

RETURNS AFTER MAPPING NORTH

Explorer Leffingwell, Left Alone
in Arctic, Surveys Frozen
Coast of Alaska.

New York, Jan. 5.—Ernest De Koven Leffingwell, of Knoxville, Ill., or Flaxman Island, Beaufort Sea, as the case happens to be, dropped into town on Monday to have a little talk with some people here who take an interest in the man who went out to learn things in heretofore unknown places far beyond the Arctic Circle.

Mr. Leffingwell found a ready audience, for he had just returned, and was the last to return of the Mikkelson-Leffingwell expedition, organized three years ago by Capt. Ejnar Mikkelson to hunt for a frozen continent in the untracked sea north of the coast of Alaska.

He was last to return because he stayed after the rest of the party had taken ship for the south, to make maps and geological surveys of an unexplored land. As a result of this stay alone in the wilderness, Mr. Leffingwell has a map of the coast of Northern Alaska for a strip of 200 miles to the Arctic Yukon divide. Which means that he has lifted, for ever so little way, the fog curtain that hides the most northerly fringe of the United States domain.

Mr. Leffingwell emphatically asserted that in his stay in the Arctic zone the worst hardship he experienced was the depletion of his stock of cigars. He said: "Before the others left we had all pitched in and built a cabin on Flaxman Island. I was alone part of the time, and the rest of my stay there was enlivened, if you could call it by that term, by the presence first of a native family of Eskimos, and later by two white prospectors, who had been working about fifty miles to the eastward. These prospectors were a queer pair; they had been working all the streams thereabouts even as far as the mouth of the Fraser River, and they had not found more than a color of placer gold in all their experience. But they were there yet, and I don't doubt that they will die there, still hunting for gold."

"I spent seven months in the field in 1907, and six months in 1908. I had two things I wanted to do; to make a map of the country, as correct as possible, and to make a geological survey of the strip of land from the coast back to the mountains composing the Arctic Yukon divide."

The explorer was asked if he thought the forthcoming Baldwin expedition would reach the pole by camping on an ice flow and allowing themselves to be floated over the much-sought spot, according to the scheme which Evelyn Baldwin, head of the expedition, has announced as the one to be followed.

"I think one might camp on one of the ice floes in Beaufort Sea for a hundred years, and never get the pole."

AFTER P. M. STOCK

Wisconsin Central Makes an Offer to the Dayton Road.

New York, Jan. 6.—An offer of Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton's holdings of Pere Marquette stock has been made by interests identified with the Wisconsin Central. The price named was not regarded, however, as high enough, but there is no chance, it is said in well-informed quarters, that the deal will go through on the basis of this offer. It has been regarded as likely that the C., H. and D. would dispose of its holdings of the Pere Marquette, but there is said to be no disposition to do so, unless a good price is obtained. The two properties have already been separated, except for this stock interest of the Dayton road in Pere Marquette.

The offer for the Pere Marquette stock from the Wisconsin Central interests is understood to have been made by interests now identified with the property which will shortly have a more active voice in the road's affairs.

FIGHT FIRE FIVE DAYS

Crew of London City Reach Port After Strenuous Voyage.

St. Johns, Nfld., Jan. 6.—After fighting fire five days and battling against the turbulent sea two weeks, the crew of the Furness Line steamer London City were exhausted when the ship docked at this port on Monday. The London City sailed from Liverpool Dec. 13 for St. Johns and Halifax. For days she was unable to make much headway because of the heavy gale. During the roughest part of the trip a quantity of phosphorus stored in cargo on the port deck caught fire. The crew fought the flames for five days. After a stubborn battle the fire was subdued.

INTERESTING FACTS

FOOD KNOWLEDGE ON THE FARM

With the rural free delivery of mails, the farmer is as closely in touch with what is going on in the world, as his city brother.

What to eat, in order to get the best out of one's brain and body, is as important for the modern farmer as the manufacturer, businessman or professional worker. An ill farmer writes: "I am a farmer and was troubled with chronic indigestion for two years—suffered great agony and could find no permanent relief from medicines."

"A friend suggested that I quit using so much starchy foods, which are the principal cause of intestinal indigestion. I began to use Grape-Nuts and have continued with most gratifying results."

"Grape-Nuts food has built me up wonderfully. I gained 6 pounds the first four weeks that I used it. My general health is better than before my brain is clear, my nerves strong."

"For breakfast and dinner I have Grape-Nuts with cream, a slice of crisp toast, a soft-boiled egg and a cup of Postum. My evening meal is made of Grape-Nuts and cream, alone."

"This diet gives me good rest every night and I am now well again."

FIGHTS ON TOWER WITH LUNATIC

Farrell, of the Chicago Force,
Has Terrific Experience in Making an Arrest.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—In a hand-to-hand struggle with a madman on the top of the electric tower, 200 feet above the ground, Patrolman Farrell yesterday subdued the lunatic, E. H. Yochen, after many narrow escapes from falling off the narrow platform with Yochen.

Yochen entered the grounds of the summer park, contrary to placards displayed, and refused to leave. A special policeman chased him and he ran to the tower and mounted it. Patrolman Farrell was strolling by on his beat, and the special policeman hailed him. Farrell heard a mocking laugh from the dizzy peak of the tower.

"Well," said Farrell, "I'll go up and get him."

And up he went. Farrell isn't a lightweight any more, and it doesn't help anybody's breath to climb 200 steps straight up. Besides, the lunatic had had a chance to breathe.

They clashed. The crowd below caught only an occasional glimpse of the struggling pair as they flashed past the tiny loopholes in the tip top of the slender structure. Once the women in the gathering below turned away sick, for Farrell's head and shoulders were half way out of one of the windows, and in another moment he might have been a crumpled heap on the board walk.

Farrell struggled out of the Irishman's hold like an eel. Then his Irish "red" began to try to hurt the son-of-a-gun," he said, "but when he tried to throw me out of the windy I showed him a trick with a hole in it."

It took him three minutes by the watch. When the women looked again all was quiet on the dizzy top of the tower. Then there was a dead suspense. Soon there was a measured tramp on the spiral stairs, accompanied by a shuffling gait. The crowd dashed to the entrance.

ROSE NOT SENTENCED.

Toronto, Jan. 5.—Contrary to expectations Alexander Rose, the fall breaker, did not appear before Judge Winchester this morning, and it is not likely he will be produced this afternoon.

Rose's counsel, J. W. Curry, K. C., had a consultation with his honor, in which he said he desired to argue the matter of Rose's sanity. In deference to Mr. Curry's wishes, County Crown Attorney Drayton consented to the delay and the argument will take place this afternoon.

PERJURER PUNISHED.

Toronto, Jan. 5.—Mabel Smith was sentenced to six months in the Mercer Reformatory for perjury at the morning's police court. The girl, it was charged, in the course of an action, brought against the city by Miss Katherine Quinn for $2,000 damages for injuries sustained by a fall on a sidewalk, had given her name as "Mabel Smith" and had sworn she had helped Mrs. Quinn to her house after the accident, while in reality she was in Hamilton at the time. Mrs. Quinn got $500 damages from the city as a result of her suit.

Heard Her Death Sentence

To obtain temporary relief when suffering is a great boon, but to be permanently cured and restored to health after being assured that one has not a year to live, is an experience that cannot fail to bring joy to any heart. Yet this is what Mrs. A. E. Ternan, of Norwich, Ont., says PSYCHINE accomplished in her case.

Writing on August 11th, 1908, she says: "It is ten years since I took PSYCHINE, and I have not taken ten dollars' worth of medicine since. I should not have lived out the year had it not been for PSYCHINE. I am now in excellent health." Can any testimony be stronger than this?

FAR EAST PEACE IS ENDANGERED

Foreign Ministers at Peking
Dismayed by Ousting of Yuan Shi Kai.

Peking, Jan. 6.—Following the dismissal from office of Yuan Shi Kai, grand councillor and commander in chief of the forces, and the appointment of Na Tung as grand councillor, an edict was issued today appointing Liang Tun Yen, customs tatal to the position thus made vacant on the foreign board.

The British and American ministers, at the conference held last night at the British legation, reached an agreement that the dismissal of Yuan Shi Kai should not pass unnoticed. The American, British, German and Japanese ministers met again at the American legation this morning. Sir John N. Jordan, the British minister, joining with Mr. Rochill, the American minister, in submitting an outline of representations which should be made to the foreign board.

Think Peace Endangered. The ministers disagree on the question as to whether the welfare of foreign interests is technically involved by the recent action, but they agree that peace is endangered.

The representatives of Great Britain, the United States and Germany view the recent action as tantamount to an affront to the powers on account of Yuan Shi Kai's position abroad, he being recognized as the medium of fair and equitable treatment towards the nations. The dissenting ministers are of the opinion that unless other serious events occur interference would not be justified.

Japan concurs in the opinion that the dismissal is certain to result in international injury, but that representations to China would be difficult. There is a marked lack of unanimity among the diplomats in the present situation.

The court's action a fortnight ago in increasing the palace troops and forbidding the entrance to the palace, even of the highest officials, without passes, was taken as an indication at the time of the alarm felt in court circles, and it is now believed that there was a fear also of an anti-dynastic plot. Today the Government intimated its intention of making public the impeachment, giving details of Yuan Shi Kai's alleged intrigue upon which his dismissal was based. According to reliable information the impeachment is framed on charges against Yuan Shi Kai in connection with the coup d'etat of 1918.

Well When Last Seen. The last minister who saw Yuan Shi Kai at the foreign board on Dec. 28 states that he was at that time suffering from no malady, but the reason given for his dismissal yesterday was that he is afflicted with rheumatism. The foreign ministers agree that Yuan Shi Kai's restoration is impossible and that the action of the Government in eliminating him from official position cannot be recalled.

Yuan Shi Kai must leave Peking within four or five days but nothing is known of his plans. Consternation among the Chinese surges that felt by the foreign residents.

Many of the supporters of the former victory are panic-stricken. It is probable that among the first changes both Yang Shi Slang, the viceroy of Chi-Li, and Prince Ching, president of the board of foreign affairs, will be removed. There is keenest interest as to the fate of Prince Tang Shao Yi's mission to the United States, as the source of his authority has now been removed.

Not Eager as to the Reciprocal Trade With Canada. London, Jan. 6.—The Telegraph discussing the prospect of success of reciprocity between the West Indies and Canada, points out that Jamaica at present is unwilling to enter into a system of preferential tariffs maintaining that the United States will probably remain her chief customer. The belief is also prevalent in Jamaica that what is really required to promote increased trade with Canada without endangering the colony's interests with the United States are improved shipping and railway facilities.

It is probably in connection with this and the larger question of a general scheme of reciprocal trade relations that Sir Charles Lucas is now on the way to Jamaica.

M. Chouillon, president of the French Chamber of Commerce at Montreal, has been made a member of the Legion of Honor.
