

WON AGOW TALKS ON CABLE CUTTING

Blames Britain for Shutting Off Germany's Chance to Get News Through.

MAKES PITIFUL APPEAL

American Interviewer Asks Where It Has Affected Negotiations With States.

[Canadian Press.] Berlin, via London, July 9.—The German minister of foreign affairs, Gottlieb Von Jagow, has informed the Associated Press that the dispatch of the German note is immediately impending. A few changes, he said, would perhaps be necessary, after which the reply would be delivered to the American ambassador.

Herr Von Jagow asked to be excused from commenting in advance on the note, but discussed the difficulties under which the negotiations had been conducted, owing to the slowness and incompleteness of communications between Germany and the United States, and "the obstruction to the free exchange of news between the German and American press and public."

"I see," said the minister, "that the text of the note of the imperial government, presented through Ambassador Gerard, regarding the reopening of the direct cable to the United States, was published by the American papers on June 14. The American public has thus been given an opportunity to learn of the proposals of the German Government with reference to this.

"Germany proposed to pay the entire expense of repairing the cable and putting it into operation, the President of the United States to be entitled to appoint censors at the American end of the cable in order to supervise all messages transmitted over it. You will have noticed that Germany proposed to permit news to be sent over this cable, uncensored so far as it was prejudicial to the military plan of campaign.

"The American public has also learned that the British Government, for various reasons, has taken no notice of these proposals. Great Britain apparently does not want the people of neutral countries to be informed in an impartial way on the events of this great war. The reasons are not far to seek. That is why, at the beginning of the war, Great Britain cut the cable. It was that from the very first day only news coming from one side could be spread in the neutral countries."

"That is how Great Britain could mold public opinion in a way suiting her own purpose. That is how America could form a wrong opinion of Germany's methods of warfare, and that is how misunderstandings and a certain ill-feeling against Germany have been created. America has been misled about Germany's motives. This would not have been the case had Germany, in the same way as the British Government, been able to present her case to the American people. Do you think that a fair judge would allow one party to prevent his hearing the other side? Anyone who knows America knows that the sense of justice and fair play is predominant in that country. We want no more than that America shall be able to listen to the German side of the story if she will. We leave it to her to judge.

"I shall not speak of the advantages that may arise for America out of the German proposal. America knows her own interest best and needs none to speak for her.

"The reopening of direct cable communications, however, would also be of interest to the relations between Germany and the United States. The cable, if it would help to dissipate misunderstandings in both countries and facilitate their intercourse in questions of mutual concern.

"Surely it is in the interest of peace and humanity, which the people of the United States and Germany alike should have so much at heart, that the right of free intercourse on the part of neutrals with the belligerents of both sides should not be tamely refused. The cable should be free and uncontrolled discussion can misunderstandings, which might develop into hostile feelings, be cleared up immediately or avoided.

"Where the hampering? Then," continued the minister, "must not forget that some day will come. The warring nations again to reach an understanding if wish to keep that lasting peace which everyone hopes. Continual misunderstanding between the neutrals and belligerents will only make this more difficult. That may suit Great Britain's purposes, but she hopes to win the war against Germany by a method contrary to the rules of international law, and not, as is justified by military necessity. Thoughts and words are not contraband."

"In what way?" asked the correspondent, "have the negotiations been hampered by the absence of cable communications?"

"Think only of the slowness of it all," replied the minister. "We have seen even to have returned to the days of the Middle Ages, when the sovereigns had to send special envoys back and forth between the courts in order to exchange views and keep in touch with the wishes and attitudes of one another."

SOCIALISM OF JESUS DR. MACDONALD'S THEME

Toronto Man Says "Armed Peace Has Proved Inevitable War."

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, July 9.—"Armed peace" has proved itself inevitable war, Dr. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, told delegates attending the World's Christian Endeavor Convention here today in an address on "Christianity, the War and the Social Problem."

"Not again in this generation, nor even again in this century, shall the world deceive itself with the self-contradiction called 'armed peace,'" Dr. Macdonald said. "That fallacy at last has had its day."

Dr. Macdonald appealed for a world endeavor to make dominant in world politics "the undivided socialism of Jesus" as a means of preventing war.

"The socialism of Jesus," the speaker said, "has to do, not so much with the outward conditions and external forms of life, as with its inward spirit, its conscious aims and its impelling motive. It stands against the selfish individualism that says: 'Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost.'"

"In dealing with the social problem, the problem of living together and working together, the socialism of Jesus not only justifies the fundamental principles of modern social democracy, but they suggest a radicalism far more penetrating and revolutionary than is urged in the political economy and worked out in the reform programs of the social philosophers and economists of Germany, France, Great Britain or America."

Reconstruct Social Order.

"Teaching the teachings of Jesus would reconstruct the social order and revolutionize the industrial world. When war is introduced into international law and makes treaties only scraps of paper, and does violence to all the institutions of humanity, the socialism of Jesus still stands. 'I say unto you, love your enemies.'"

Early hours of the convention today were given over to sections and divisional meetings, and denominational meetings were held in the afternoon.

AUSTRIA APOLOGIZES TO UNITED STATES

Also Reprimands Censor for Allowing Paper Attack on Wilson.

[Canadian Press.] Vienna, via London, July 9.—Formal apology has been made by the Austrian Government to the United States Ambassador Penfield because of an abusive article printed in the Neuse Wiener Tagblatt attacking President Wilson and the American people in connection with the second note protesting against German methods of submarine warfare.

As a rigid censorship is exercised over Austrian papers, Ambassador Penfield formally advised the foreign office of the Austrian Government. The result was an apology and a sharp reprimand for the official censor.

HOSPITAL CONDITIONS FOR DARDANELLES GOOD

Sir Frederick Treves Finds Ample Accommodation for Wounded.

[Canadian Press.] London, July 9.—Sir Frederick Treves, the British surgeon, who is on a tour of inspection of army hospitals, writes to the Times testifying that he finds, as a result of personal visits and close examination of hospitals in Malta, Cairo, Alexandria, Port Said, Suez, Mudros, arrangements for caring for the wounded in the Dardanelles are now quite adequate. All of these institutions, he writes, are under the direction of competent doctors and nurses, and contain ample beds. Eminent consultants, surgeons, dentists, throughout the world, are in attendance. Owing to the unexpectedly large number of wounded, he adds, there have been periods of severe pressure and urgent stress, but they have been heroically met.

"PARIS DAY" TO BE HELD ON JULY 14

People to Show Gratitude to Forces by Donations for Comforts.

[Canadian Press.] Paris, July 9.—"Paris owes her safety to the national army and shall not stint her gratitude." This was the keynote of posters distributed last night announcing that on July 14 Paris Day would be celebrated. Sisters, daughters and fiancées of those fighting at the front are to take collections on that day, the poster announces, to provide food and clothing for the soldiers and prisoners, luxuries for hospital trains, help for the mutilated and to obtain necessities for the men who are fighting as well as for those who have been driven from their homes by the invaders. The poster is signed by the president of the municipal council, and other public officials.

CHANGES IN A. MCKIM LIMITED

C. T. Pearce, New Toronto Manager, and W. B. Somerset Appointed to Important Post at Head Office.

[Canadian Press.] The steady development of the business of A. McKim Limited, the largest newspaper advertising agency in Canada, has necessitated two important appointments in the staff.

W. B. Somerset, who for thirteen years has been manager of the Toronto branch, now goes to Montreal as second vice-president to superintend the business of the branches and assist Mr. A. McKim, whose time will more than ever be devoted to the clients of the firm.

Chas. T. Pearce, until a few weeks ago general manager of the Toronto Daily News, succeeds Mr. Somerset as manager of the Toronto branch.

The newspaper and advertising business has been Mr. Somerset's life work, his father was for many years manager of the Winnipeg Free Press, and it was in the office of this paper that he got his newspaper training, rising to the position of advertising manager. On his trip east for the Free Press Mr. Somerset came in touch with Mr. McKim and was engaged to open the Toronto branch, which has since become a very important part of the business of this large agency.

Mr. Somerset is a clean-cut young businessman of sterling integrity, keen analytical mind and boundless optimism. In the head office of the firm he will have larger opportunities and a greater source of strength to the business.

Possibly few people realize what a power the advertising agency has become in business development or to what extent the art of advertising has opened up economic and profitable ways of marketing products of every description. In this development the firm of A. McKim Limited, has undoubtedly played the most important part. They have offices in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, Eng.
