WONDERFUL STRIDES OF SOCCER FOOTBALL

Sporting Editor World: I wish to write a few words of appreciation for the prominence you give to soccer football, both in The Daily and Sunday World.

Some years ago an evening paper was looked on as the soccer fans' newspaper in Toronto; but as they paid little or no attention to local games it gradually lost hold.

By your introduction of these crisp daily soccer notes you have "touched the spot."

The strides that this game is making in Toronto are wonderful, and its supporters are now numbered in thousands.

I can assure you that all these supporters are indebted to you for the valuable space you allot to their interests.   Mac.
