HAD LONG BEEN NEEDED

Young People's Organization in the Anglican Church.

First Convention of the A. Y. P. A. Opened at Cronyn Hall.

An augury for the success of the meetings of the Anglican Young People's Association was the first session held last night at Cronyn Hall. The convention is the first in the history of the society, and there are many delegates from all parts of the diocese present, including several of the clergy.

In the absence of the Bishop of Huron, Rev. Canon Brown, of Paris, presided. The first paper of the evening was given by Rev. G. B. Sage in the absence of Rev. G. J. Abey, of Preston. The subject was "Duty of the Church to the Young People." The question of the hour, it stated, was how to keep the young people in the church, and the paper advised that much good could be derived from study of the prayer book and the catechism, which set forth the doctrine of the church. These two books should hold a prime place in the Sunday school. If the members of the church believed that these books were the doctrine of the church, more attention should be given them. The paper also advised that there should be a church paper, and that as much as possible the church should be kept in the public light. Two other points that the paper brought out were that the liturgy and responsive service were needed.

The next paper was given by Rev. H. C. Dixon, of Toronto, whose address was on "Young People and Their Duty to the Church." The speaker's opening remarks gave the impression that a young people's association had long been needed in the Anglican Church. Such a society made the bonds between the church and the young people stronger, and no one could criticise the result. The idea of Christianity that should be taken by young people was that it would be more of the nature of a battle than a banquet. Many had a wrong idea, but the Apostle Paul had the opinion expressed above. All true Christians should be active workers, and not of the kind who folded their arms and said "Soul, take thine ease." The speaker pointed out what the characteristics of the true Christian were. They should be self-sacrificing and loyal above all else, and if they were and took the Bible as their watchword and orders, there could be none other than a good result. Every true soldier had a desire above all others to be victorious, and the ranks of the society should have many of the same kind. The young people must become inspired and work hard.

"The Benefits of Organization," was the title of the last address of the evening, which was given by Rev. G. R. Gunne, of Clinton. In it he commented on the necessity of having united ranks in any kind of church work, and that the association was expected to do much towards the furthering of unity in the church. There were about 40 branches of the diocese represented, and it was expected that by next year the association would have representatives in all the parishes.

Among the members of the clergy who were present at the meeting were: Revs. Canaon Brown, Paris; C. R. Gunne, Clinton; E. Lee, Courtright; G. B. Sage, Canon Richardson, Canon Smith, Principal Waller, Dyson Hague, R. S. W. Howard, city; J. T. Wright, G. W. Racey, Comber; W. M. Shore, Port Burwell; M. M. Goldberg, Dungannon; Chas. Owen, Lucknow; H. E. Bray, Hanover; T. G. A. Wright, Thamesford; L. W. Diehl, Ailsa Craig; T. A. Wright, Brantford; Geo. McQuillin, Clandeboye; H. A. Wright, Clinton; W. J. Connor, Adelaide; A. L. Beverly, Forest; W. A. Graham, St. Thomas; R. J. M. Perkins, Exeter; J. W. Teneyck, Hamilton, and W. J. Doherty, Hensall.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Over Niagara Falls," a melodrama of the usual highly-exciting class, held the boards at the Grand last night, and appeared to thoroughly satisfy a small audience. The play is rich in scenic effects, and in one act a representation of Niagara Falls is given with a woman in a barrel floating along in the current. This scene is exceptionally well put on. The company carried out their various parts in a satisfactory manner, the hero and heroine being applauded to the echo, and the villain being hissed as roundly as he could wish for.

"ROBERT BURNS" TONIGHT.

Mr. Clayton Mackenzie Legge, who appears this evening at the Grand Opera House in "Robert Burns," a drama of his own production, is a Nova Scotian, who has earned a high place on the American stage. Last season he was a member of Mrs. Langtry's company, and had previously taken excellent roles in the companies of Maude Adams, Blanch Walsh and Louis Mann. His production of "Robert Burns" has a heart interest such as few plays on the stage at the present time possess.

MRS. FISKE IN "MARY OF MAGDALA."

The last act of "Mary of Magdala," in which Mrs. Fiske will be seen at the Grand next Saturday night, shows one of the most impressive scenes ever witnessed in drama. It pictorially represents a solitude near Jerusalem—a wild ravine, with massive and impending rocks besetting an unfrequented and dreary passage. The place befits the tendency of the drama to its climax, and is made the more forbidding by the occurrence of a storm. The silent picture itself is one of the most striking for its purpose ever attempted on the stage, and rivets attention before it is emphasized by the storm, which precedes the assembling of the figures of the drama. The storm itself is remarkable in its effects, and employs means practically new to the dramatic stage.

A COMPANY THAT WILL MAKE GOOD.

Probably no comedian was ever as popular at the London Opera House as Harry Lindley. He has a host of friends and admirers in this city who will be pleased to know that he will appear at the London next week for an engagement of four nights, commencing Monday. This is all the time that could be secured, as he is now on his way from the west to a two years' tour of the south. He has probably the strongest company he has ever carried. On Monday they open in a farce, new to Londoners, "My Uncle from Japan." For the opening only ladies will be admitted free, accompanied by the holder of a best reserved seat.

ROUTLEDGE-PACKHAM

Marriage of Two Young Londoners at St. George's Rectory.

St. George's rectory, West London, was the scene of a very pleasant event on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ethelyn May Packham, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Packham, became the wife of Mr. Eli T. Routledge, accountant in the office of the Dyment-Baker Lumber Company. After the ceremony the party returned to the residence of the bride's father, 85 Oxford street, where a reception was held. The house was very tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride was attired in a gown of silk crepe de chine over cream taffeta with trimmings of silk point lace, and carried a shower bouquet of chrysanthemums. Her sister, Miss Mabel, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a gown of French voile over white taffeta, with trimmings of pale green panne velvet over silk applique. The groom was supported by Mr. Perry E. Bradwin. The presents made a nice collection. After a dainty lunch was served, the bride and groom left on the 7:45 train for Detroit and western points. On their return they will reside at 238 Queen's avenue.

HOW OLD IS CLARA?

A Problem for the County Court Judge to Solve.

If Clara Horn was 13 years of age a week ago last Tuesday, her father is right. If Clara is 14 years of age, her mother is right.

Clara is the little girl taken from Perrin's factory last week and put in charge of the Children's Aid Society by her father. The mother stated positively to the Perrin Company that the child was 14 years old, the minimum working age, but the father, Mr. R. Horn, of Lucan, claims he can bring positive proof that the child was 13 years of age a week ago last Tuesday. He intends appealing to the judge for the ownership of his daughter.
