THROUGH INDIA WITH CAMERA

MR. H. B. AMES, M.P., OF MONTREAL, WAS THE SPEAKER.

Large Attendance of Ladies at Women's Canadian Club Friday Afternoon.

The second address before the Women's Canadian Club was delivered on Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the I.M.C.A. by Mr. H. B. Ames, M.P. of Montreal. The ladies were present in very large numbers, the lecture hall being crowded. Mrs. J. F. Willis, Pres., occupied the chair, and introduced the guest.

Speaking under the disadvantage of a severe cold, Mr. Ames never hesitated to make his subject very interesting and graphic. The address was on a trip through India with a camera. Mr. Horace Yeomans was in charge of the lantern throwing views on the screen.

Mr. Ames in opening his address wished the newly organized club every success in its future efforts and declined any pretension of being a lecturer, or of discussing the social, economic, political, or religious problems of the Indian Empire. It was just a trip across that great country he meant to speak of. He had not an authority on India, but had treasured up impressions of the wonderful scenes he had himself witnessed. Bombay, the first point touched is almost an European city in aspect with beautiful mansions, magnificent hotels, large offices, and railway station. In the native quarter one realizes the congestion of all types. Views were shown of the Paragon Tower of Silence, the place of death and granaries. Delhi, rich in memories of the Indian mutiny, and the location of the turning point in the tide in favor of Britain. The Kashmir Gate, seraglio, mosques, and the great Taj Mahal, marble screen of the gate, decadent period of Mughal architecture in Lucknow. Cawnpore with its famous well.

A resolution of thanks was passed to the guest on the motion of Mrs. S. D. Lajzer, seconded by Mrs. F. B. Smith.

The meeting was brought to an end by the singing of the National Anthem.

CLAIMS $5,000 FOR DAMAGES

A case of great local interest which comes up at the Spring Assizes at Peterboro on Tuesday next, is that of John Robinson of Campbellford, claiming $5,000 damages from the corporation of Havelock for the death of his three children in the town gravel pit in August last. D. J. Lynch of Campbellford is Robinson's counsel, and the town's interests are being looked after by Peck, Kerr & McElherry of Peterboro.

The writ issued by Robinson claims that by reason of the gravel pit being unenclosed, and unguarded, it was attractive, inviting and alluring to young children, and thereby was of a nature to cause such children loss of life.

The witnesses for both parties have been summoned, and the case will attract much attention from all municipalities owning gravel pits.

John Kelly, of Norwood, is also claiming $20,000 damages and costs of action in connection with the death of his wife who was killed in the Turnbull store collapse in Peterboro last August. —Havelock Standard.

START CLASS FOR FOREIGNERS

EDUCATIONAL WORK OF UNIQUE KIND IS ABOUT TO BEGIN.

Basement of Queen Victoria School Will be Used for Instruction—Forty Words Per Lesson.

From Saturday's Daily

A class for foreigners will be started immediately in the basement of Queen Victoria School. The purpose is to teach the Europeans the English language so as to enable them to get along in this new country of their choice. There are in the service of the Grand Trunk in one shop between 45 and 50, mostly the bright, eager-to-learn Italians, who naturally with the handicap of ignorance of the English tongue, are not making the advance which they might make provided they added English to their accomplishments of ability to work hard and play musical instruments.

Mr. W. W. Lee, of the immigration service during his visit here visited the foreigners and interviewed members of the Board of Education. He asked the privilege of having the basement of the Pine Street School to use for two classes per week. The men interested in the education of the foreigner agree to pay for the teacher and extras, so that no extra expense will fall on the board.

The request has been granted and the trustees are allowing the use of two tables and the chairs necessary to seat the classes. Mr. L. C. Pascoe, chairman of the school, will superintend the use of the furniture.

It is said that the new method of teaching enables foreigners to grasp the meaning of the words more perfectly. Eighty words per week is the goal set for the first class. The men interested in the education of the foreigner agree to pay for the teacher and extras, so that no extra expense will fall on the board.

BIG ROW IN C.T.R. CAR

From Saturday's Daily

The Grand Trunk depot was the scene at midnight of a wild conflict between Campbellford men and officers of the Grand Trunk. Some men had come down with the hockeyists and cariers and instead of going to the games, spent their time otherwise. The special had reached the depot about midnight and was stopped at the platform. The travelling peace officer of the G.T.R. went aboard and found some rumpus in progress. He urged the men to be quiet but suggestions of peace but added fuel. R. R. Constable Pat. Donovan was with the officer and the two made an effort to remove two of the men who were the worse for liquor. In the melee seats were smashed and the crowd it is stated pitched upon the authorities. Word was sent to the Belleville police station for two officers and a cab. Meanwhile the handcuffs were put on a man named H. Saunders who lives near Campbellford, and he was finally removed in spite of the crowd. Another man, W. H. Martin, who had been in the fray, was traced to the baggage car and arrested.

In court this morning Martin and Saunders were fined $5 each for having been drunk. They were each given a suspended sentence of six months each and allowed their liberty by giving recognizance for good behavior on charges of resisting officers.

Crown Attorney Anderson spoke strongly of drunkenness on trains, where the lives of the passengers and the property of the railway might be at stake. Had the local officers not been near, a number of people might have been injured.

Magistrate Mason's opinions coincided with those of Mr. Anderson. J. A. Hag and Donald Page were fined $5 and $3 respectively for being intoxicated. They were arrested on the street earlier in the evening.

The board turned down a request of Mr. James L. Mills, curator of Queen Victoria School to sell scribbles and pencils in the basement of the school. The trustees seemed unanimous on this point.

The board authorized three members to go surety for 20 more. Ross Ritchie for the High School cadets, so great is the number entering the corps.

Col. Ponton said that he had signed on behalf of the board a petition to the department prepared by educational bodies in the city asking the Legislature to investigate the feasibility of medical inspection in schools.

Mr. Mallory's committee of sites, buildings and repairs was given authority to make arrangements for the rock cutting of a drain from the new Queen Mary School to Isabelle and thence to Catherine street.

Mr. W. C. Reid said the agricultural society is about to revise its prizes and wants to give prizes in the educational line. The matter will be dealt with at the next session.

Col. Ponton said that the organization committee of the Peace Centenary Celebration would meet in a month. Children's essays and pageants will be part of the event.

Big Cheque For Hospital

The President of the Cobourg Hospital Board, Mr. J. D. Hayden, received a check this week for $20,000 from the executors of the estate of the late John Heim, Port Hope, it being the bequest left to the town of Cobourg towards the erection of a hospital. The new building which will cost about $50,000, and is thoroughly up-to-date in every particular, will be formally opened on Feb. 25th. The staff are already occupying it. It will prove a great boon to the whole district as well as to the town of Cobourg.—Post.

Among those who played checkers with Mr. Alfred Jordan yesterday were Judge Deroche, who secured two wins and one draw in the morning, the draws in the afternoon. Geo. Harris, one win and one draw in the morning, John Vermillion two draws, and John Burman, one draw.
