AGONIZING STOMACH PAINS!

Messra. RADWAY & CQ.:

Dear Sirs.—I knew a business man on the east side of tewn who has for years been alling and suffering agonizing pains in the stemach. The dectors, from Prof. Jacoby dewn to others by the dozens, could neither effect a cure nor could they even tall what the malady was. He, a few years ago, crossed the Atlantic to consult German doctors, without result. I used to call at his store every few months, and heard his tale of woe. He said while ill he was never able to retain his feed, and at certain times of the day he was attacked with an agonizing pain which lasted an hour or so, when he acted as a madman, breaking chairs, etc., and having to give up business for the time being. Food never stayed on his stomach longer than half an hour. Yesterday, after a lapse of 13 months. I called again, and, to my surprise, he was still alive, and looking well. I asked him about his health. He said he had been well for over a year, and gained 40 pounds in weight. I wanted to know what doctor had cured him. This is what he told me: About a year ago or over a man came to his store, telling him he had been sick very much the same as he was for some time, and tried Radway's Pills, which quickly cured him. He at once decided to use the pills. The druggist did not have any, and tried to give him another kind, but as he insisted on Radway's, they were procured for him the next day. He only took one at night, and he immediately felt better. He kept up for a time to take the pills, and from the first day to this his malady never returned.

Upon the occasion of Alice's marriage she sent for honest William Harris and his wife to come to New York to witness the ceremony, and when they returned to their home they took with them a very substantial token of the young bride's gratitude for the kind care which they had given her during the period of mental darkness which she had spent w them, in the form of designs for a hand-some new house and the wherewithal to some new house, and the wherewithal to build it. STATEMENT often fect that hockey is the greatest national winter sport of Canada is dispuzable.

While, it certainly has an unquestionably strong hold, all men are not its followers. Hockey curling is the game that takes a sure hold upon the sporting proclivities of the majority of citizens whose limbs are rather too stiff to chase a hockey puck. Throughout Canada curling has the Medical School team and ing, to which London contributes in no small measure. And the game is not always to the Scotch and everybody who twists a granite gracefully doesn't acknowledge congratulations in Gaelic. Many are of the opinion that curling is recognized as a national sport by Scotch Canadians only, but a glance over any list of curlers' names shows that while Scotchmen predominate, much interest in the sport is felt by Canadians generally.

HOCKEY.

BOTH ST. JOHN'S TEAMS LOST. There was one inevitable conclusion to be drawn after witnessing two junior City League games at the Jubilee Rink last night. It is that the games played by the junior league are more interesting and satisfying than those played by the seniors. There is more combination in their work and in both games not a man was ruled off for rough play. While it is plain that their experience is not so broad it seems that they may have been able to see faults in the senior playing and guarded themselves accordingly. Both St. John's teams had hard luck. St. John's II., who played the Horton juniors, were beaten 3 to 1, and St. John's I. fell before the speedy Waterto 1. The narrowness of both scores shows that the games were hard fought. The Waterloos are the speediest bunch of the four. They work to-gether and play a skillful game. It was doubtful from the first which team in the St. John's II.-Horton game would win. They were about The Hortons handled their sticks better and skated faster than their opponents, however, and defense was a shade stronger. The forwards were pretty evenly matched. Hodges and Nash, for the Saints, played pretty games, the former doing especially creditable work. Graham did the hardest work on the Horton's line. McGuffin made several good rushes and did good checking. The scoring was done mostly in the ond half. The Saints weakened slightly then and appeared to become disorganized. The Hortons, keeping their vigorous style, were quick to take advantage of this and by a series of rushes and combinations landed the ck in the net. The goalkeepers of both teams had hard work. While protesting against the peace agreement as a whole and also against the method of its adoption by the committee in which it was held, that the national committee exceeded its authority, the report protested especially against the section under which the players were awarded, the sections including New York in the American circuit, and the section that binds each of the sixteen clubs of the two leagues to the compact. A Very Different Story. New York, Jan. 22.-Owing to an error the Associated Press dispatch from Rome, referring to Signor Mascagni, was made to read that the Minister of Public Instruction had confirmed the nomination of the composer to the directorship of the Musical Conservatory at Pasaro. It should have read that the minister confirmed Mascagni's "dismissal" from the directorship of the conservatory.

Evading Tea Tax. Ottawa, Jan. 20.-It is just possible that after all a quantity of tea from the United States will have to make the trip to Canada and back in order that the owners of it may benefit by the abolition of the war tax of 10 cents per pound. The act of Congress exempts tea in bond on which no duty had been paid, but it appears that some importers had paid the war tax before Jan. 1 on tea which they in bond, and now the treasury board has decided that the tax can only be refunded on such tea when it is exported to a foreign country. The owners will therefore probably ship it to Canada and re-import it into the United States to secure the refund

For over four years I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion. For months at a time I was forced to live on a light milk diet, and I was a mere months at a time I was forced to live on a light milk diet, and I was a mere skeleton. My friends told me I was going into consumption, I was so thin. I tried all kinds of medicines recommended for dyspepsia, but got no relief. I was finally induced to try Powley's Liquified Ozone, and from the first I began to feel relief. I continued taking it until I had used two large bottles, and I am happy to say I am completely cured. I can now eat any kind of food and I have no distress or pain in my stomach, and my digestion is perfect. I am well and strong, and look like a different person, and I know it is due to your wonderful Ozone. I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from indigestion, and I know it will cure. I would not be without Ozone, as I believe it to be the best remedy known for dyspepsia.

Why Ozone Cures Dyspepsia. The stomach is lined with minute tubes or openings, from which the gastric glands exude their juices to digest the glood you eat. Certain liquids and foodstuffs produce an inflammation in the stomach lining, and the gastric glands become closed. The food is consequently not digested, but instead ferments or decays in the stomach, causing much suf-fering and deranging the system gener-ally. If this food in the process of fermentation could be examined under a powerful microscope it would be found to be a living mass of disease germs. Powley's Liquified Ozone cures Dyspepsia by killing these germs. At the same time it allays all inflammation, healing and soothing all the inflamed parts. The result is that Nature is given an opportunsuit is that Nature is given an opportunity to do her work. The poisonous matter, which otherwise would remain in the system, is worked off through the natural channels. The inflammation in the stomach lining being allayed, the gastric glands resume their work. The food, instead of fermenting into a slow poison, goes to make rich, red blood, and every goes to make rich, red blood, and every part of the body is benefited. Ozone as cure for dyspepsia is a unique remedy n the fact that it not only eradicates every trace of the disease, but at the same time tones up the system generally and produces a condition of perfect good health. This is due to the fact that it is death to germ life wherever located. Now, to prove to your own satisfaction that this is true: Take a half-pint of milk, pour in a tablespoonful of Ozone, cork it and put it away, and you will find it will keep fresh and sweet for weeks. Not until sufficient Ozone has evaporated for the germs to live in it will it become the germs to live in it, will it become
