SPRING HILL COAL. THE SPRING HILL MINING COMPANY having now fully developed their Mines at Spring Hill, and having reached a depth where coal of a superior density and purity is obtained, can now offer to customers along the Intercolonial Railway a fuel unsurpassed in quality, and which, in consequence of the late reduction in freight, must take the place of all other fuel along the line of Railway between Truro and St. John, and at least on the Moncton end of the line, between that town and Riviere du Loup.

The coal is mined in the most approved manner to insure its freedom from stone and fire-clay; the round coal is then put over screens, which separates from it all the dust and small coal; the latter is then put through an elaborate steam rotary screen, which produces two grades of coal, known as "Stove" and "Nuts," which are perfectly pure coals and entirely free from dust.

In low price must induce all those who consider this point to give it a trial. "Stove" coal is now sold at the Mine at $1.75 per ton, and "Nut" Coal at $1.00 per ton.

POETRY. SUPPOSE. BY T. M. ROBERTSON.

Suppose, Fadette, that I, instead of keeping tryt With you to-night, had stayed away to doze, Or call upon Miss Brant, or play at whist?

Suppose, You had? Think I should have cared? Indeed, Ain't you a bit conceit—don't take my rose— A gift to me. From whom? Well—Suppose?

Suppose, It is? Then I'm to understand, Fadette—your words as plainest prose— My presence matters not to you—any yet, Suppose?

Suppose, You are—understand me no? You're free; Do, if you wish! And—oh! the What skating we shall have! Tomorrow we— That's Jose— And Jose— Be hang'd! It seems to me, Miss Lower, that you Arc acting rather lightly; rumor goes— That he—just since I seem to bore, adieu.

Suppose, We say good-night. He— Good-night, sir, and good-bye! He—What does this mean, Fadette? Are you— We'll close This scene at once. My words are plain, sir, I suppose? Compose Yourself, Fadette, my name, sir, is Miss Lower—Come, come, Fadette, do look beyond your nose, And—Here's your ring, sir! I receive it, though I suppose—

Suppose, You do, sir? He— Enough, Miss Lower. Farewell "Tis best I've been deceived in you, my dear;—heartless flirt! a haughty belle— Who choose— Suppose? Oh!—oh! let's part as friends! I hate you—there! He—Fadette! why, yet, in tears! This surely shows You'll pardon me, a brute! She.— Suppose. —Scrivner for September.

The Big Bonanza Mines. The decline in the prices of stock in the "Big Bonanza" mines of Nevada, the Colorado Territory and California, has been followed by a lively demand for shares at present rates.

Why HE DIDN'T.—There was a eugent reason why a 10-year-old boy living on Duffield street didn't have a stick of gum in his mouth when he arrived at the 2nd Avenue drinking fountain yesterday morning. One of the boys had gum to chew on, and when they expressed their surprise at his gross neglect of a boy's plainest duty, he replied,

The jury at one returned a verdict in favor of the boy, and seven "cu'ds" were torn apart to form one for him.—Detroit Free Press.

INCIDENTALLY.—An Arkansas coroner, having occasion to investigate the cause of a man's death lately charged the jury to ascertain whether the "man came to his death by accident, by incidence or by the incendency." The jury returned that "he came to his death by incidence, the bowie knife having incidentally touched on a vital part."

Courship, Kissing and Carriage-Riding. From the New York World.

We have great respect for the opinions of our able contemporary, the Sun, and are always grieved when we see it fall into an error on any important subject. The misleading of three or four of our readers on a great issue is a fearful responsibility. And yet there was much in a leading and able editorial article of the Sun yesterday upon kissing, to make the judicious griev.

It seems that a Connecticut girl has written to the editor of the Sun to ask, among some trivial inquiries touching upon etiquette and religion this important question: "Is it proper for a lady to kiss a gentleman good night when she has been carriage riding with him?"

Now, the first of these three sentences is merely a general statement of what follows in detail. The last is a new form of the old saying that the fruit that falls with- out may kiss her accepted lover and no one else. If this rule of conduct were adopted, how many girls would have accepted lovers? Does an engagement come suddenly after a mere formal acquaintance, or is it the result of a gradually growing intimacy in which men and women learn to understand, by carriage riding and otherwise, and confide in one another. The Sun, to be consistent, must extend its doctrine a little farther, and maintain that a girl should not go out "carriage riding" except with a near relative of the man to whom she is engaged. This is the principle adopted for the government of the young ladies at Mount Holyoke was the answer, "Is he your brother?" "No," "Are you engaged to him?" "No, but I expect to be before I get back." That answer carried the day, and there is much philosophy in it touching the whole subject of courteship, kissing and "carriage riding."

THE JURY AT ONE.—There was a eugent reason why a 10-year-old boy living on Duffield street didn't have a stick of gum in his mouth when he arrived at the 2nd Avenue drinking fountain yesterday morning. One of the boys had gum to chew on, and when they expressed their surprise at his gross neglect of a boy's plainest duty, he replied,
