FOR FALL FAIRS.

The Latest Idea to Be Introduced at Whitby, Ontario,

Combining Clean Amusement with Practical Instruction for Children and Adults-To Interest People in the Pleasures of the Saddle.

Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Aug. 27 .- As the season of fall fairs draws near, directors of agricultural ocieties will be on the lokout for nev and attractive features to be added to the programme of events. A good many societies are making an earnest introduction of educational features, course have the services of expert judges, who will explain the reasons for their decisions in the ring, and give addresses on the best types of horses, cattle, sheep and swine. In this way the judging is made an educational eature instead of being merely an allotment of premiums by men who are often incompetent or biased in their judgment. The awarding of prizes at a fair is a comparatively unimportant matter as compared with the other considerations. What is really desirable is that fairs should be the dentity be expected in the near future. means of disseminating information and of fixing correct ideals in the he Shore Line the St. Croix river must minds of those who are producing be bridged at a point near Calais, and food-stuffs, and on them the prosperity this feature of the affair is not looked of Canada depends. But it is not intended to allow the amusement feature to overshadow in any way the educational part of the programme. Demonstrations of agicultural processes will be very much evidence. A model kitchen and dining room will be shown in operation with exhibitions of simple dishes and addresses on domestic economy. Desirable and undesirable types of fowls sirable and undesirable types of lowis will be shown, with lectures on the fattening of chickens for the British markets, and exhibitions of killing, plucking and packing for export.

The total value of farm stuff raised in this city last year was $615,562. The peculiar feature in the state agricultural report is explained by the vast area of land which lies in wards 22, 23 and 24 of mense amounts of garden truck and milk are sold in the city proper. The near proximity of the truck farmers to the markets enables them to supply fresh stuff and they obtain consequently the highest prices prevailing. Once Famous Soloist Sing- LETTERS AREing on King Square.

Few, if any, of the crowds which stand around King square these evenings and hear Mrs. Morgan, wife of the ago was one of the foremost soloists been or can be devised. There are of America. And yet this Mrs. Morgan, who now sings nightly at the meetings held by her husband, has commanded salaries running up into In the first place it would create the hundreds of dollars for one such solo as may now be heard on the square.

Mrs. Morgan is a daughter-in-law of
John W. Hutchinson, the sole surviving member of the far-famed Hutchinson family of singers. She has spent years in study, and previous to her marriage was one of the most popular soloists on the American concert and operatic stage. She toured the country for some years with the Hutchinson family and later accepted a highsalaried position as soprano in the Millard Avenue Baptist church at Chicago. Here she became acquainted with Mr. Morgan and was married. Almost ever since that time she has been going to and fro all over America giv-

From the standpoint of the employes the half holiday movement has been in every way a success. Not only has the holiday proved enjoyable, but strangely enough, the weather on every Saturday has been all that could be desired. On only one day was it at all otherwise than fair, and on this day it was not sufficiently disagreeable to interfere with any outings.

The attractions have been numerous and varied, and although the baseball season came to an abrupt end, the pleasure seekers had no difficulty in finding other amusement. All excursions have been well patronized, and the season as a whole has been easily the most enjoyable since the holiday, movement was first started. But on the side of the employers the same unanimity of opinion does not ants feel that the test process, there are a few who regretted having gone into the movement, but who, having signed the agreement, of course would not break it. Some of course would not break it. Some of these claim that their trade has been injured by the closing of their stores. and are firmly fixed in their resolve not to again enter into such a compact. In certain lines of business it may be that the trade is injured by the Saturday closing, but most houses have not oticed any loss of trade. Although this is true, it seems hardly probable that the Saturday holiday will be agreed to next year by as many merchants as have entered into it during the present season. Instead of this, it is altogether probable that a day other than Saturday will be chosen for the half holiday and that the employers themselves will control the moven There has been some talk of Monday being selected and this may eventually me about.
