A vote of thanks to Mrs. Watts and the speakers was moved by Mrs. J. J. IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Do not let the glamour of golden visions lead you to risking solid values on doubtful schemes. A careful counting of your resources and obligations will help you to form plans more to your advantage.

Those born today will be capable of attaining high literary or scientific renown, but they will lack the practical knowledge whereby success is won. They will do better associated with conscientiously practical people.

THE OPEN WINDOW

There has been so much written for the guidance of mothers, so many lectures delivered that it sometimes seems unnecessary to repeat the truths of hygiene. Unfortunately, tho, while many may read and hear, few, far too few, heed the advice.

Those of us who have become habituated to the open window can hardly realize that less than half the population of this city have acquired the fresh air habit. Fresh air is given us to preserve our health, and we deliberately shut it out of our homes and seek a health-preserving substitute in drugs. Strange as it may seem, the closed window is not confined to the homes of the poor and uneducated. Many helpless children of wealth are air-starved in magnificent homes.

Once more I shall tell you how I think babies should be treated with fresh air. If the little one has been accustomed to close and heated rooms gradually get him used to a lower temperature. You will readily understand that a child used to a warm atmosphere, where will be very susceptible to cold and drafts.

Arrange for perfect ventilation during sleeping hours, and have out-door sleeping during the day in a safe, well-protected position. It is essential, however, that every precaution be taken to keep baby warm; hot water bottles, plenty of light-weight, warm clothing must be used when the temperature makes it necessary—and the so-called temperature of this balmy June makes warm clothing very necessary. Care must be taken during weather of the opposite extreme that the baby should be protected from a scorching sun or intense light.

At night the bed should be protected by screens. Always give children a room with a southern exposure if it is at all possible. A south window may generally be opened with less danger of the cold, penetrating winds.

I cannot emphasize too strongly that the child must sleep warm. Adequate ventilation is imperative, but the heat of the body must not be lowered.

TWAS BIG DAY FOR HEBREW KIDDIES

Closing Exercises of University Avenue Synagogue Held Yesterday.

PATRIOTISM A-PLenty

Little Girl Recites Prayer Asking Divine Protection For King and Country.

Patriotic and religious in character were the closing exercises of the University Avenue Jewish Sunday School at the synagogue on that street yesterday afternoon. Nearly 200 children took part in the function, which was conducted by Edmund Scheuer, the founder of the school.

Marching in time to sprightly music, the children entered the building and took their places. They were all in white, for it is a big day in Hebrew circles, and the synagogue was filled with admiring parents and grandparents.

A prayer, recited from the pulpit by little Sylvia Singer, commenced the proceedings. After that the children sang and recited in chorus, as well as translating aloud into Hebrew many passages from the Bible. This was monotonous, and the bulk of the audience was growing drowsy, but there was a general awakening when the children began to sing "The Maple Leaf."

Then the whole congregation arose as the ancient melody of the Zionist national anthem filled the building, old and young alike joining in.

Mr. Scheuer, in his address, referred to the fact that the school is now larger than ever, before enrolling 206 children. He declared that the Jewish religion has done more for Hebrews than any other, and that the aim of his school was to instruct the children of the district in the ideals taught by the prophets, and the glorious history of the Jewish people.

"What is the foundation of the Jewish religion?" he asked. And the children answered in chorus: "Believe in one God, that He is the creator, the sustainer, the defender of the universe."

The University Avenue School is one of the most modern in the Jewish community, and the children are taught the doctrines of the church in English, instead of in Hebrew, as was the custom until a few years ago. Accordingly, a large part of yesterday's ceremony was in English.

A bouquet of roses was presented by the girls to Mrs. Scheuer, wife of the founder and director. At the conclusion of the ceremony a truly patriotic prayer was recited by Reta Pugh, a pretty little Jewish girl.

"We pray Thee, O merciful God, Supreme King of Kings, to preserve the life of our King, and to keep away from him all manner of trouble, sorrow, and pain. CHARMING COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED

Miss Haswell Will Give "Sham" at Alexandra Theatre This Week.

"QUO VADIS" IN PICTURE

At the Princess—Howe Festival Continues at the Grand.

Tonight and for the balance of the week, Miss Haswell will present at the Alexandra Theatre the charming comedy, "Sham." This play will be best remembered, as having been produced here some years ago by Miss Henrietta Crossman, after having scored an unmistakable triumph in New York during her six months' run at the Wallack's Theatre. Tho "Sham" is a society comedy and flings many a satirical shaft against those who stoop to deceit and subterfuge to maintain their positions, New York society enjoyed the piece immensely. There is no sting in the occasional flashes of satire in "Sham." The play is a comedy, and Miss Haswell, in the role of Katherine Van Riper, the little social humbug, is simply irresistible. All her exuberance, freshness and charm find expression in this play. The same capable company will be in support of Miss Haswell.

Miss Feldman at the Star.

An extra attraction for next week, the management of the Star Theatre, have been successful in securing Miss Sadie Feldman, the Toronto girl formerly with the Edwards, and well known in the musical comedy world. She has been booked for a high-class production next season, and the management are to be complimented on securing her services before she leaves for her rehearsals in New York.

"Quo Vadis" at the Princess.

The conflict of pagans and Christians, described in Henryk Sienkiewicz's romance of the last days of Rome's most tyrannical ruler, Nero, and entitled "Quo Vadis," and which is vividly projected by the Kleine-Clines Photo-Drama Company, and being booked by Cohen & Harris throughout the United States and Canada, has revived interest in that wonderfully realistic story of the persecution of the early martyrs and the destruction of the Eternal City at the hands of the most of the Caesars, and also the name of the Polish writer of the famous book.

The photo-drama "Quo Vadis," will be seen in Canada for the first time when it will be presented by George Kleine at the Princess Theatre, after noon and evening, at popular prices.

Howe Festival at the Grand.

The success of Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, now at the Grand, is well merited, because it affords not only relaxation and amusement, but life-like for young and old. It is noteworthy not merely for the human interest and dignity of subject matter, but equally so for the photographic quality and realism of presentation that characterizes every scene. It is not too much to say that only by means of such an exhibition can the great majority who are unable to experience the joys of travel realize the pleasures and reap the advantages that are derived from visits to foreign countries and contact with nations whose habits and customs are so widely different from ours. Indeed, it is so fascinating that it is easy to understand why eager crowds of cultured men and women witness every new program presented by Mr. Howe, as it is a sort of camera assurance from which the whole world is visible—a veritable modern Olympus.

Commencing Monday afternoon, an entirely new program will be presented, which one of the predominant features will be reproductions of the scenic grandeur of the Alps.

News of St. Mary's

ST. MARY'S, June 15.—(Special.)—The public library has been undergoing extensive alterations the past two weeks, a special staff being engaged in cataloging the books, by the Dewey Method of Classification.

At the residence of Wm. Dellow, brother of the bride, Centenary, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at noon on Tuesday, June 11, when Miss Dellow and James Craigie were married. The bride was attended by her sister, Lottie, while James Dellow, the noted St. Mary's athlete, supported the groom. The happy couple will take up residence in St. Mary's, where the groom occupies a responsible and lucrative position with the St. Mary's Cement Company. The name Dellow has become widely known, because of the achievements of Jimmie and his senior brother, Will, who has been his trainer. A large circle of friends will join in hearty good wishes to the young couple.

Wednesday of next week will see the opening game of the season in St. Mary's, when the locals line up against the London 12, for district honors. The London team recently beat Bradford, and the contest here on Wednesday of next week, should prove the most exciting ever witnessed on the flats.

Civil holiday will likely be observed in St. Mary's on the first Monday in August.

Mr. C. E. Treacy of Chicago is holidaying at his home here.

Mr. Egerton Red of Blandford was married to Ada, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. Kennedy.

MENNONITES IN CAMP.

BERLIN, Ont., June 15.—(Special.)—The Mennonites of Ontario are in annual camp here in Schneider's Grove, and many are here from outside points. Banquet guests of the C. P. R. in honor of the visit, the new dining hall at the C. P. R. hotel at Banff will be inaugurated with a grand ball.

SOCIETY HOUSEKEEPING

Dufferin Park Claimed Sunday Morning by Circus Cavalcade.

BIG CROWDS LOOKED ON

Little to See Yesterday But Much Is Promised For Performance.

Parade—Leave Dufferin Park today 9 a.m. precisely, to Brock, to College, to Spadina, to Queen, to Bloor, to Danforth, to Jarvis, to Bloor, thence to Dufferin Park.

Westenders on the way to church yesterday morning had company. The escort was a long trail of gorgeously gilded wagons, shut tight, and some plain ordinary lorries with people aboard in quite ordinary clothes. The church-goers didn't have company all the way, for the line filed into Dufferin race track, tho it allured, it is rumored, several boys whose hair was neatly combed and whose ties were stiffly tied from the straight path of duty. But, of course, circuses have their attractions, and a big crowd of grown-ups took deep interest in the unloading at the Grand Trunk tracks and the setting up of the show apparatus.

Altho some six hundred people are carried with Howe's London Show, and most of them were busily engaged in setting up the necessary tent work, the operations were carried on quietly and with the usual circus elation.

The long line of animals, little and big, common and the contrary, must have given the impression that the cages and transportation outfit of the Zoo was under way.

While they were not exhibition, the costumes are said to be bright, glorious and new; the well-washed look of the cages and transportation outfit was a pretty fair index of the character of the show.

The performance, which combines about two hundred acts, will be given twice today only, at 2.30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Doors to the big tents and the menageries are to be opened an hour earlier. At the return of the parade to the show grounds a free performance will be enacted and again at 6.30 p.m. These exhibitions will be a foretaste of what goes with an admission fee. Vaudeville acts and exclusive circus stunts of unusual goodness in a three ring show are to be given.

Weather won't matter—the canvas town is proof against sun or rain.
