TIMES-IMPERIAL CONTEST WINNERS

Children Who Were Successful in the Misspelt Word Competition of Last Thursday.

The Imperial's misspelt word contest in connection with the first chapter of the new serial "White Eagle," which appeared in Thursday night's Times, resulted as follows:

The misspelt word was "buffalos" (spelt "buffalos" instead of "buffaloes"). A great many thought it was "modeller," but as an authoritative dictionary also gives the word as printed in the paper this cannot rightfully be allowed. Others thought "councillors" was the word, but that, too, was rightly spelt in the circumstances. The only other word wrongly spelt in the whole chapter was the name "Stanford" for Stanton, a man's name. So the judges decided to give prizes for this, too, although it was a printer's mistake.

The prize-winners therefore are as follows:

Buffalos—Gladys Logue, 142 Rockland road; Charles Campbell, 104 King street; West; Phyllis Dunlop, 73 Orange street; Marley, Marley, 43 Horsfield street; Mary Morrissey, 34 Golding street.

Stanford—Stewart Noble, Stanley street; John Lawlor, 100 Pitt street; Gladys Fitzpatrick, 142 Carmarthen street.

Some of the prize-winners received their money from the theatre at the Saturday matinee; the others are to receive them upon identification at the office of the theatre.

There were hundreds of contestants in this merry little Times-Imperial contest and it showed that the younger generations in St. John are quite keen spellers. Some tripped up the author of the new story on grammar, others picked flaws in his syntax, verbs, etc. The judges, in examining the three columns of printed matter, were singularly pleased with the "third-degree" examination to which the children subjected the fictionist and, for that matter, the printers and proof-readers.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

GLORIA SWANSON IMPERIAL TONIGHT

Gloria Swanson, screen favorite, stands as a typical example of the fact that it is really only hard, conscientious work, coupled with genuine merit, which makes a star. To these attributes she is able to add that of a winsome beauty. Her meritorious screen performances are numerous, but to quote just a few of them will assure people that her latest picture, "Her Husband's Trademark," at the Imperial today, is fully and faithfully styled her greatest to date. Remember Cecil B. DeMille's "For Better, For Worse," "Male and Female," "Why Change Your Wife?" and "Something to Think About?" Remember when she was elevated to stardom and gave the film world "The Great Moment," to be followed not so very many moments later by "Under the Lash," a picture which delivered its message with a snap and lastings of the whip in its title? Remember her most really enjoyable portrayal of a deserted wife in that whimsical satire on the "infernal" triangle, "Don't Tell Everything?" And, remembering all of these things one will get a very pronounced idea of what one may expect from her latest and greatest, "Her Husband's Trademark," now at the Imperial.

PLANS OF KETEPEC-MORNA OUTING ASSOCIATION

The Summer association along the line of railway and river are now at a point of full activity. The youngest of these organizations is the Ketepec-Morna Outing Association which has as an adjutant Belmont, nearby. For some days past the president and his staff have been completing arrangements along with a large committee of ladies, for their opening affair in a few days. This will be the association's second get-together and after the 1922 celebration, work upon the new pavilion and grounds will commence. Last year the K-M. O. A. purchased the Aberley house at the bend in the road at Ketepec, foot of Clark's hill, which is being used in its original state up to the present. However, the plans are to merge the large rooms into a fine dancing floor, to re-roof the structure, erect a 16-foot veranda around it and then modernize and renovate and prettify the whole big house. Sporting grounds, such as tennis court, lawn for bowling, etc., will be laid out on the property and numerous other improvements made. Before fall it is expected the summering pleasure plant will be about completed.

MORE NOTED SWIMMERS

Frank White received a telegram this morning from Joe Moore at New York, saying that Briscoe and Boker would be here to take part in the big swimming meet at Lily Lake on July 15. Briscoe is junior national diving champion and Boker is metropolitan national champion.

SATURDAY IN PARLIAMENT

Query Relative to Hon. F. B. Carvell's Position.

Civil Service Bonus Arrangements are Announced—The Senate and Private Liquor Importation Into B. C.

(Canadian Press)

Ottawa, June 26—Today in the course of the report of the special committee on railway transportation will be discussed.

On Saturday in the commons, Hon. Arthur Meighen asked whether the government had reached a definite decision with regard to the demand for the removal of Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the railway commission. The premier intimated that the matter was still under consideration.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of interior, said that application for direct relief for the Astinbone river flood sufferers would have to come through the Manitoba government.

Mr. Stewart also said that he had been informed that no Chinese had been landed at Vancouver, but that 300 were on board ship seeking entrance to Canada.

Civil Service.

Supplementary estimates were considered in committee. An item of $5,000,000 to provide for payment of bonus to civil servants was carried. This item drew protest from the Ottawa and Carleton county members against the reduction of the bonus.

The prime minister said that a change had been made from the original bonus proposals. Employees with dependents, drawing $500 and under, would continue to receive the bonus; those between $1,000 and $1,500 would receive two-thirds of the bonus of last year; between $1,500 and $2,400, one-third, and employees receiving $1,500 and over who were unmarried and without dependents would receive one-half of last year's bonus.

All the supplementary estimates were disposed of.

An item of $175,000 for the purchase of a British Columbia house in London was explained on the premier that the premier of British Columbia has opened negotiations for the sale of this property to the federal government. The $175,000, Mr. King said, would provide for the cost of the preliminary arrangement in connection with the sale.

Third reading was given a bill ratifying a treaty of peace with Hungary and Turkey.

By a vote of 37 to 31, the senate decided in favour of maintaining the status quo in British Columbia and permitting private individuals to import liquor into that province.

ST. JOHN'S FIRST BARGAIN BASEMENT A BIG SUCCESS

The first Bargain Basement to be placed in St. John has now been under way for about three weeks and the results have been far better than the most optimistic predictions. It was generally conceded that St. John would welcome the Bargain Basement method of merchandising which has proved so successful in the larger progressive cities of the continent, but it was hardly thought that it would be such a huge and continued opening, however, such has been the case, as those who have visited the Oak Hall Bargain Basement are fully aware.

Of course there is a big reason for this, and that is the exceptionally fine quality of the goods. They are able to offer at such extremely low prices, and this is accomplished, first, by sending buyers direct to Montreal, Toronto, New York and other large centres, and procuring goods at the very lowest possible prices for quantity purchase and cash payments. Then these goods are marked at the very lowest margin of profit, cutting out all possible overhead expenses, such as making refunds on purchases, approval sales, charge accounts, and other items. Rent, of course, is negligible in a basement, and all these savings by Oak Hall are directly reflected in lower prices.

Oak Hall have been so successful so far with this venture, although less than a month since they started, that once more their buyer is away to New York and other places picking up new bargains and wires received from him lead Oak Hall to believe that new goods will now be arriving daily, and even better values. If that is possible, they have heretofore been offering. One should get the habit of visiting the Oak Hall Bargain Basement whenever shopping, as new bargains are continually being put out that represent big savings to the purchasers. 6-27.

ABOUT NORMAL

It was said at C. P. R. headquarters this morning that the train service in the district affected by the floods was practically normal today, and that trains would run through on their regular schedules from now on. Excellent progress in rebuilding the damaged road bed had been made over the week end and no further difficulty was expected to be experienced.

"Daddy carried no insurance—so I must for her"

THE letter printed below was received at our Winnipeg office some time ago.

"Sir:—Will you kindly tell me about your Endowment Policy? I have one girl, a year old to-morrow, and Daddy is amongst the missing. He carried no insurance, so I must—for her."

It tells a sad story, this letter—the story of a widow's needs and a mother's sacrifice. Widows do realize the value of life insurance.

You cannot afford to be without adequate life insurance protection, if you have anyone looking to you for support.

To-day—while you are insurable—use the coupon below to ask for a free copy of our interesting booklet "Her Way Out". It explains how you can easily provide a regular monthly income to care for your loved ones after you are gone.

EAST ST. JOHN S. S. CLOSING

The first closing exercises of the East St. John Sunday school took place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Through the kindness of H. B. Peck, the Plaza was placed at the disposal of the Misses McGrath, who were the organizers and teachers of the school. A programme of music and readings was given by the following girls and boys: Marion McCasgle, Walter Peterson, Mary Foley, Viola McCasgle, Joseph Barrett, Agnes and Mary Callaghan, Thos. Barrett, Laurence Beckwith, Anna Foley, Ray Carleton, Ralph Peterson, Muriel Beckwith and Dorothy Peterson.

Rev. C. P. Carleton had offered $5 in gold each to the girl and boy with best attendance. The contestants were Anna Foley, Muriel Beckwith, Dorothy Peterson, Joseph Barrett, Lawrence Beckwith, Walter and Kenneth Peterson. The prizes were divided among these, and Laurence Beckwith and little Dorothy Peterson won prizes for catechism.

A very pleasing feature of the programme was the singing under the training of Miss H. T. McGrath. The children, while training only a few months, besides several hymns, had mastered the Benediction music. After presenting the prizes Father Carleton gave a very interesting instruction to the mothers and children, and also heartily thanked the Misses McGrath for starting so good and much needed work in East St. John. The children presented flowers to their teachers.

PAGING GUESTS BY RADIO
TRIED IN A BOSTON HOTEL

Boston, Mass., June 26—This city boasts paging by radio in one of its first class hotels. The plan is operating most successfully at the Hotel Essex, near the South station.

Manager McCarthy of the Essex declares that the radio paging system is a great help in giving more efficient service. There is no longer a "flock" of holly boys running through the main dining room shouting names of various guests wanted at the telephone desk. Instead, the soft but distinct voice of the telephone operator is sent out to various parts of the hotel through devices from the telephone switchboard.

"Mr. Brown is wanted on the telephone—Mr. Brown on the telephone," calls the operator into a transmitter beside her switchboard, and out in the hotel her tones are carried by amplifying apparatus, causing Mr. Brown to drop his knife and fork at once and hurry to the telephone desk.
