"SUBMARINES" AT GRAND MANAN

William Urquhart had a rather thrilling experience while fishing in Long Rond Bay, Grand Manan, October 4. He part felt the boat quiver, and a slight when the nose of a huge shark came through one of the planks. The quickly withdrawn nose was followed by a rush of water into the boat. Mr. Urquhart quickly drew off the jumper he was a tight wad; getting his anchor, he at once set sail for home. For a minute he imif not excelling the shark itself in rapacity the St. John Road. Henceforth Mr. Urquhart avers, though a designs of sharks imbued with Kaiserism.
