A Step Ahead In Local Ship-building

LOCAL NEWS

BOSTON TRAIN VERY LATE
The Boston train was nearly three hours late in arriving here today, due to excessively heavy travel. This train is running from ten to twelve cars every day now, mostly summer home-comings of New England people.

A COMPLAINT.
Autoists who travel the Red Head road report that some teamsters hauling gravel are proving "road hogs," and an accident is likely. They say this matter can be easily rectified by a visit by the county policeman.

INDIAN TOWN WHARF REPAIRS
Repairs to the face of the city wharf, Indian town, are proceeding rapidly under Engineer Hare's direction. Roberts Brothers' pile driver is at work placing heavy supporting timbers into the bottom of the river, and when this is completed the filling in and wharf structural work will be commenced.

"GRINDING" MOVIES AT THE FRONT
Charlie Chase, son of Edward Chase, of the City Hall staff of collectors, who has been at the front for several years, with a divisional ammunition column, writes home that he is running a moving picture machine for the Y. M. C. A. people back of the lines. Charlie learned to crank the movies at the old Nickel, Carleton street.

STREET WORK.
The work of laying the asphalt in Main street as far as Adelaide street will be completed in about two days. Commencing at the intersection of the two streets, the work had taken a little longer than he expected, he had done more than first decided on. When this work is completed, Commissioner Fisher expects to be able to do some work in Union and Victoria streets. In Victoria street there will be quite a lot of grading to do.

SHOULD BE GOOD TIME.
The boys of the 8th Siege Battery are planning on holding one of the finest field days on Saturday afternoon on their grounds, Red Head. The young ladies of Red Head have kindly offered to help. A dancing pavilion is being erected and a big time is anticipated. The military League, ice cream, fruit and candy are to be served on the grounds.

POLICE COURT.
Nelson Nichols, charged with the theft of a horse and vehicle, the property of Short's Livery Stable, was before Magistrate Ritchie this morning, and was again remanded. The case will come up on Friday, when, unless all evidence is produced, the magistrate said the man would be released.
Two men charged with being drunk were fined $8, the court reminding them that they were fined a fine of $200 for drinking in public.

HINT TO AUTOISTS.
Commissioner Fisher, speaking this morning of the new piece of road laid by the city on the southern side of Marsh road, said that as it is only water-bound macadam, it will not stand the speeding of automobiles. He yet there has not been any oil put on the stretch and until this is done the commissioner said the speed limit of twelve miles an hour would have to do the auto owners. He added that if the drivers disregard this warning he intended to take steps to force them to regard it.

NEW MINISTER AT BROOKVILLE.
Rev. J. B. Gough, recently appointed by the Methodist conference to the pastorate at Brookville, near the city, preached his commencement sermon on Sunday to a large congregation of residents and summer cottagers. The music was especially fine for a rural church. The choir was under the direction of Organist H. G. S. Adams. Brookville boasts some excellent voices, trained choristers by reason of recent addition to its all-the-year-round residents from the city. Those in the choir are Misses Gertrude and Florence Adams, Myrtle Downey, Lucy Barton, Walter Drake, James Garrett and others.

METHODIST PICNIC.
The Sunday school of Exmouth and Zion Methodist churches amalgamated in an outing to Crystal Beach on the river today, although the threatening clouds and occasional showers marred the fun considerably. The steamer D. J. Purdy took the morning party and the Majestic the afternoon crowd. E. E. Thomas, superintendent of Exmouth street Sunday school, and F. S. Purdy of Zion, superintended the picnic. The boys' scouts of Exmouth street patrol attended in a body under lead of Ernest Hopkins. Baskets were taken by everybody with due regard to food restrictions—no unnecessary delicacies—and a programme of sports had been planned for the afternoon.

DOGS KILL HIS SHEEP AND LAMBS

Michael Owens, Loch Lomond Road, Suffers Heavily—Gets Dog in Trap

If sheep-raising is to be a success in New Brunswick the dogs must be eliminated.

Michael Owens, six miles out the Loch Lomond road, had forty sheep and twenty-five lambs in his pasture. Last Friday night he went out and found thirteen lambs and twelve sheep missing. On searching he found the carcasses of several of them scattered about the pasture.

Mr. Owens went home and got a trap and set it. Next morning there was a dog in the trap. He estimates his loss at $900, and is so discouraged that he is offering the balance of his flock for sale.

New Saker Vessel Auxiliary Craft

Four Master With 500 Horse Power Engine—Extension of the Revived Industry at This Port

D. H. Saker, owner of the four-master schooner, Donfontein, recently launched at the Warner mill yards, Strait Shore, has returned after an American jaunt of several weeks. He makes a very interesting announcement concerning the new and larger craft which is now being put in frame.

The new vessel is to be a steam auxiliary craft, the first of its type to be built in the maritime provinces. She will be a four-master of exceptional size with engine of 500 horse power. Thus will St. John take another step forward in marine construction, the advent of large-type combustion steam and sailing craft.

Mr. Saker says the boiler for the new boat is to be purchased in the maritime provinces and the engine is now on the way from the west. There will be much additional fittings and accessories to be purchased in the local market because of this new pattern vessel.
The French government is having fifty of this steam-and-sail type of vessel built for it by Pacific coast yards, but the western ships are to be five-masters. It is considered that auxiliary craft of the four and five-master design will be perhaps the most useful kind of ocean transport in the present shipping emergency and for the reconstruction period in Europe, at least obviously more useful than the ordinary sailing vessels.

From the local standpoint this new development is most encouraging news, as it points to an extension of the ship-building revival—an approach to the hoped for day of iron shipbuilding.

MISS M'KIEL WINS THE R.R.C.

Fairville Nursing Sister, in War Almost Since Start, to be Invested by King

Relatives in Fairville yesterday received word of a well deserved recognition of the services of Nursing Sister Theodora R. McKiel, who has been notified that she will be invested with the Royal Red Cross, the highest honor that can be conferred on a nurse. It is expected she will receive the coveted decoration in due course from the hands of H. M. the King.

Miss McKiel visited Canada on furlough last fall and spent some days in Fairville visiting her relatives. During that time she attracted a large gathering in the Church of Good Shepherd hall and later spoke at the provincial hospital under the auspices of Lancaster Red Cross.

The memory of the grim unforgotten nurse calmly expiring personally experiences of war and its terrors through which she had passed, as well as her act of devotion to her patients and her travels, of the tender care for wounded and dying, still remains a vivid recollection to many of her hearers.

Miss McKiel spent considerable time in Salonia and for her work there she was especially mentioned in despatches, word appearing in the local press while she was making the return journey to resume her duties. At present Miss McKiel is stationed in a hospital at Hastings, Sussex Co., England, but expects soon to be in France again.

She has been in war work almost from the outset of hostilities, going across about the time her brother sailed with the first contingent. He was killed in action.

Miss McKiel is being showered with congratulations by the hospital staff on the well merited recognition she has won and none join more heartily than friends and acquaintances in Fairville and St. John whose memory of her and her work is one of the bright spots in the murky picture of war time.

WAS BRITISH SOLDIER AND BORN IN INDIA

The late William A. Edleston, whose death occurred yesterday, had an interesting life history. He was a soldier's son, and was born in India over eighty years ago. He went as a boy home to England to attend a boys' school, and later returned himself to India as a soldier. He could tell interesting stories of life in barracks in India, and of voyages between that country and England. On one trip the ship on which he sailed called at St. Helena, and he had an opportunity to look over the place of Napoleon's exile. On receiving his discharge from the army Mr. Edleston came to St. John, and for forty years or more was in the employ of the late W. H. Hayward. For some years he kept a crockery store at Haymarket square, but failing health forced him to retire from active life. He became partially blind and almost totally deaf, but spent as much of his time as possible out of doors. He has lived for years with his son Fred, and while the latter was overseas the old gentleman was always waiting eagerly for news and for his son's return. He has been confined to his bed for a considerable time, and the end came peacefully, and without pain. The funeral took place this afternoon.

BURIED TODAY.
The funeral of William Ambrose Edleston took place this afternoon from his late residence, Princess street. Services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Sampson and interment was made in Cedar Hill.
The funeral of Gordon Berry took place this afternoon from his late residence, Magazine street. Interment was made in Greenwood.
