

HOW SAFES ARE BROKEN.

An Authority in Burglary Gives a Few Instructive Points. The Boston Herald gives an interesting account by a Pittsburgh authority in the burglar's art.

There are in this country just about an even score of men whom no bank vault or safe, however strong, can resist. To reassure society, I will say that more than half of these are safe behind prison bars.

The modern safe burglar is an exceedingly keen, intelligent man. He can open a safe having all the modern improvements in ten minutes to two hours.

Keys are fitted to every door which stands between the street and the bank vault by means of a thin sheet of brass, as near as possible the same size as the keyhole, and covered with a thin coat of carbon, which may be applied with a match.

Next is brought into use the simplest and yet strongest and most complete tool for the purpose. It is six inches in length and two inches in diameter at one end, tapering to nothing at the other. It is pear shaped and a thread extends from end to end.

When drilling is necessary a light compound machine, which fits the combination dial plate, and which rapidly drills a small hole above the water rim of the combination dial plate, is used.

Great Britain is the cornucopia of countries. The splendid tropes used by Webster to describe the extent of its dominion in every quarter of the globe is truer to-day than at the time of its utterance half a century ago.

Herbert's Famous Hymn. When Bishop Herbert's famous missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," which he wrote in 1824, first reached this country, a lady in Charleston was much impressed with the beauty of it, and particularly anxious to find a tune suited to it.

The Gibbe of a Horrid Man. Two hundred and thirteen clubs have been formed among women for the study of political economy. The relative value of a French and American bonnet will, according to the Baltimore American, be the chief topic of conversation.

WHEN FORTUNES COME.

A Statement That Wealth in America Is Acquired by Men of Forty.

One of the brightest young men in public life said to a New York Sun man the other day that he was going to make his everlasting fortune some day when he was tired of politics.

Alexander T. Stewart came here in 1823 from Ireland, where he was born in 1803. He opened a little linen store on Broadway.

Warner Miller is fifty years old. Beginning in the humblest way, he managed to organize a mail company, and was successful.

John B. Stawson, the carriage box inventor, was thirty-three years old when he went to New Orleans in 1810 from this State.

John B. Stawson, the carriage box inventor, was thirty-three years old when he went to New Orleans in 1810 from this State. There he slowly made his way up.

Samuel J. Tilden made his first considerable money as a lawyer, but he was over thirty-four years old before he put other aspirations aside for the time and began that devotion to his profession which was quickly distinguished by his connection with the greatest legal causes of the day.

When an Indian dies his relatives pay his debts. And yet some people think Indians can be civilized.

A Female Paradox. A lady, old and growing older still, (As ladies will grow old, you know), became, in spite of age, as young as youth—but ill.

It is said that the elder Booth used often to take a subordinate character in a play, like that of the grave-digger in Hamlet, and play his part so perfectly as to glorify not only the humble role which he assumed, but the whole play.

A double pay.—Borrowing $5 to pay a $5 debt.

Minard's Liniment is the Best

The girl of to-day is up to the English language.

A faded and discolored beard is untidy and a misfortune. It may be prevented by using Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers, a never failing remedy.

When one cannot digest one's food, one feels as if about to die just then.

A box of Ayer's Pills has saved many a fit of sickness. When a remedy does not happen to be within reach, people are liable to neglect slight ailments and, of course, if serious illness follows they have to suffer the consequences. "A stitch in time saves nine."

Naturally, the softer a person is the easier he or she is to mash.

More economical than the ordinary kinds and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 Wall St., N. Y. (13-11-85)

When Baby would not grow her Castoria, When she was a child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
