SOLDIERS RAIDED SOCIALIST CROWD

Anti Conscription Meeting Broken Up by Returned Soldiers

CRUTCHES WIELDED

Trouble Started When National Anthem Was Not Played

Toronto, June 4.—About the time the Socialist anti-conscription meeting was to have started in the Labor Temple last evening hysterical men and women fled from the building shouting "Mercy, Kamerad!" or words to that effect.

The meeting was broken up by returned, wounded soldiers because the Socialists refused to start the proceedings with the National Anthem.

"Run for your life—get out as quickly as you can," shouted the frightened men and women as they fled from the building. The women looked as if they would faint (fortunately there were not many of them); some of the men were like Germans, who had been rooted out of their dugouts and were rushing to surrender.

Wild Scene in Hall
The scene inside was the wildest witnessed here for many a day. The crutches and sticks of disabled veterans of Ypres and the Somme were flying about; men who returned from Courcette and Thiepval minus limbs were engaged in hand to hand fights with Socialists. Tables and chairs were upset and sent spinning across the room. Everybody seemed to be shouting, some were giving orders. A bugler sounded several calls. Persons offering resistance were knocked to the floor or thrown downstairs, and some who attempted to escape by the rear were chased through the windows, over roofs and down the fire escapes.

Played "The Red Flag."
Alfred Perkins, a stereotyper, was to be chairman of the meeting, while R. A. Rigg, M.P.P., of Winnipeg was to have been the principal speaker. This is about as far as the meeting got. A Finnish orchestra started to play "The Red Flag," the "marching song" of the Socialists, when a veteran of Courcette rose and demanded that the National Anthem be played. There were probably 300 or 400 war veterans present, in command of Sergt-Major Lowery. The Socialists refused to sing "God Save the King." The war veterans cried, "We will make you sing it." And the Socialists sang "God Save the King" at the point of the bayonet, figuratively speaking.

"Get Out, Everybody."
The orchestra was compelled to play the National Anthem, and those who refused to doff their hats and sing were hustled out of the hall in double-quick time. The next command was, "Get out everybody!" and those who thought discretion the better part of valor did not remain to argue the point. A number of plain-clothesmen in charge of Police Inspector Geddes regulated the crowd on the stairway, and Inspector Geddes handled the whole situation with great tact, otherwise many persons would probably have been crushed in the wild rush for the exits.

"Pack Up Your Troubles."
After the room had been cleared of Socialists the soldiers again sang the National Anthem and marched out to the street, where a great throng had gathered. The crowd reached from Queen street almost to Wilton avenue, and the police regulated traffic with great difficulty. Out on the street the soldiers again sang this time the National Anthem and "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag and Smile, Smile, Smile."

Changed His Mind
They're looking for trouble and they'll get it," commented a foreigner who stood by as the war veterans commenced singing "God Save the King." He was as "meek as Moses" a minute later when a man in khaki stepped up to him and said, "Take your hat off."

"All right, if you say so," he muttered as he removed his hat, and held it in his hand until the National Anthem was finished.

Interrupted Church Service
The veterans then formed a band and marched off amid cheers, which disturbed divine worship in the Metropolitan church across the street. En route to the city hall they chased a man who is said to have displayed a German flag.

At the city hall they held a recruiting meeting which wound up with cheers for the King and hisses and boos for "Jimmy" Simpson.

Save the Food and Serve the Empire!

The Average Canadian Family Wastes Enough to Feed a Soldier

"The Kitchen must help as well as the Workshop and the Trenches"
Lloyd George.

INTELLIGENT economy in the kitchen can do much to prevent the threatened world famine—can counteract the effect of high prices—and can replace growing debt with systematic saving.

Careful investigations show that before the war the average British family wasted 25% of their food—and we Canadians were even more extravagant.

This waste is not in a few big things, but in many little ones, each, we used to think, too small to bother about—such as careless peeling of vegetables and fruit—failure to make good use of dripping and "left-overs"—and such others as will occur to every thrifty housekeeper.

For the Empire's sake as well as your own, hunt up and cut out these leaks! You'll be helping to relieve the food shortage—saving your own money—and putting yourself in a position to buy Canadian War Savings Certificates and help win the war.

War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at all Money Order Post-Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% interest. Should you need it, you can get your money back at any time.

MARANVILLE BROKE ANKLE

Crack Shortstop of Boston Braves Out of the Game

Cincinnati, June 4.—In a ragged ten inning game here Sunday Cincinnati won from Boston 6 to 5. Maranville sprained his ankle in the sixth inning and had to be carried from the field. He may be out of the game for some time. Rudolph's hitting was superior to his pitching, his triple and two singles being responsible for several runs. Score: Boston . . . 0000311000—5 13 3 Cincinnati . . . 1100030001—6 11 2 Batteries, Rudolph and Gowdy; Toney and Wingo.

AT CHICAGO

Chicago bunched hits Sunday and defeated Brooklyn 5 to 2, before one of the largest crowds of the season. Cadore held the locals to six hits, but they bunched four of these in the 4th inning, one being a homer by Doyle, which sent a runner across the plate ahead of him, and another was a triple by Mann, which also sent home a run. Douglas was hit hard, but snappy fielding prevented the visitors from scoring more than twice. Score: Brooklyn . . . 00000110—2 8 3 Chicago . . . 00040010x—5 6 1 Batteries, Cadore and Miller; Douglas and Elliott.

AT ST. LOUIS

Miller took second when Robertson threw wildly to the infield, scoring on Crump's hit. St. Louis' run in the fifth was the result of the singles by Hornsby and Cruise and Zimmerman's error. New York's lone run was a homer by Burns in the fifth. Score: New York . . . 0000010000—1 7 3 St. Louis . . . 000001020x—3 6 0 Batteries, Sallee and McCarty; Ames and Snyder.

TWO BATTING RALLIES

Detroit, June 4.—Two spectacular batting rallies Saturday gave Detroit a 5 to 4 victory over New York. This was the play off of a postponed game. In the fifth after Hendrix' muffed Vitti's foul fly, Vitti singled and Bush drove in two runs with a timely single. Cobb's triple scored Bush in the seventh. The winning runs were made in the eighth on successive hits by Burns, Vitti and Spencer. Score: New York . . . 031000000—4 11 2 Detroit . . . 00002012x—5 12 1 Batteries, Russell, Love and Walters; Boland, Daus and Spencer.
