HEART ATTACKS.
SUDDEN death from heart disease is uncommon. This statement is made in the face of a popular conception that persons, suffering heart trouble, are likely to die at any moment.
This conception has been built up because sudden death is so spectacular that it makes good news, and newspapers "play up the story."
There are certain types of heart disease in which death may come very abruptly, but these form a very small group as compared with the total number of cardiac cripples.
As a rule heart patients, even when they do badly, carry their defect for many years, and in the end the changes are very slow and gradual.
Fainting spells are not always due to heart disease. There is a cardiac condition in which fainting is a prominent symptom. But this condition is rare.

Headaches, nausea, dizziness (in some cases), and fainting may possibly be caused from a weak heart, but the chances are that these are caused from some other disability.
About the only safe course for a person in doubt is to consult a reputable physician. His tests can tell if there is something wrong with the heart, and he can advise what to do to remedy the situation, if there be a remedy.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.
THE MARCH HARE WAKENS THE RAGGIES.

"Where are we going?" asked Nancy as the March Hare galloped along over the meadow toward the woods.
"I've got to start spring going," answered the Hare. "It's too silly the way things hold back and hold back unless someone comes along and gives them a push. I have to give several people pushes. First of all I have to get after Mister Tatters and the Raggies."
"What do they have to do with spring?" asked Nick. "I thought they lived under the ground."
"They do," answered the March Hare. "And that's all the more reason for their getting busy. Spring starts under the ground."
By and by they came to the place by the dog-wood tree where a cave-like place led straight down into the earth. Down this they went and by and by they came to a little wooden door.
"Knock," said the March Hare.
The Twins jumped out and knocked with all their might.
But nobody answered.
"Just as I thought," muttered the March Hare. "Everybody sound asleep. It's a good thing I came. Kick!"
So the Twins kicked.
"No," said the little ragged fairy fellow. "I told one of my men to set his alarm clock so he could wake extra early and attend to the snowdrops."
"Well, I'm glad of that," said the March Hare. "The snow-drops should have been out two weeks ago."
Called Mister Tatters to all the little ragged fairies around him. "Spring is here and the ice is gone. Then hurry back and help me to get the roots unpacked."
"Yes, sir," they cried as they all rolled out of bed and rushed for the door. "Farmer Greenway is digging his garden," said the March Hare, "and he'll be putting his seeds in before long. Mix plenty of red paint for the beets and radishes and yellow paint for the carrots," advised the March Hare.
"Never fear!" said Mister Tatters who was wide awake now. "We'll attend to everything. But it's a good thing you came, Mister Hare, or we would have slept all summer."

EFFECTIVE ENSEMBLE

The crepe de chine gown with a coat of wool exactly matching it in color is a new version of the ensemble costume that is most effective.
Excellent effects are gained this year by the use of color contrast. Bands of wool in three shades of brown, for instance, give much character to an outfit of natural colored kasha.

COVERT CLOTH POPULAR.

Covert cloth in the light shades makes delightful gowns frocks with a touch of white pique or a colored vest for trimming.

GOLD LACE PREFERRED.

Gold lace is very much preferred to the heavier gold cloth fabrics and brocades for evening gowns. It has richness and at the same time the light youthful feeling that is so much desired.

AFTERNOON FROCKS.

Beige colored chiffon makes charming afternoon frocks undecorated by any trimmings save godets or circular bouffes of self material.

BLACK STILL GOOD.

Black continues to be extremely smart for afternoon wear, with color relief introduced by costume jewelry.

The average length of life in the United States is now 55 years, an increase of 15 years since 1870.

Printed Roses On Silk

BLACK silk printed with large roses in natural colors makes this very graceful frock. The material is cut so that the roses appear on each of the two points on the skirt and on the side front. The sleeves are particularly lovely, being very loose and full at the armholes, but snug around the wrist.

Yesterday's Puzzle.

An Interlarded Proposal.

From an English book: "It was at the luncheon table that he proposed to me and he wasn't at all put out at the arrival of the waitress. 'You know, my dear girl,' he began, 'that I have grown very, very fond of you, we'll have something cold, waitress. Cold beef for two. I want you to be my wife. Yes, salad, please. You are quite indispensable to me. Baked, if you're sure they're mutton—otherwise mashed. You'd like potatoes wouldn't you Prissy? Now, darling, do say 'Yes' and make me the happiest man in the world. Hi, bring some Vienna rolls, waitress.'"

HEART TROUBLE

SHORTNESS OF BREATH

Mrs. Geo. E. Bowman, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I am writing you a few lines to let you know of my experience with Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Two years ago I became very poorly with my heart and nerve, and whenever I took the least little bit of exercise my heart would start to jump and flutter. I could not walk up-stairs without having to sit down and rest before I was half-way up, on account of my breath becoming so short.
I commenced taking
MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS
and in no time I felt a great improvement, and can now heartily recommend them to all those who are troubled with any affection of the heart."
