MARKETS

BRANTFORD MARKETS. The weather was ideal to-day, and the market was consequently a large titude of questions. As he walked he the market was consequently a large one. Strawberries, gooseberries, cherries and other fresh fruits were on sale in limited quantities, selling at 10c per box or three boxes for 25c.

Tomato plants were also for sale and the ranks decently. Until then 1 Tomato plants were also for sale and many other plants and flowers. The meats were about the same as last He didn't get any further. Protesting Saturday. Chickens, however, ranged in price from 65c up to 75c. Butter has gone up a cent or two. Small vegetables are still three bunches for 5c. Minister, Lloyd George has done remarkably well.

A WOMAN

IN HYDE PARK

By W. A. Willison

Marble Arch, Hyde Park, June 9, time 9.30 p.m.—Denunciations of the Harmsworth Press, enthusiastic praise of Lord Kitchener, fervent appeals for recruits marked the utterances of the man of the box. We had heard him before without being thrown into any particular ecstacy of spirit. But to-night he was stirred to the soul-stirred to the point of asking a six foot man in his audience why he did not enlist.

We waited for the answer. came: "Lloyd George is a liar." The speaker called the six-tooter to the platform, whispered conversation took place. Then the itinerant

Now I was with two friends, one a man, the other a woman, young and excitable. She was acoing to get in a word. Her opportunity came when the six-footer exclaimed dramatically "What if Stonehenge stand if I fall." The misquotation was too much for the female of the species. Before we mere men could protest our companion was in the thick of the wordy warfare, "I don't care about your Stonehenge," she declared, But you're an Englishman.
