IN THE REALMS of SPORT

INDIAN RUNNER IS NOW A MECHANIST.

Tom Longboat Wishes That He Had The Chance To Match Strides With Raavo Nurmi.

The Montreal Star Says:—Those who used to know Longboat in Montreal and elsewhere will be greatly interested in what Ford C. Frick, a noted New York sport writer, says about him:

"Raavo Nurmi's racing accomplishments bring back memories of those other speedsters of a past generation—and of all the distance runners who trod the boards to records, none was more like the Finn in many ways, and more unlike him in others, than Tom Longboat, the famous Indian.

"Longboat, like Nurmi, was tireless. He glided through the weary miles as though they were but yards in the span of a sprint. Like Nurmi, too, he had a stride that was half glided half flying—and for years he ruled the roost of all marathon runners.

"But, unlike Nurmi, Longboat had no ideas of training. He lived a full life and a fast one. And he paid the penalty. The ions, supple muscles that promised to endure forever, lost their elasticity. The barrel chest that was the centre of his great endurance, weakened and gave way. And Tom Longboat was forced to quit the competition.

"To-day, at 37, fat and muscle-bound, the once great Indian is working seven days a week as a machinist in Buffalo. He weighs 180 pounds now—the one-time slim, tall form, covered with bulging muscles and flesh. But he follows the game closely. News was brought to him of Nurmi's accomplishment a few days ago. He listened quietly, shook his head and sighed.

"I might," he stammered, then he stopped. "He's a great runner," he added quietly. "I wish I might have met him."

SARAZEN CARRIED LOT OF WEIGH IN DIXIE HANDICAP.

When Sarazen shouldered 130 lbs. last Friday and won the Dixie Handicap at Pinlicko, he did something that no other American thoroughbred of his age accomplished. Four year olds have carried heavy imposts over a distance of ground, but never so early in the season. Sir Barton, when a four-year-old, won the mile and three-sixteenths of the Merchants' and Citizens' Handicap, but that was well on in the season. Lucille successfully carried 133 pounds in the Aqueduct Handicap, while Cudgel, when a four-year-old, was winner of the Grainger Memorial under 122 pounds and the Brooklyn Handicap under 129 pounds. Grey Lag was winner of the Empire City Handicap, under 132 pounds, and Zev won the mile and a sixteenth of the King's County handicap under 130 pounds. Then of the older stars, Whisk Broom II took up 130 pounds in the Suburban and Grey Lag won the same race under 135 pounds. Exterminator won the Brooklyn under 135 pounds and the Grainger Memorial under 138 pounds, but these big weights came long after May 1, and

If the necessary improvements are not soon made, the footballers will lose heart, while the citizens, to help to play the game, will become disinterested.

To bring back football to what it was a few years ago, one of the most important matters that the League must deal with, is the making of every provision for the comfort of the spectators. The children, allowed to roam all over the field, taking charge of the Grandstand, etc., is another matter for consideration, and should be dealt with by the League, for the best interest of the game.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter begins in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

"Temple of Venus" Beautiful Picture With Strong Story

ADAMS & CHENEY PLEASES BIG AUDIENCE LAST NIGHT AT MAJESTIC.

Combining the beauty of Santa Cruz Island in the west coast bathing girls, the William Fox production of "The Temple of Venus" as played at the Majestic Theatre, seemed to please a large house last night. The story relates to two girls, one an island native, the other a New York society debutante, who love the same man. The happy ending is there and the action up to that point is plentiful. Phyllis Haver, Mary Philbin and David Butler have the leading roles, with the support of an excellent cast. Henry Otto directed the picture and succeeded in obtaining remarkable effects from the splendors of Santa Cruz. He was equally as successful in his choice of bathing girls and costumes.

Adams and Cheney added to their laurels last night. As entertainers they stand supreme and it is admitted everywhere that they are the best team of their kind to come here for many years. It is very seldom that musical artists please the entire community or win the unanimous approval of all, which is admittedly a difficult problem, but in this case it is a fact that Adams and Cheney have won the admiration of everyone who has had the pleasure of hearing them, and the popular expressions from patrons on leaving the Theatre, are: "They certainly are great." These are the artists, the best we've ever had. Already they have received numerous requests for various popular tunes and we understand that in the course of time, each and everyone of the requests will be considered in the programmes. Last night's receipts were indeed very encouraging, and it is said that patrons are promised some big things in the very near future.

To-night is the last night "The Temple of Venus" will be repeated, tomorrow a complete change of programme will be advertised.

MUTT AND JEFF

BUT MUTT, I DON'T NEED ANY GUN! I DON'T WANT TO KILL A RHINO—I WANT TO CAPTURE HIM ALIVE AND SELL HIM TO JINGLING'S CIRCUS FOR FIVE THOUSAND BUCKS!

A RHINO CAN'T DODGE! WHEN HE CHARGES AT ME I'LL JUST STEP ASIDE AND IN A FEW HOURS HE'LL DROP FROM EXHAUSTION AND THEN I'LL TIE HIM UP!

I GOTTA HAND IT TO MYSELF FOR BRAINS! THIS IS GONNA BE EASY MONEY! THERE'S ONE NOW!

MUTT, I DIDN'T DODGE QUICK ENOUGH! FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE, HELP ME!

I HOPE JEFF'S RIGHT ABOUT THAT DOPE! WE OUGHT TO GET A NICE ROLL FOR A RHINO!
