The orders were made without the sanction of Canada's war lord—the Hon. Major-Gen. Sir Sam Hughes—and because the said Hon., etc., is now on the Atlantic, and will be home shortly, almost anything can happen to the "housing arrangements."

Ilisted here to serve with the Irish Rangers, a Quebec battalion, or other similar units was credited to Quebec, Ontario losing a man and at the same time getting no credit.

The new order will make the medical examination stricter, so that few men who are accepted will be discharged to the "housing arrangements."
