hat last week's financial prices were rom 20 to 60 points below those re- orded in the boom of August, 1909. Not since the special congressional fections in this state and in Massa- husetts last spring, has Wall street antifeted such a lively interest in olitics as it did last week. The de- eat of Col. Roosevelt for the tempor ry chairmanship of the fourth repub- ican convention in this state, the weeping victory of the insurgents in alifornia and the many rumors of a reach between the expresident and the administration seemed to furnish such food for reflection. The outcome in California drew attention to the farriman stocks, whose representa tives have frequently been charge- rith considerable influence in the poli- ics of that state and some pressur- vas directed against both Union Paci- tic and Southern Pacific.
