CONTRADICTS FALSE TALES CONCERNING DR. GRENFELL

Miss Stewart of Ottawa Entertained at Tea Hour by the Grenfell Mission.

NOT BECOMING RICH

Scores Labrador Propaganda About Outstanding Figure of Century.

The members of the local branch of the Grenfell Mission were given the opportunity of meeting Miss Mina Stewart, of Ottawa, yesterday afternoon, when a reception was given at 253 Dufferin avenue in her honor. Miss Stewart, who spent some time in Labrador, as a volunteer worker, gave an informal little talk, in which she told of her work, especially among the children.

She told of how deplorable it was that children should be growing up in the British Empire under such conditions. "It was summer when I was in Labrador," she stated, "and I was more warmly clad than I am in Canada at present, and yet those little children were going around in gingham dresses, with light weight sweaters and bare-footed. She urged the members to interest their friends in this great work, and spoke particularly of the orphans at Cartwright, who are under Dr. Gordon's care. "These forty children in this orphanage," she explained, "lost their parents, during the flu epidemic, and Dr. Gordon, through money raised from the sale of his diary, written during the epidemic which he had published in England, founded the orphanage."

"The children, who come directly under Dr. Grenfell's care are more fortunate, but it is the little ones, who exist in the outlying districts, for whom my heart aches," she continued. She also told of how propaganda was spreading from Labrador, against Dr. Grenfell. "The men who are making money from the mines and fisheries through these poor people, are trying to hinder Dr. Grenfell in his work, by bringing back stories that Dr. Grenfell is becoming wealthy, through his work," "but I implore you not to believe these stories," stated the speaker, "because in my opinion, Dr. Grenfell is an outstanding figure of the century."

Charming solos by Mrs. E. Wyatt, accompanied by Mrs. Harris Elliott, were greatly enjoyed. The guests were received by the president, Mrs.

MAJOR LOGAN TOWERS, who is playing the role of the villain in "Shivering Shocks," to be presented by the Elmar Club in the Central Collegiate on March 4.

PROF. A. P. COLEMAN IS PROMINENT GEOLOGIST

Will Address Meeting in Central Collegiate Institute on "South America."

Prof. A. P. Coleman of Toronto, who comes to the city on Thursday to lecture before a joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs and the Western University extension department, in the Central Collegiate Institute, is one of the great constructive geologists of recent years. Indeed, he is responsible for the relative ages now accepted by geologists for the various geological strata. He has travelled widely and has brought back from all of his foreign visits a remarkable series of lantern slides. He is himself an artist, and his views which will illustrate his lecture on "South America," Thursday night, are consequently much superior to the views of an ordinary scientist.

In 1922 Western University honored Prof. Coleman with the degree of doctor of laws. Dr. Coleman, in his lectures is said to avoid any technical discussion of the scientific aspect of his observations, and instead makes interesting and witty comments on the illustrations as they are thrown on the screen. He was for many years professor of geology at the University of Toronto.

Fashions by Wire

Special to The Advertiser.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Among the spring styles, more definitely than among the winter, the beltless model is seen. Whether coat or dress, whether formal or tailored, the garment that hangs straight from the shoulder is seen with increasing frequency.

Golden Wings. Paris, Feb. 25.—A curious addition to the very plain black satin hat shown here today, which turns abruptly back from the head all around is the pair of gold or bronze satin wings which relieve the severity of the lines. These "wings" are attached to the underside of the hat and hang down over the ears.

Odd Trimming. London, Feb. 25.—Cameo hair cloth of the roughest texture is oddly used today as a footing on metal cloth ball gowns. Sometimes this material also forms the band around the décolletage or the filmy sleeves.

Peacock Feather Fan. London, Feb. 2.—It seems the peacock is no longer a bird of ill omen. The Chinese trend in fashion has made the fowl fashionable again, and the long fan of peacock feathers with a handle of ivory is a splendid adjunct to any evening costume.

Half the Quantity of St. Charles Milk will Do!

When the recipe calls for a cup of milk use half a cup of Borden's St. Charles Milk and half a cup of water.

St. Charles is pure, country milk exactly the same as you get in a bottle except that most of the natural water content has been evaporated, leaving the rich, creamy part of the milk. Really, you can use it as cream just as it comes from the can. When you want ordinary milk add slightly more than an equal quantity of water.

Besides its economy the wonderful convenience of St. Charles Milk will appeal to you. Four convenient sizes, providing just the quantity you desire from day to day. Also keep a few tins in reserve in the pantry. Unopened, it keeps indefinitely.
