W. B. SCHULER, Rec. Sec.

Moved by William Comerford, seconded by Wendlin Schuler.

The members of Branch No. 5, Brantford, having learned with regret of the affliction which has befallen our esteemed Brother, Mr. Michael Quinlivan, by the death of his respected father, hasten to extend our bereaved associate the sympathy of this branch and to condole with him in his irreparable loss.

The deceased, though not personally known to us, had by his Christian character and general uprightness commanded the respect and regard of the community in which he lived, and died sauctified by the rites and consols tions of holy Church.

The fellow members of Brother Quinlivan fully appreciate the grief he feels at the loss of a fond and loving parent and in consonence with the spirit of our Brainford of the community in grant bin the grace of resignation to His supreme law.

Sunnyside.

Rev. Father Lynch, chaplain of the Sacred Heart Orphanage, Sunnyside, left last week for Niagara, of which he has been appointed parish priest. During his stay at the Orphanage, he was devotedly attached to the interests of those under his care; and, not withstanding his poor health, labored zealously in the performance of duties entailed upon him. His many friends in Toronto sincerely wish that he may have health and strength to fulfil the duties of his new sphere, and that success may attend his every effort in the exercise of parochial works.

God is able to effect more than man is b'e to understand.—Thomas A. Kempis.

DIOCESE OF HAMILTON.

Concert in Honor of His Lordship Bishop Dowling, at Loretto, Mt. St. Mary, Hamilton.

The large Distribution hall at Loretto Convent was crowded on Thursday evening with a most appreciative audience. The programme which had been prepared in honor of the Episcopal consecration of His Lordship, Bishop Dowling, was one of the most pleasing ever presented at the Academy. The high standard of excellence aimed at an attained here, as in all the convents of Loretto, was particularly noticeable on this occasion.

etto, was particularly noticeable on this occasion.

The choruses, from the opening "Ecce Sacerdos," to the closing beautiful though somewhat musically superficial "Ode to St.
Cecilia," by Cappocc, were in point of attack and expression equal, if not superior, to those of many professional choral societies. We must not forget to mention the fine effect of Mrs. Martin Murphy's flute-like voice in the "Ode to St. Cecilia;" its delightfully pure intonation on the high notes was a most artistic treat. The three instrumental numbers were arranged for four pianos, with orchestra of four violins, flute, clarionet, oboe, cello and contra basso. Of these selections the March from Tannehauser had the real Wagnerian ring to it; the light Overture "Lustpid" was perhaps to many more pleasing; while lovers of Italian and German music agreed that the Mascagin Intermezzo had the best points of both schools—flowing meledy and rich harmonization.

Mascagin Intermezzo had the best points of both schools—flowing melody and rich harmonization.

"The Vale of Pearls," an Operetta in one act, was very prettily staged. The scene was laid in the Alps, and evident care had been bestowed on correct detail of costume, the pupils making a charming picture in their Swiss muslin dresses, Tyrol peaked hats and velvet bodices. We fancied ourselves, Alpen stock in hand, lending aid to the pretty mountain maidens in their search for the pearl; all that was wanting was a gimpse of the "snow-clad peaks" to make the illusion complete.

In the different recitations, the young ladies displayed marked elocutionary ability, and were warmly applauded. Whittier's pathetic poem, "The Angels of Buena Vista," was illustrated by the Delsart class in the expressive language of pantomine with a perfection which elicited enthusiastic expressions of admiration.

The address presented to His Lordship was in book form, beautifully illuminated by one of the conclusion of the concert His Lordship addressed a few words to the pupils, thanking them for their excellent entertainment and congratulating them on the advantages they possessed in Loretto, which gave the young ladies not only a first class secular and practical education, but over and above many accomplishments were taught and a high moral education which enabled the pupils to work out their eternal destiny. A large number of the priests of the diocese was présent.

Episcopal Visitation.

The next morning His Lordship, accompanied by Mgr. McEvay and Father Murphy of the cathedral staff, left for Deemerton, to be present at the celebration of Corpus Christi and to give confirmation to the children of Deemerton and Mildmay. On the arrival of the train at Mildmay, Yather Wey, the pastor, Father Brohmann of Formosa, and the entire Catholic congregation, met His Lordship and greeted him with three rousing cheers. A large number of the men was dressed in soldiers uniform and armed with guns, and fired salutes at regular intervals. A procession was formed to escort the Bishop to the church and afterwards to the priest's house in Deemerton, the soldiers riding on horseback and forming a guard of honor. The next morning High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Sweitzer, C. S. C., of St. Jerome's College, Berlin; Father Wey acting as deacon and Father Murphy as subdeacon. Father Owens, pastor of Ayton, assisted the Bishop, who occupied the throne. After Mass His Lordship preached, and administered the sacrament of confirmation to one hundred and ten children; then a procession was formed and the Blessed Sacrament was carried in triumph through the open country. The route was ornamented with evergreen-, arches and bunning, and at certain places richly adorned repositories were erected and then the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. Badges, banners and bands were scattered through the procession. Some people prayed in a loud voice, some sang and all carried themselves with a becoming religious deportment. The girls (dressed in white) strewed flowers on the way, and the boys (in uniform) carried decorated candles. The Bishop, attended by the clergy, carried the Blessed Sacrament under a magnificent canopy and chanted the psalms and hymns with the people. The whole scene was a most impressive one, and not only Catholics, but many Protestants, came to witness this manitestation of strong faith in the Real Presence

Rev. Father, and preach the Corpus Christi sermon and at the same time take part in the great procession.

They knew him then under the name of the priest with the black curled hair, "O! is it not a pity," exclaimed some, "that those beautiful black curls have changed their color!" They ascribe this early change to the fact that he is overtaxed with work. Day after day, in rain, snow and mud, he travels from parish to parish (which are often long distances apart) and administers the sacrament of confirmation. Often he travels without an assistant who is accustomed to the ceremonies of the holy work. In Formosa a layman had to read the names of the children, a small boy held the crosier, another the mitre and often he had to repeat the word "Amen" himself, as the parish priest had to look after everything else. There was no word of complaint on his part: he was as patient as a lamb and quietly continued his holy work. If this is not the work of an apostle than indeed we are at a loss to find it. May God keep him strong and robust in order that he may be able to continue his noble work for many years to come!

Corpus Christi at the Cathedral.

The solemnity of the glorious Feast of Corpus Christi was celebrated at the Cathedral, Hamilton, in a most imposing manner. At the 8:39 Mass aboutone hundred children of the parish approached Holy Communion for the first time. A large congregation was present.

After High Mass, at 16:30, which was sung by Right Rev. Monsignor McEvay, with Father Hinchey as deacon, Father Murphy subdeacon, and Father Coty master of ceremonies. a procession was formed. The First Communicants, bearing candles and dressed in their festive garments, followed the cross-bearer. Then came the sanctuary boys, in their richly colored soutanes. Monsignor McEvay carried the Blessed Sacrament supported, by deacon and sub-deacon, under a silken canopy which was borne by six members of the congregation. During the afternoon the Blessed Sacrament was exposed and the Cathedral was througed with adorers.

The evening was closed with a procession and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Corpus Christi Celebration at Chepstow, stow. County Bruce.

The most prominent object that strikes the eye, on approaching the village of Chepstow, is the large and commodious new brick Separate school, erected two years ago on an eminence commanding a view of the surrounding country. It is two stories high, with a bell tower, and is heated by hot air, furnaces. It is thoroughly well equipped and efficiently taught by Mr. George Leyes and Miss Rose MeGinnis, who on the 23rd inst. had one-hundred and fifty pupils under their training. This was established because the fanaticism of the people was so excited by aggressive addresses delivered before them by timerary lecturers that the Public school was made unendurable to Catholics; and close by is the old Public school building, loudly proclaiming in its desolation the folly of those who would attempt to abridge the rights of Catholics.

The great centre of attraction on the 24th was the Catholic church of Chepstow, where an overflowing congregation had assembled to celebrate the Feast of Corpus Christi. Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Rev. S. C. Wadel, parish priest, assisted by Rev. P. Corcoran of La Salette, London diocese, deacon, and Rev. J. J. Corcoran, Teeswater, sub-deacon. After the Mass an appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. P. Corcoran, and the Blessed Sacrament in the montrance accompanied with music and chanting of palms and hymns and recitation of the Litanies and other appropriate devotions, was borne to the cemetery where there are four chapels erected, in each of which the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. On the return of the procession the last Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. On the return of the day.

happiness in possessing this Sacrament of Love.

Immediately after the High Mass there was a solemn procession in honor of the Blessed Eucharist, in the cathedral and around the grounds.

The honor of carrying the canopy over the Blessed Sacrament belonged to four young gentlemen of the congregation—Messrs. Cook, Murphy, Brown and Garvey.

During the afternoon the Blessed Sacrament was exposed for the veneration and adoration of the faithful, who, in large numbers, availed themselves of the opportunity of making reparation to Jesus for the luke warmness and carelessness of negligent Catholics and for the insults of unbelievers, and of making acts of faith and love. The little children of St. Peter's school, robed in spotless white and with wreaths and voils, formed a guard of honor for the Blessed Eucharist during the afternoon.

and loving husband, an affectionate father, a most desirable neighbor. Coming from the good old Highland stock of Glengarry we need scarcely say he was deeply attached to the land of his ancestors. He remembered with pride dear old Glengarry, and attil dearer Scotiand from whence his sturdy ancestors came. But above all he was deeply attached to the failt of his fathers — a good, consistent, practical Catholic, attentive to his duties, and most generous with the means at his disposal do everything appertaining to the temporal affairs of the Church. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss, and to them we beg to ofter our most heartfelt condolence in their sad affliction and pray that the great Consoler may come to their relief; and for the departed loved one we say from the bottom of our heart, May his soul restin peace? CHURCH PROGRESS.

About seven years ago. Rey. M. Moyna, the respected pastor of Stayner, came to take charge of this parish, at that time attached to Collingwood. There was then a debt of over $5.000; the church was in bad repair, and no priest's house. But to-day what a difference! The church is not only in an excellent state of repair, but the interior is beautifully decorated; the grounds are laid out in a most tasteful.

Commywood. There was in bad repair, and no priest's house. But to-day what a difference The church is not only in an excellent state of repair, but the interior is beautifully decorated; the grounds are laid out in a most tasteful manner, and there is a parochial residence that would be a credit to a parish of wice its size; and what is still better, there is not a folker of debt on the whole property. This is indeed most satisfactory state of affairs and reflects credit on the pastor and copie. We man reflect state of the pastor and copie. We man reflect state of the pastor and copie. We man reflect the debt but to beautify 60d's house, for the congregation is neither large nor wealthy, but they said from their hearts, "we have loved, O Lord, the beauty of Thy House and the place wherein Thy glory dwelleth."

We congratulate pastor and people on the outcome of their zealous efforts for the greater glory of God and we sincerely trust that the sacrifices made in this case will bring about many blessings, both spiritual and temporal.

MISS LODIE PALADINO, LONDON.

MISS LODIE PALADINO, LONDON.

Seldom, if ever before, have there been evinced such expressions of genuine regret and heartfelt sorrow as were expressed at the news of the sudden death, on the Feast of Corpus Christi, of Miss Lodie, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paladino, of Queen's avenue, London. And indeed we do not wonder that such was the case when we remember her happy and winsome disposition, and, above all, her sincere piety and ardent faith. It truly seems as though our Queen of May specially selected the fairest flower to grace her heavenly court.

Miss Paladino had been ill but a few hours, and her friends considered her ailment only at transient indisposition, but it has been truly said that God's ways are not ours. The doctor, who was hastily summoned, did everything possible or that his skill suggested—all in vain: ere the Angelos bell rang out clear and musical, her pure young soul stood before the bar of Eternal Justice. However, she had the great happiness of being anointed before death. She was a devout client of our Blessed Lady, a zealous Promoter of the League of the Sacred Heart and an exemplary member of the Sacred Heart and an exemplary member of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The members of the latter society received holy Communion, in a body, for the eternal repose of the soul of their late companion, at 7 o'clock Mass, on the 28th ultimo, the celebrant of the Mass being the chaplain of the Sodality, Rev. M. J. Tiernan.

The funeral took place from her father's residence, on Saturday, 26th May, to the cathedral, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated; thence to St. Peter's cemetery, where all that was mortal of a loving daughter, sister and friend was consigned to the grave. May her soul rest in peace!

AN EXPLANATION.

After the Mass an appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. P. Corcoran. A procession was then organized, composed of the different societies of the parish; and the Blessed Sacrament in the montrance accompanied with music and chanting of psalms and hymns and recitation of the Litanies and other appropriate devotions, was borne to the cemetery where there are four chapels erected, in each of which the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. On the return of the procession the last Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. After the singing of the "Te Deum" the large and pious congregation dispersed to their homes, highly edified and impressed by the celebration of the day.

Old Lady's Story of Deep Interest to Others—Mrs. Robert Bissett, Who Was Crippled with Rheumatism for Nine Years, Despite Advancing Years, has Found Relief—She Relates Her Experi-ence that Others May Profit by it.

From the Goderich Star.

From upwards of three years the Star has been republishing articles from various papers in Canada and the United States recounting wonders in healing, wrought, often in Iroforn cases, by the use of the preparation known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A more or less intimate acquaintance with the publishers of several of the newspapers warranted us in believing that the cases reported by them were not overdrawn or exaggerated advertisements, but were published as truthful statements of remarkable cures from human ills worthy of the widest publicity, that other sufferers might be benefited also. For some time past we have heard the name of Mrs. Robert Bissett, of Colborne township, mentioned as one who had experienced much benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after years of painful suffering. Carious to know the particulars, a representative of the Star called upon her son at his flour and feed store on Hamilton street, and asked how far the story was true. Without hesitation or reserve Mr. Bissett launched into praise of Pink Pills, which he said had a most wonderful effect in relieving his mother from the suffering of a bedridden invalid, crippled by rheumatism, and restoring her to the enjoyment of a fair degree of health and activity for a person of seventy years of age. "See her yourself," he said, "I am sure she will freely tell you all about her case, and you can judge how much she owes to Pink Pills. I am sure that it is owing to them that she is alive today." Acting on this cordial invitation, the reporter drove out to the well known Bissett homestead. Mrs. Bissett was found enjoying an afternoon's visit at the residence of a neighbor, Mrs. Robertson. She laughingly greeted the reporter with the assurance that she knew what he had come for as her son had told her the day she was in town what was wanted, and although she had no wish to figure in her was a laught and the proper in the subject of the proper in th
