LONDON, Aug. 30.—(6.30 p.m.)—The official bureau correspondence accompanying the publication of Lord Kitchener's statement concerning the British army at the front took a rap at the correspondents whose stories purport to be made up of personal experiences on the battle line. The bureau says:

"The bureau has issued an official statement describing the fortunes of the expeditionary force during the past few days. This statement, the terms of which have been carefully considered, accurately and fully describes the present position. The bureau has not found it necessary to forbid the publication of messages dealing with the recent operations, provided such messages neither gave away military information nor disclosed the organization or position of the troops.

"Our soldiers are fighting bravely," said Lord Roberts, "but they are lamentably few, and it is the duty of every able-bodied man to see that the army is maintained at its full strength. The women must not stand in the light of their sons' and husbands' duty."
