

to go out fighting against the Hat Indians who have not injured you and are a Peace People. It is better for you to hunt near Home since you know what designs the French may have against you.

By the last Fleet that came from Great Britain to Boston Her Majesty sent some Troops to suit offensively against the Common Enemy and some War Ships whose speedily expected by which we may have some news therefore it will not be unwise for your Brethren to go far from home not knowing what occasion there may be to join our forces together

Your Brethren who have been in England have seen the Great Queen and her Court and not only informed them how vain and groundless the French boasting all along how our Great Queens army have again defeated all his forces, taken his towns and is at this time at war his Principal Town and Seat of Government. Her Majesty has sent them as a Pledge of her Protection as a Memorial to them of their fidelity and medal for each nation with her Royall Assigne on the one side, and the ^{just gained battle} ~~on the other~~ the other which such She desires may be kept in your respective Castles for ever. She has also sent her Picture on Silver twenty to each Nation to be given to the Chief Warriors to be worn about their necks as a token that they shall always be in a readiness to fight against the Common Enemy

The Sachins of the Five Nations ordered a live Bullock for each Nation besides Bread and other Provisions which they desire as they thought fit
