seem to have justly disgusted Mr. Ar thur Hawkes, one of Mr. Borden's most active supporters two years ago, as well as Mr. Cooper, the editor of the "Canadian Courier" and a life-long active Conservative. In a speech delivered in an Ontario bown a week ago, Mr. Hawkes referred to the matter in burning words:

I cannot tell you what I feel when I read and hear contemptuous references by men and newspapers to the position of Canada. Mr. Foster, Minister of Trade and hear contemptuous references by men and newspapers to the position of Canada. Mr. Foster, Minister of Trade and hear contemptuous references by men and newspapers to the position of Canada. Mr. Foster, Minister of Trade and because of Canada no conserve the wasted Canadian bone and Canadian blood and Canadian bone and Canadian blood and Canadian bone and Canadian blood and Canadian base to go into the naval defence of Canada. On that vital aspect of defence too many of our particles have become dumb since December, 1915. I think it is not unkind to say that the departure from that ambition has been as discertaing to the true spirit of nationality as if it had been the work of a Society for the Suppression of Canadian. You surely have arrived at the very negation of everything that

Society for the Suppression of Canadian Patriotism. You surely have arrived at the very negation of everything that is essential to true defence when you find people apparently not ashamed to lower this country before the world by belittling its capacity to defend itself. The latest sample of that I find in the Amherst Daily News, which says: "It takes men, big, brawny and brave, to go down to the sea in ships to fight she Empire's battles, and, tortunately our young Canadians are too busily engaged in Empire building to enlist in the nayy."

Winnipeg and Minneapolis prices.

Our Conservative friends show a pertinacity in their mendacity worthy of a better cause. One "splendida Mendax" which they have stuck to through thick and thin for some time past is that wheat prices in Winnipeg have been and are really higher than in Minneapolis, and hence there was a nothing to be gained by the opening up of the American market to the Western wheat grower. The fact of the matter is simply this; During the summer, when there was no wheat in the summer, when there was no wheat in the West to sell, the prices quoted in Winni-peg were higher than in Minneapolis. But such quotations were merely nominal, and it makes little difference whether for no actual transactions were involved pened, Minneapolis quotations were, a sual, above those of Winnipag. A few days ago Northern wheat of grades 1, 2 and 3 were quoted in Winnipeg respectively at 818, 808 and 788, while in Minneapolis the quotations of the same grade were respectively a mum 858, 832 and 80%; at maxin 861, 861 and 831; a very considerable difference. Besides, Conadian wheat is graded much more carefully than American wheat, and much of Canadian No. 2 Northern would sell as No. 1 in the American market, which makes the American prices all around about five cents per bushel better. Oats, barley and flax seed are also higher in the United States. All of which gives the reason why the west ern farmer is so anxious to send his grain tive quotation of Winnipeg's higher prices will continue to appear duly in the Tory press at certain stated intervals. - A Washington despatch says: "Heavy increase in the supply of lobeters this year, according to a report from the Bureau of Fisheries to Secretary Red-field of the Department of Commerce, is attributed by fishermen, and dealers to operations of the Fisheries Bureau in operations of the lobster. Reports show that there has been a heavy increase in the supply since the bureau devoted special attention to this work, particularly along the coast of Maine, where lobsters are being taken in greater with the work than ever hefers. From Roof. where lobsters are being taken in greater numbers than ever before. From Rock-land, Me., it is reported that from that port alone the average daily shipment has been twenty toms of lobsters during the months of April to September."

If you can imagine anything more craven than that you must be familiar with the depths of national despair. Its sting, its shame is the greater that it comes from the Premier's own Province, from a Province which sends thousands of its sons down into great waters, and that it was written in a town from whose heights you can see the roaring tides of Fandy fertilizing the intervales that touch the municipal boundary.

We can assure Mr. Hawkes, however, that the craven words of the Tory paper quoted are not representative of the spirit of the people of Nova Scotia, who have been builders and saliors of ships for a century and more, and whose salis have whitened in the sunlight of every clime and whose keels have ploughed every sea. Nova Scotia never has been and never will be lacking in "men, big, brawny and brave to go down to the sea in ships" and perform any duty which their country may demand of them.

arrest of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, the widow of the admiral, on the charge of having polaponed her husband.

The testimony given at the inquest was of a rather startling and sensational nature, and brought to light the skelston in the Eaton closet. It was stated that at the time when Admiral Raton's first wife was in her last illness, Mrs. Alneworth, an intimate friend of hers, was visiting her. Shortly before her death, Mrs. Eaton, feeling her end near, asked Mrs. Alneworth to look after the admiral after her death. Admiral Eaton was under the impression that Mrs. Alneworth was a widow at the time, and did not learn until after he had married her in accordance with the wish of his deceased wife, that she had a husband living and had obtained a divorce from him only a few days before her second marriage. Mrs. Alneworth Shaneworth was a great deal of friction between the Admiral and his wife's elder in the fine and Mrs. Taton there was a great deal of friction between the Admiral and his wife's elder daughter, who seems to have been the principal cause of trouble in the household. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton adopted a little boy, but the child died, and at that time Mrs. E ton's daughter created a sensation yby accusing the Admiral of having policoned the child. This charge was found to be untrue, however.

After the death of Rear-Admiral Eaton, a by accusing the Admiral chaving polaconed the child. This charge was found to be untrue, however.

After the death of Rear-Admiral Eaton, Mrs. June Alasworth Keyes made bitter attacks upon the character of the admiral, repeated the charge that he had polaconed his adopted child, and tried to create the impressjon that her stepfather had been a victim of a polaconing mania and had made life a burden to her and her mother. Her attacks did not have the desired effect, however, and Mrs. Eaton was indicated and committed to jail at Plymouth pending her trial. Although the prosecution has been extremely active in the case, scarcely anything definite is known concerning the proofs which will be offered for the guilt of the prisoner. It is not even known whether the authorities have ever succeeded in locating the source from which Mrs. Eston is supposed to have obtained the goldson. It is believed that no attempt will be made to use the incompt will be in the case of Mrs. Eaton:

This Unusual Warm October Weather

is the greatest and probably the last opportunity which Coal users will have this Autumn for getting in Coal supplies under practically Summer conditions. A cold snap cannot be very far off. The days are shortening up. Soon a part of our deliveries will have to be made after dark. The first cold days will find us deluged with orders, many of them from Customers who should be ordering now. Deliveries cannot then be made as promptly as at this time. Assist us and help yourselves to prompt and satisfactory delivery by ordering to-day.
