MARCH MAGAZINES.

Doctor Henry A. Stimson's article in the Atlantic, The Small Business as a School of Manhood, treats the gradual elimination of small firms and independent employers by great trusts and corporations, which involves the loss to the nation of a class of independent, self-supporting business men, to the country's great injury....Forty Canadian teachers went to South Africa, and their experiences are commemorated in an article entitled, A Year in a Boer School, in the March number of the Canadian Magazine. Canada's treaty-making powers are termed inadequate, and Thomas Hodgins briefly explains why he agrees that it is time for a change. W. L. Grant points out where the teaching of history is weak, so far as our educational system is concerned. Added to these are three Canadian short stories, and the usual departments....In an article on Reading for children in the March Delineator, Mrs. Theodore W. Birney sums up the following "best books:" Gulliver's Travels, Alice in Wonderland, Hawthorne's Wonder Book, The Arabian Nights, The Water Babies, Tanglewood Tales, Tom Brown at Rugby, The Jungle Book, Aesop's Fables, Uncle Remus, Pilgrim's Progress, Robinson Crusoe, The Swiss family Robinson, and the Waverley Novels... People who feel an inclination, as most people do, to "read up" on Japan, Korea and Russia, and their relations and entanglements, will find in The Living Age for March 5, a very serviceable classified list, several pages long, of the freshest and most accessible books on these countries. The article on The Most Corrupt City in the World which The Living Age for February 20 reprints from The National Review, accords the doubtful distinction expressed in the title to Philadelphia and cites an abundance of evidence to justify it.
