NEWFOUNDLAND STORM ABATED

Stores And Roads Swept Away And Snow Piled in Many Great Banks

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 2.—Presumably as a result of the short circuiting of wires during the big northeast storm that only abated today, after having raged with the utmost fury since Friday evening last, John Churchill of this city, was electrocuted and instantly killed when he caught hold of the socket of an electric light which he was about to take down into his cellar with him. Today St. John's had the first real experience of bright sunshine in three days, and its citizens could move about without being distressed by the howling of a gale and the buffeting of a wind and rain storm such as has not been equalled in this country within the memory of the present generation.

NO LOSS OF LIFE
Repairs are being gradually effected to telegraph lines, and via this medium and from reports of motorists and other news is gradually reaching St. John's of the depredations of the storm in outlying sections.

So far as can be at present learned there has been no loss of life, though damage to property has been very extensive. It is feared though that some loss of life is inevitable. One small schooner with four men on board, drove out of Portual Cove on Sunday, and is still reported missing. From Conception Bay comes a story of a dozen men being marooned on Kelly's Island near Bell Island. Trapped by the sudden rising of wind and sea on Friday, they were isolated for three days without food supplies and it was only to-day that a rescue steamer got to them.

PROPERTY DAMAGE HEAVY
The railway line is still in a bad state and this morning a string of automobiles left the city with about fifty passengers, who were taken to Avondale, a drive of over thirty miles of road, and entrained for points across country and in Northern and Western sections of Newfoundland. From Grades Cove and other places on the North Shore of Conception Bay reports have been received of tremendous damage to fishing and other property. Wharves, stores and roads have been swept away in this section where the full brunt of the billows from the Atlantic was felt. The losses there are estimated as totalling at least $200,000.

THE PREMIER'S TRIP
The Prime Minister, Sir Richard Squires, has just returned to town from a motor trip of 250 miles to Trinity Bay. He started on Friday afternoon and experienced the full force of the wind storm and blizzard which at first accompanied it. In some places a pathway had to be shoveled for the Premier's motor through the big banks of snow, which are very much of a novelty in this country at this time of year. Where the highway skirts the sea coast long sections were washed away, necessitating detours inland of scores of miles. The Prime Minister reports that very little distress exists in the sections visited by him on his tour, and such unemployment as is in evidence will be more than remedied by the work of reconstruction of roads and other public property destroyed in the storm. This work of repair and replacement will probably cost at least half a million dollars, and this estimate does not take account of private property swept away by wind and waves.

Too Cold For Monkeys
An auto tourist was travelling through the great Northwest, when he met with a slight accident to his machine. In some way he had mislaid his monkey-wrench so he stopped at a nearby farmhouse where the following conversation took place between him and the Swede farmer:
"Have you a monkey-wrench here?"
"Now, my brother he got a cattle ranch over there; my cousin he got a sheep ranch further down this road, but too dam cold here for monkey wrench."

Force Of Habit
A member of Parliament recently became a parent. On announcing the news the doctor exclaimed, gleefully: "I congratulate you, sir; you are the father of triplets."
The politician was astonished.
"No, no, no," he replied, "with more than Parliamentary emphasis. There must be some mistake in the returns. I demand a recount."

LADY LAURIER PASSED AWAY

The Aged Widow of the Great Chiefain Died at Her Home in Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Lady Laurier, widow of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, died at her home here yesterday at eleven forty-five a.m. All through the night the physicians attending Lady Laurier had expressed the fear that the end was at hand. Lady Laurier was in her eightieth year, and caught a chill while out walking recently. Sir Wilfrid Laurier died on February 17th, 1919. No family survive.

Lady Laurier became unconscious during the night and when the end came peacefully shortly before noon, there were among those gathered near the bedside, Robert Laurier, nephew of the late Prime Minister of Canada; Mrs. A. M. Brodeur, of Montreal, sister-in-law of the deceased lady; Judge and Mrs. Brodeur, of Ottawa; Mrs. Robert Laurier, Lady Taschereau, Miss Yvonne Coutu and Dr. Rodolphe Chevrier.

Lady Laurier was eighty years of age at the time of her death. Sir Wilfrid had passed his seventy-seventh birthday when his career ended on February 17th, 1919.

MODEST AND UNASSUMING
The late Lady Laurier, who before her marriage was Miss Zoe Lafontaine, of Montreal, has resided in Ottawa, almost continuously for over a quarter of a century, and no one was better known in the Capital, but there is probably less written concerning her than of most women who have occupied such a position as she has attained.

Lady Laurier was not a public woman, and like most of the great wives in history, she contributed to the success of her late husband innumerable assistance out of what might be called "a wise heart" not all heart, not all head, but an ad-mixture which men, for want of better understanding, call instinct.

The late Lady Laurier was very fond of children and she and Sir Wilfrid some years ago gave many children's parties.

Lady Laurier always regretted seeing the children grow up.

"A GOOD SOLDIER"
The late Sir Wilfrid Laurier paid many a glowing tribute to his wife and life-long helpmate. There was truly an ideal marriage, save for the fact, which both keenly regretted that they never had any children. On the occasion of Sir Wilfrid's 70th birthday, Liberal members and Senators gave him a private dinner, and in his speech on this occasion he told of the part that Lady Laurier had played in his life.

In the course of his address on that occasion Sir Wilfrid Laurier is reported as having placed himself unreservedly at the disposal of the party so long as his health and strength continued.

He told the enthusiastic Liberals that he was enabled to do so owing to the position taken by his wife, whom he happily described as "a good soldier."

SAVINGS OF THE WISE
That it's the easy job that is hard to get.
That to-day's decision may determine our destiny.
That it is easy to find remedies for other people's troubles.
That our ideals are not worth much if we surrender them at the first attack.
That the ignorance that is bliss generally leads to the knowledge that is expensive.
That cleanliness is next to godliness; that is why a woman changes her mind so often.
That no habit is acquired with more difficulty than that of acknowledging one's errors.
That to tell a woman you trust her is an even more fatal thing than to tell her you don't.
That thinking will get you farther than talking—that is, if you harness your thoughts to action.
That many an honorable career commences from a word spoken in season or a warm grasp of a friendly hand.
That the difference between a friend and an acquaintance is that one appears in hard times, the other at big dinners.
That when a man finds twenty good reasons for staying away from home you may be sure he has at least one bad one.
That the modern child has as little belief in the fairy tales his mother tells him as she herself has in the ones his father tells her.
That you must not allow yourself to feel discouraged because of your moods and because people don't understand them. As a matter of fact, very few people understand any person who is a child of moods—because such people are always the most unusual. And it takes unusual people to understand unusual people.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?
