CATARRH.

& New Home Treatment for the Cure & Catarrh, Catarrhai Deafness, and Elay Fover.

The microscope has proved that they discases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the upper air passages and enstachian tubes. The eminent scientists—Tyndail, Huxley and Beale—endorse this, and those amborities cannot be disputed. The regular method of treating these diseases is to apply an irritant remedy weekly and even daily, thus keeping the dolleate membrane in a constant state of irritation, accompanied by violent succeius, allowing it no chance to heal and as a matural consequence of such treatment not one perputucy purp has ever been recorded. It is an absorbed feet that these diseases cannot be circular at application made oftener than eye in two works, for the membrane must got a chance for its before any application is repeated. All is now seven years since Mr. Pixon discarded the parasite in caturrh and formulated his law treatment, and since then his remedy has become a household word in every country where the English language is speken. Cures effected by him seven years ago are cures still, there having been no return of the disease. So high are these remedies valued, and so great is the demand for them, that ignerant imitators have started up everywhere, pretending to destroy a parasite—of which they know nothing—by remedies the remisely for the pupication of which they are equally i, normat. Mr. Dixen's remedy is a specific. Mr. Dixon sends a pamphlet describing his new treatment on the receipt of the cents in stamps. The address is A. H. Dixon & Son, 30.3 King Street West, Toronto, Canada,—Scientije American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should care-lly read the above.
