Being a graphic description of a fight between two crows and a gull, from the racy pen of Mr. David Fitch, Blue Beach.

"Do Gulls fight?" was asked. O yes, I have looked at one combat between a gull and two crows, as I have always noticed the way of birds and their habits. As I was walking on the beach fishing one day this Spring, I was looking at two crows taking a feed off a dead fish that had been left by the tide, and I noticed a gull flying around and thought that he would like me. He came down a few steps from his coloured friends, but they did not wish to share. But he walked right up and they made signs of war, hoisted the black flag. He was too long in the reach for them, for he struck them with his beak and wing and soon caused them to retreat and he was lord gull there. As it seemed to be his meal time he was undaunted.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The following pupils of the Hants port High School successfully passed the Provincial High School examinations: Gladys Lawrence, John Beazeley, Edith Pentz, Edward Marsters. Grade XI.

Bertha Pentz, Hattie Fanikner, Bessie Lockhart, Clyde Malcolm, Lena Lockhart, Grade X.

Lola Sutherland, Bertha Davison.

The following were and successful the Professional examination and received teachers licenses: Gladys Lawrence, Karl Margeson, Edith Pentz, John Beazley and Bessie Lockhart has been spending a few days with friends at Long Island.

Lapt Mark Shaw and daughter were Lere on Sunday last calling or old friends. Aug. 25th.

This is by far the best record the provincial examinations in the history of the high school. Increase ed school equipment such as simple physical and chemical apparatus, maps, charts, etc., has enabled better work to be done, but there is still need of more physical apparatus and also of a good school library.

Possibly there is nothing more helpful and stimulating and educative to boys and girls in the high school grades than the possession of a good hbrary, when, they dissatisfied with to aid.

No books can go in the library but ach as are approved by the "Council of Public Institution" but anyone possessing any books likely to be wishing to present them to the school will not be likely to have them refused. Could some large hearted person begin by presenting the school with an Encyclopedia?

A lot of enjoyment can be ac
