a scaffold, falling on my back on a stone pile. I was badly hurt, and narrowly escaped death. Plasters and liniments were applied, and I seemed to get somewhat better. But the ap parent improvement was short lived. My feet began to get unusually cold, and nothing that could be done would warm them. The trouble then spread to my legs, and from the waist down I was attacked with shooting pains flying along the nerves in thousands, and causing the most terrible torture for days and nights at a time. I could get no relief save from the injections of morphine. Six physicians treated me at different times, but apppeared only to faintly understand my trouble, and could do nothing for my relief. Some of the doctors declared my trouble was rheumatism, but two of them said it was a disease of the spinal cord, that the trouble would get worse and that sooner or later my arms would become affected. This prediction proved true. My left hand dropped at the wrist joint and hung dead and cold, and I had no more control of it than if the hand were not on me. Fly blisters and electricity were restored to without avail. My stomach was next attacked with a buining, aching, nauseating pain, causing the most distressing vomiting and I often thought I would not see morning. I have vomited almost continually for thirty-six hours, and nothing but morphine or chloroform could deaden the anguish I suffered. But worse trouble was in store for me. I lost control of my bowels and water, and my condition became most horrible, necessitating constantly the greatest care and watchfulness. I was now suffering from the top of my head to the

A. T. LITTLE, M.D.

About this time I was strongly urged to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and oh how I wish I had known of this great remedy years ago! What anguish and torture I would have been spared! Soon after beginning the use of Pink Pills I found myself improving. The pains left me and I was able to discontinue the use of the morphine. I regained control of both bowels and bladder and gradually a feeling of life returned to my legs and arms. I can now walk without the aid of either crutches or sticks and can take long strides. My stomach trouble has all direct this into the hands of some other ment purchases.

THE STANDARD DICTIONARY.

A Most Complete Work in One or Two Volumes.

The second volume of Funk & Wagnall's Standard Dictionary has made its appearance, the two volumes forming the most complete dictionary now in desired, several lodges not having sent the hands of the public. The work is also issued complete in one volume. In paper, printing and binding, the second volume is quite equal to the first, and make it one of the handsomest of books, the typography being perfect and the illustrations artistically

In the production of the Standard Dictionary. Mr. Funk & Wagnalls have accomplished a great work. It contains 2,338 pages; 5,000 illustrations made expressely for the work; 301,865 vocabular terms, which is nearly two and one-half the number contained in any single-volume dictionary, and about 75,000 more than any other dictionary of the English language. There were engaged upon the work 247 editors and specialists, and 500 readers for quotation, and the whole work cost nearly a million of dollars. The editors engaged upon the various departments of the dictionary were from the front rank of British and American scholars; each being representative of all that is latest and most approved in his own field of exploration and research, and each an accepted authority in his sphere. From beginning to end the Standard Dictionary is the work of men thorougly equipped in the school of science, literature and art. and experts in all benevolence, and to keep alive those point of my toes. JUVENILE DEPARTMENT.

For the purpose of encouraging the Juvenile Department, the Executive, with the assistance of Dr. W. L. Allen, prepared a new ritual, had the same tain cure for all diseases such as St. printed and neatly bound, and distributed to the different Lodges, calling in the old copies. The new ritual has met with great favor, and a new impetus is thus given to the Juvenile

This branch of our Society in the past seems to be sadly neglected. The boys are interested and attend the meetings but receive no encouragement from the officers and members of the adult Lodges. The Executive feel that the Juveniles should receive more recog-

The time is coming when the ranks of our membership must be filled up with Canadian born sons of Englishmen, and if they are not properly looked after, and cared for, will drift away and lose the national spirit, and become absorbed in other societies. We ask the Supreme Lodge to give all the encouragement possible to the building up of this branch.

An important question for this Supreme Lodge to decide, should the Guarantee Department embrace the Juvenile Branches. The returns are not so complete as is in the reports.

Leaving the Old Country for Canada Will find it to their advantage to keep this Paper in their possession. On page seven will be found the locality of the Lodges of the Sons of England, extended over the whole something. I could not take a single step in the dark. For nine long years I suffered all the horrors of a living death. In 1889 I was admited to the Toronto General Hospital, where I was treated for four months. I was told that m; trouble was locomotor ataxia and incurable, and I returned home no better. After returning home I had further medical treatment, but with no better result than before. Finally I was given the following certificate of incurability:—
