions FOR MERCHANTS. Writing the Ad.

"Who am I talking to?" asks the wise advertiser when he puts an ad. "I am talking to the public likely to buy my goods. I must speak to them in their own language, and must place myself in their atmosphere when I write an ad."

The answer is right but it is a hard matter to get out of one's own atmosphere. It is not enough to say your goods are best. Any one can say as much. This does not tell everything about the article advertised. The things the prospective customer would ask to know before she buys the goods.

Anticipate the thoughts of a possible buyer, bring out all the good points of the article, describe it fully in the ad, omit nothing which you think would create a desire to buy. Make your ad a word picture, and the price, and if the price is low, give a truthful reason for the low price.

Then place the ad in the Evening Times, the paper that everybody reads, and it will be read by everybody. The ad will be read by everybody, and it will be read by everybody.

Police Reports. The police removed a bill board from the head of King Street, and took it to the central police station. The police report a dangerous hole in the sidewalk, in front of No. 248 Main Street, north end.

Tonight will be the last bad night at the Queen's rink, this season. The ice is in good condition, and no doubt a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity for a glide on the steel blades.

The South Africa steamship will sail this morning for Cape Town with a full cargo.

Minor Notes. A number of north end anglers tried their luck on the Kennebecasis yesterday. Among the party were Charles W. Holder, Wilbur Mahoney, and Wm. Holder. Mr. Higgins succeeded in landing four dozen good sized snags. The other members of the party also succeeded in landing a goodly number of the fishy tribe.

The stirring drama, "Ireland as It Is," will be presented at St. Peter's Hall, tomorrow evening. Alexandra Temple of Honor will celebrate their thirty-fifth anniversary this evening. A brilliant musical programme, including a minstrel circle will be carried out, and a number of addresses given, among others being a brief history of the temple by J. B. Eagles. The entertainment is being taken in hand by the junior members of the temple.

Herbert Roberts, wharf builder, who for the past fortnight has been confined to his home with la grippe, was out yesterday.

Fred Dunlop, of the employ of D. D. Glasier & Sons, left for Fredericton last night.

A MOLASSES CASE. In the master of Lorenzo G. Crosby, claimant, and His Majesty, the King, respondent, R. O. Stockton has been appointed for the purpose of taking the examination for the discovery of the above named claimant, and has appointed Friday, the 17th inst. at 2:30 o'clock, as the day to take such examination.

The matter under inquiry, is a breach of the custom's regulations.

WILL ARRIVE ON SATURDAY.

Commissioner Coombs Coming—Mayor White to Preside at Meeting.

Commissioner Coombs was to leave Louisburg this morning for Halifax. Tomorrow he will interview Premier Murray of the Nova Scotia government.

On Sunday he will conduct services at York Theatre, at 11 a. m., and 8 and 7 p. m.

On Monday evening's meeting, Mayor White will preside. On Thursday, Commissioner Coombs will hold an officers' meeting, and will leave on the C. P. R. that evening for the west.

OBITUARY. James Davis.

James Davis, one of St. John's oldest printers, and who had been connected with the Daily Telegraph since its establishment thirty-five years ago, died last night at his home on White Street.

Mr. Davis suffered from a shock of paralysis on Monday, which caused his death.

Until last Saturday, though enfeebled, he kept his post as day foreman in the composing room, and his last days were marked by the same industry which had carried him through his sixty years of newspaper life.

Mr. Davis was a practical printer, having passed through all the stages of the business.

About sixty years ago, he served in the old Morning News office, and worked his way up, until he was appointed foreman of the composing room. On the resignation of the late George E. Fenty from the partnership, he became one of the owners, the firm being known as Willis, Davis and Smith.

Mr. Davis remained with the News until 1870, when he accepted a position as compositor with the Daily Telegraph. He was soon promoted to night foreman, and he kept this position until five years ago, when he was made day foreman.

In this position, Mr. Davis worked until Saturday afternoon. On Monday he was stricken with paralysis, and he passed his last hours in a peaceful sleep.

He was a quiet, industrious man, and was respected by all who knew him.

The news of his death last night, brought many expressions of regret from the Telegraph employees, some of whom had been associated with him through many years of his newspaper career. He was 76 years of age, and leaves two sons—William and Nelson Davis, of St. John, and two daughters—Mrs. E. I. Grant, of Woodstock, and Miss Lily Davis of this city.

Mrs. Charlotte Patriquin. Mrs. Charlotte Patriquin, wife of Archibald Patriquin, died at her home at Gloucester on March 13th. She is survived by her husband, two sons and three daughters, and was 55 years of age.

Joseph Paxton. Joseph Paxton, of Oak Grove, died on Monday March 13th, at his home in Gloucester, after a protracted illness. He had been ill with Bright's disease, and was 72 years of age.

He was a native of Oxford (Eng.), and received his education there, and was for many years a member of the Gloucester branch of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons.

Mrs. Mary A. Marvin. The many friends of Mrs. Mary A. Marvin, will hear with regret of her death which took place at Sussex Street, on Monday last.

She was the widow of the late John Marvin, and is survived by her aged mother, seven sisters and two brothers. The funeral will take place from her late residence, on Friday next, at two o'clock. The burial service will be conducted by Rev. W. Gilland, pastor of St. John's reformed Episcopal church, and interment will take place in Sussex Corner Cemetery.

GRAND JURY WANT CHANGES.

services of a man. With this explanation you will understand that the patrol force for the whole City including the worst side does not average more than 25 men. Two of these are on duty entirely in Carleton, leaving 23 men to be divided between day and night duty in the north end, and City proper—in our opinion, an inadequate number.

The City proper is divided into seven patrol beats, the north end into four, and the City proper into three. The size of these beats would say that number four beat in the City proper is bounded by Waterloo and Union streets, and is all the district between these two streets and Courtney Bay.

Smallest of the beats could not be even walked over in one hour. If the full complement of thirty men are on hand, twelve are detailed for day duty and eighteen for night duty. The method of night duty is that up to 10 p. m., the men patrol singly; after 10 o'clock as far as possible, they patrol in pairs.

In the middle of the night, when the night patrol begins, each man is entitled to one hour for lunch at the police station, and the night patrol is not commenced until 11 o'clock, remaining until one o'clock, and then until two o'clock, and then until three o'clock, and then until four o'clock, and then until five o'clock, and then until six o'clock, and then until seven o'clock, and then until
